75 Implicated In Academy Honor Code Probe

16 Air Cadets Ousted In Cheating Scandal

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted 16 Air Force Academy cadets on charges of cheating and lying to report violations of the school’s honor code.

The cadets, who were implicated in a cheating scandal that began in 1974, are accused of cheating on exams, lying to report violations of the honor code, and assisting others in cheating.

The charges were announced by the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the District of Colorado, which said the defendants had consistently violated the academy’s honor code.

The charges include felonies such as perjury, false statements, and conspiracy to commit fraud.

The trial is scheduled to begin in federal court in Colorado Springs in April 1975.

Reds Down 2 Phantoms

COLORADO SPRINGS — Confederate general in law that the reds have done it before. The Confederate commander in chief, Gen. Robert E. Lee, said the reds had a chance to win.

Lee said the reds were better prepared than the Union Army and had more experience. He said the reds had a better chance of winning because they had fought before.

Lee also said the reds had more resources to draw on. He said the Union Army was short on supplies and had to rely on the local population for support.

He said the reds were also better organized and had more discipline.
