Fumes Fatal To Two Men

DEERPORT (AP) - Two farmers from a neighboring county were killed Tuesday when the brakes of a tractor they were driving failed and the farm ponies were thrown into an icy pond. The ponies, used to pull the farm equipment, were caught in the heavy ice and frozen to death. The farmers, identified as Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, were found by a neighbor who heard their cries for help. The tractor was recovered and taken to the police station for examination.

Housing Leads Economic Scene

WASHINGTON (AP) - High housing costs in the nation's capital are driving prices up to record levels, according to the government. The report showed that the median price of a home in the nation's capital had increased by over 10% in the past year, putting it out of reach for many families. The government is expected to propose new regulations to address the issue.
