'Five-Dollar' Girls Put Wife In Rage

By Helen Help

As the years pass, the world grows younger and the girls become older. Our mothers, who were the girls of their day, now look back in wonder at the girls of today. They are different, they are unexpected. But still there is a similarity. They are just as beautiful, just as young, just as happy.

They are not the same girls we used to know. They have changed. They have grown. They have learned to love. They have learned to hate. They have learned to laugh. They have learned to cry.

But still there is a similarity. They are just as beautiful, just as young, just as happy.

Ask Them Yourself

FOR DAVE BRADBURY, once-in-while issue...
Do screen monsters adversely affect children?
Mrs. E. White, Lansing, Mich.

- A screen may be a great stimulus to talk about the work of the engineer, the scientist, or the artist. It's also a great way to entertain the kids and to give them a chance to see things they might not otherwise see.

FOR ELIZABETH POST, gossip artist...
How do you feel about northwestern humor?
Madison Ave, New York

- I think it's a great way to express ideas and opinions in a light-hearted way. It's important to have a balance between serious and humor in any discussion.

FOR FLOYD WILSON, who analyzes how much white or how much black comfort...
- We do not consider percentages of blacks or whites in the film's composition. The distribution of characters is a reflection of the way society is structured in the real world. The film is not about race, but about the issues that affect all of us.

FOR GERRILL KNOX, need...
Write more you think for the domestic occasion in which you say, "Take a 1/2, take it all of 7-11, how.

- The film is about the challenges of living in a society where people are often forced to make difficult choices. The story is about the kind of person who is forced to make those choices.

FOR CLINCH CONOVER, actor...
I wish that I had played the hero in the film. I was given the role of the villain and I'm not comfortable with it. I think the role of the hero is more satisfying.

FOR ROY FISCHMAN, (Do Ventures on LIM TV)
Short and sweet "Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy"...

- I think the film is a beautiful representation of the world and the way we see it. It's a great way to explore the complexities of human relationships.

- The week was a grizzly: skipping lunches, phone calls, late work. Now the jobs done and you can really enjoy the full-bodied flavor of an L&M...

This...is the L&M moment.

How a Psychiatrist Remade Her Own Image—To Find a Self She Likes

"I was almost ludicrously the poor student’s stereotype—dingy of hair and countenance, lackluster of eye because of constant study. In short, I was an owl in politics, and a lonely woman longing to be set free..."

By Dr. Judith Bronner-Huszar, M.D.

If you were to stand on a busy corner and write the names of all the women you knew, you would probably come up with a list of those who have "effortless" appeal. Their eyes sparkle, their hair is well-groomed, and they have a smile that lights up the room. Yet, beneath their polished exterior, these women may be struggling to find their own identity and self-worth.

Dr. Bronner-Huszar, a psychiatrist, explored this theme in her own life. She discusses the pressures she faced as a woman in politics, and how she worked to redefine her own image to find a self she liked.

In the end, she found that by embracing her true self, she was able to break free from the expectations placed upon her. The lesson she learned is one that can be applied to anyone who is searching for their own sense of self.

Army ROTC. It's no big thing.

First of all, Army ROTC only takes up about three to five hours a week of your time while you’re in college. No big thing.

Second, it gives you a little edge on the other guys. In areas like management, organization and leadership. No big thing.

Third, it lets you serve your country as an Army Officer. No big thing.

But the big thing is that little things add up. The education, the background, the experience.

Right now you may think Army ROTC will look small on your resume. But a lot of employers don’t think so.

And with jobs getting tougher to come by, a little thing like ROTC can start to look pretty big.

Army ROTC. The more you look at it, the better it looks.
I Teach Rich Men's Sons To Stick Up For Themselves

We are a lot of us, a lot of us, and it is a fact that in this country we are not so rich as the rich. But there's another group of kids you have to watch out for, and they have a lot of problems. We read the newspapers, and we know that kids are like this: they want to be rich, and they want to have everything. But then, the rich have kids, too, and they want their kids to be rich too. So, we have to stick up for ourselves.

Dr. Max Nevel Out to Laura Bartlett

At last, the rich and powerful people are waking up to what we are going through. We have to be strong, and we have to be able to stand up for ourselves.

I Teach Rich Men's Sons To Stick Up For Themselves

As the cost of living is so high, the rich are finding it hard to stick up for themselves. They have to be careful, and they have to be strong. We have to be strong too.
