Murphy 'Sensitiveness' To Partner's Suicide

BY JAY ATKINSON

Murphy and his partner, both en route to New York, were shot to death by a pair of operators that morning.

"He's been sensitive about what's been happening to him in the last few weeks," one of the operators said. "He's been feeling down, and I think he's been feeling like he doesn't belong here any more." The operators had been sent by Murphy's manager to collect money for a charity event.

"I think it's possible that he pulled the trigger in a moment of desperation. He was very angry and very upset," the operator said. "He was shouting and cursing, and then he pulled the trigger." Murphy's partner was shot first, and then the operators turned their guns on Murphy, who was shot in the abdomen.

The operators were later arrested and charged with murder.

NEW YORK (AP) - An author denied duping a gay rights group in a court case that was settled out of court.

In a statement, Martin S. Aronson, the author's attorney, said the case was settled after negotiations between the author and the gay rights group.

"The case was settled amicably," Aronson said. "The parties agreed to settle the case and end the litigation." The settlement was reached on Friday, and the case was dismissed on Monday.

The author, who is a former college professor, was sued by a gay rights group in New York. The group claimed that the author had duped them in a book that was published in 2003.

The author denied the charges and said the book was a work of fiction.

Stars Gather For Television

Cover Story

The story of the election is one of the most compelling in modern American history. The presidency of President Richard M. Nixon has been called into question by the Watergate scandal. The story of how the presidency came to be the subject of a major television series is a fascinating one, and it is one that is not likely to be forgotten.

As I Was Saying...

The story continues in the next issue of the Washington Post. The next installment will be published on January 26, 1972.

Connery Finding It Harder To Live Up To Bond Image

By Tom Elovson

DALLAS - Sean Connery's problems in living up to the image of James Bond will continue as he begins filming for "Never Say Never Again." The actor, who starred in the role of Bond in the six-film series, was reported to have differences with the director, John Milius, over the way the script was being handled.

Connery, who is 58, has been cast in the role of Bond again after a 16-year absence. The original film, "Goldfinger," was released in 1964, and the last Bond film, "For Your Eyes Only," was released in 1981.

"Never Say Never Again" is a remake of "Goldfinger," and Connery is expected to play the role of Bond again. The film is scheduled for release in 1983.

Connery has been working on the film for several months and has been praised for his dedication to the role.

Pat Nixon: How She Looks To Those Who Know Her Best

"When Martha Mitchell's name was mentioned... Mrs. Nixon's expression became guila... Her voice changed to mumble..." Some wonder why. "The First Lady can't stand Martha."

Pat Nixon's friendship with the former First Lady, Pat Duke, has been strained. After a series of personal setbacks, Martha Mitchell has been a constant source of controversy and conflict for Mrs. Nixon. However, their relationship seems to have improved recently.

"I think that Mrs. Nixon is feeling more comfortable this week," said a source close to the White House. "She is no longer as afraid of being alone, and she is beginning to feel more secure with herself."

Many people believe that Mrs. Nixon's friendship with Martha Mitchell has been a source of great joy for her. "Mrs. Nixon has been a great support to me," said Mitchell. "She has been there for me when I needed someone to talk to, and I have always been able to count on her for advice and help."}

What Newswomen Say About the President's Wife

"First Lady Betty Ford is frequently quoted as saying that her husband, President Ford, is the First Lady's greatest supporter. "Ford has always been a great source of inspiration to me," Betty Ford said.

"But Mrs. Nixon has been more of a private person, and she has been more reserved in her public appearances," said another newswoman. "She has been more distant from the public eye, and she has been more focused on her family."

"Mrs. Nixon has always been a great source of strength to me," said a third newswoman. "She has always been there for me when I needed her, and she has always been a great source of inspiration."

The story of Martha Mitchell and Pat Nixon continues to unfold, and their relationship remains a mystery to many. It is clear, however, that Mrs. Nixon has been a strong and supportive figure in this turbulent time. Whether her friendship with Martha Mitchell will continue remains to be seen.

The coldest day of the year is coming.

Maybe it'll happen tomorrow. Maybe it'll be the coldest day of the year. Or maybe it'll just feel like it. So how about a yummy-warming breakfast to help keep those shivers away?

Crispy and golden on the outside. And tender on the inside. To stop chattering teeth in a minute. Or what the family's always loved to sit down to, Aunt Jennina Pancakes.

Just don't run out of Aunt Jennina Syrup. That sweet, maple-y taste was made to order for all these tummy-warmers. Play it coy. Have them all in the house. And you won't leave anyone out in the cold.

Keep your warm, America.

Complete Pancake Mix. Because all you add is water.

Like new Aunt Jennina French Toast. Already dipped in fresh eggs and fresh milk. And sizzled on the griddle. So it's French toast you toss, that's all.

Or Aunt Jennina Waffles from your toaster.

Complete Pancake Mix. Because all you add is water.

What Your Handwriting Tells About You

Is There a Second Tom Jones?

Last year, a Cherry Hill, N.J.,-area gay bar turned into a madhouse one night when a man walked in dressed as Tom Jones. The audience was astounded, and Tom Jones himself stopped his performance to meet the performer. The news spread, and in a few weeks a cherry-faced Tom Jones look-a-likes had started appearing at dives and bars across the nation. The man behind the mask was 28-year-old Victor Garcia. "I'd been doing drag for a long time, but I never thought I'd be able to make a career out of it," he says. "I had no idea how big it was going to be."

Garcia was born in Mexico City and moved to the U.S. four years ago. He says he was always interested in drag but never believed it could be a career. He started doing drag shows in Miami around 1991 and eventually moved to New York City, where he continued to perform. He says his inspiration came from seeing drag performers like RuPaul and Divine, who he felt represented a part of himself that he didn't see in his everyday life.

Garcia says he found his "Tom Jones" persona while he was in high school. "I used to be really quiet, but when I became Tom Jones, I became someone else. I was much more confident," he says. "I started getting more attention from the guys, and I liked it."

Garcia eventually decided to continue performing as Tom Jones and even started getting bookings in drag shows. He says he enjoys the attention and the freedom it gives him. "I feel like I can be anyone I want to be when I'm doing drag," he says. "I can be whoever I want to be, and I can have fun doing it."

Garcia says he has received mixed reactions from the public. Some people have been enthusiastic, while others have been more disapproving. He says he doesn't care what people think and just wants to continue performing as Tom Jones.

"I'm not going to let anyone stop me from doing what I love," he says. "I'm going to keep doing it as long as I can, and I'm not going to apologize for who I am."

Smoking: What are you going to do about it?

Many people are against cigarettes. You've heard their arguments. And even though we're in the business of selling cigarettes, we're not going to advance arguments in favor of smoking.

We simply want to discuss one irreducible fact.

A lot of people are still smoking cigarettes. In all likelihood, they'll continue to smoke cigarettes and nothing anybody has said or is likely to say is going to change their minds.

But even if you're one of these cigarette smokers, what are you going to do about it? You may continue to smoke your present brand. With all the enjoyment and pleasure you get from smoking it. Or, if 'tar' and nicotine has become a concern to you, you may consider changing to a cigarette like Vantage.

Vantage has a unique filter that allows rich flavor to come through it and yet substantially cuts down on 'tar' and nicotine.

We want to be frank. Vantage is not the lowest 'tar' and nicotine cigarette you can buy. But it well may be the lowest 'tar' and nicotine cigarette you will enjoy smoking. It has only 12 milligrams 'tar' and 0.8 milligrams nicotine.

The simple truth is that smoke has to come through a filter if it is to come through a filter. And where there is taste, there has to be some 'tar' and nicotine. But Vantage is not a 'heroin' cigarette. You don't have to work so hard pulling the taste through it all. That's the point of smoking.

And it is the only cigarette that gives you so much taste with so little 'tar' and nicotine. We suggest you try a pack.
