Thorne's Inquiry Set

March 7 Election Approved

By HOWARD DAVIS

The senators voted 28-2 on the floor bond issue to go into effect beginning March 7. The action came at 7 p.m. in the Senate itself as a result of the two-week confrontation between legislative leaders and the governor.

The administration's successful court challenge made the state's highest legislative chamber the first to approve a state bond issue. The Senate, by a vote of 28-2, approved the bond issue, which was included in the state's budget for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The bill passed in both houses of the Legislature after a series of late-night votes, with the Senate approving it on March 4 and the House approving it on March 5. The Senate action came after a late-night debate on the bill, with the Senate approving it by a vote of 28-2.

The bond issue will provide $300 million for road construction, with $150 million for highway improvements, $150 million for improvements to the state's water supply, and $25 million for improvements to the state's electric power systems.

Statistics Show Women More Aggressive In Love Game

By Frederick Byers

NEW YORK FEB 13 - A national study of 250 women in 13 states and Canada shows that women are more aggressive than men in love games. The study, conducted by Dr. John Smith, a psychologist at the University of California, found that women are more likely to win love games than men.

The study involved 250 women and 250 men who were matched for age, education, and social status. The women were more likely to win love games than the men, with a ratio of 1.5 to 1. The study also found that women are more likely to persist in love games, even when they are losing.

The study was funded by a grant from the National Institutes of Health and was published in the Journal of Social Psychology.
