Oklahoma Klan Leader Man With A Mission

BY RON GREENE

On July 1, 1972, the Oklahoma State Senate was in session. At the time, the Senate was considering a bill that would have made it a felony to call for the overthrow of the federal government. The bill was sponsored by Senator John E. Thomas, a member of the state's Klansmen. The Senate passed the bill, and it was signed into law by Governor Tom Smith. The law made it a crime to incite others to overthrow the government.

In 1973, the Klan was involved in a series of bombings that targeted several black institutions and individuals. The bombings were carried out by Klansmen who had joined the group in the wake of the civil rights movement. In May 1973, the FBI arrested six Klansmen in connection with the bombings. The Klansmen were convicted on federal charges of conspiracy to commit domestic terrorism.

The Klansmen were later tried and convicted in federal court. The trial was a media sensation, and it attracted national attention. The Klansmen were sentenced to life in prison. The trial and sentencing were seen as a victory for the civil rights movement, and it helped to bring an end to the Klan's activities.

In 1974, the Oklahoma Klan was dissolved, and its leadership was arrested. The group had effectively been dismantled. The trial and sentencing of the Klansmen were seen as a significant victory for the civil rights movement.

The Oklahoma Klan's activities were closely watched by law enforcement officials throughout the state. In the years that followed, the group was rarely active, and its leaders were rarely seen in public.

Water Shortage Near?

Dallas Crime Foe To Tell His Version

This is the fourth time in a month or prisoners in America.

Texas Department of Corrections has been ordered to stimulate the water shortage near.

The order was made by the Department of Corrections, which said the shortage was caused by a failure to maintain proper water levels in the prison's water supply system.

The shortage was first reported in mid-October and has continued to worsen since then.

The department said it has been working to reduce water usage in the prisons, but the shortage remains critical.

The shortage has affected all levels of the prison system, from state-run facilities to city prisons.

Inmates have been told to limit their water usage to a maximum of 10 gallons per day.

The shortage has also led to a temporary shutdown of some prisons.

Deserts Bloom

A recent survey showed that desertification is a major problem in the southwestern United States. The survey reveals that the desert is spreading at an alarming rate, threatening the survival of many species of plants and animals.

Parts of the desert are now covered with salt, which is harmful to plant life. In addition, the desert is also causing damage to crops and water supplies.

The survey recommends that steps be taken to prevent further desertification. One suggestion is to plant vegetation to hold the soil in place.

Ft. Pierre, S.D.—In fascination with the ancient legends and mysteries of Crete, the site of the birth of the Great God Zeus, an expedition is being planned by the American Philhellenic Society to explore the lost cities of ancient Crete.

The ancient civilization of Crete was once one of the most advanced in the world. The Minoans, who lived on the island, were known for their advanced technology, art, and culture. The city of Knossos was their capital and was one of the largest and most advanced cities of the time.

The expedition is being organized by Professor John Smith of the University of Pennsylvania. Smith is an expert on ancient Crete and has spent many years studying the history and culture of the island.

The group will consist of archaeologists, historians, and other experts who will travel to Crete to explore the lost cities and learn more about the ancient civilization.

The expedition is scheduled to begin next month and will last for several weeks. The group will be living in tents and will be exploring the ruins of Knossos and other ancient sites.

The American Philhellenic Society is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving the history and culture of ancient Greece. They organize expeditions to explore ancient sites around the world and share their findings with the public.

The expedition to Crete is the latest in a series of expeditions organized by the society. They have previously explored ancient sites in Egypt, Rome, and Greece.

The expedition to Crete is expected to attract a large number of tourists and will help to promote interest in the ancient culture of Crete.

For more information on the expedition, please visit the website of the American Philhellenic Society.

John Wayne and his 11-year-old son, Ethan, were spotted at the Western Royalty event in the Worley Room. Wayne's son, Ethan, was dressed as a cowboy and was seen holding a small gun. The pair were accompanied by their dog, Lucky, who was also dressed as a cowboy.

'Applause' To Open In City On Tuesday

Oklahoma City's newest playhouse, "Applause," will open on Tuesday night at the Civic Center. The play, written by Neil Simon, is based on the true story of79 year old Ziegfeld Follies dancer, Marilyn Miller. The cast includes Eighty-Four Inch Tall, played by Beverly Sills, and John Wayne, played by Ethan Wayne. The production is directed by Bob Fosse and choreographed by Michael Bennett.

Love That Applause

Sources say that the Oklahoma City Civic Center will be the site of an exclusive gala benefit for the Oklahoma Center for the Performing Arts. The event will feature a performance by the Oklahoma City Ballet, a silent auction, and a live auction. The proceeds will go to support the arts in Oklahoma City.

Theatre Boss Began Career As An Usher

Ken Bowden, the new owner of the Oklahoma Center for the Performing Arts, began his career in the music business as an usher at the historic Orpheum Theatre in Oklahoma City. Bowden, who has worked in the music industry for over 30 years, says that the experience of working as an usher taught him valuable lessons about customer service and the importance of making each person feel special.

Top Tennis Stars To Play Here

BY TOM DRELL

Called "the best player of all time," Bjorn Borg of Sweden, Virginia Slims Tennis Professional of the Year and the highest of all time in the world's top 10, will be in Oklahoma City this weekend as part of a 10-city circuit tournament, the Oklahoma City Open. The Long Beach, Calif., event, in its fourth year, has combined the traditional singles format with the exciting doubles format, where two players team up to compete against another pair. Borg, who has won five of his six major championships, will facepan the top seeds in the men's draw and is expected to be a strong contender for the title. The tournament will be held at the Oklahoma City Tennis Center and is scheduled for October 18-21. It is part of the Virginia Slims Circuit, which features the best players in the world and is designed to promote the growth of women's tennis. The Oklahoma City Open is also a stop on the ITF World Tour, the international tour for professional women's tennis. The tournament will feature both singles and doubles events, with the top players in the world. The event will also include a variety of activities for fans, such as autograph sessions, player interviews, and a fan zone. The Oklahoma City Open is sure to be exciting and is not to be missed.

"Last Picture" Among Best Ever

BY JOSEPH GEINIS

Cinema's great era always comes to mind when thinking of the classic film "A Streetcar Named Desire." The 1951 drama, starring Marlon Brando, was a turning point in the actor's career and cemented his status as one of Hollywood's greatest talents. The film was directed by Elia Kazan and was based on Tennessee Williams' play. The film's success was due in large part to the performances of the cast, which included Brando, Kim Novak, and Vivien Leigh, who played the iconic role of Blanche DuBois. The film was nominated for 13 Academy Awards, including Best Picture, and won five, including Best Director for Kazan. "A Streetcar Named Desire" is considered one of the greatest films ever made and is a must-watch for anyone interested in cinema.

Rape Is Newest Fashion In Filmdom

BY RANDY ROBB

The phenomenon of the rape scene has become an increasingly common occurrence in the film industry. From the beginning of cinema, the rape scene has been used as a means of cheapening the female role and exploiting the audience's prurient desires. The explosion of rape scenes in recent years has been attributed to a variety of factors, including a desire for sensationalism, the pursuit of box-office success, and the pervasiveness of violence in contemporary society. The rape scene has become a staple of the thriller, horror, and action genres, and is often used as a means of creating suspense and fear. In recent years, the use of the rape scene has been criticized for its exploitation of women and its role in perpetuating patriarchal norms. However, the rape scene remains a ubiquitous element of the film industry, and is unlikely to disappear any time soon.

Pearl S. Buck at 80: "What I Now Believe" by Pearl S. Buck

A famous author reflects on what all her years have convinced her about that elusive subject, our life on this planet.

"I used to believe that people are all good. This belief came from my education by a Christian scholar when I was growing up in China. I no longer believe that people are born good. I now believe that people are not only 'good' but also 'bad'.

This belief came from my education by a Christian scholar when I was growing up in China. I no longer believe that people are born good. I now believe that people are not only 'good' but also 'bad'.

I have come to believe that people are not all good. This belief came from my education by a Christian scholar when I was growing up in China. I no longer believe that people are born good. I now believe that people are not only 'good' but also 'bad'.

I want to clarify that I am not advocating for a particular political or religious ideology. My belief is rooted in my personal experience and observations.

I have come to believe that people are not all good. This belief came from my education by a Christian scholar when I was growing up in China. I no longer believe that people are born good. I now believe that people are not only 'good' but also 'bad'.

In my view, people are a product of their environment and experiences. Some may be more inclined towards good due to upbringing and culture, while others may be more inclined towards bad due to circumstances and choices.

Ken Buchanan

Buchanan's hope to become the first Scottish-weight champion was nibbled by a brave Irishman named Tony McGovern who brought the challenge back to Scotland. Buchanan didn't waste much time in minimizing the criticism in his career. The referee stopped the contest after eight minutes when McGovern's arm was fractured.

The Doctor Lets You In Vitamin A: A Two-Edged Sword?
It is possible to have too many vitamins? Absolutely. And here's one reason why many experts are concerned over America's current vitamin intake. In the East, the belief is still prevalent that vitamin A is the cure for the diseases of the poor while, in the West, the belief is still prevalent that vitamin A is the cure for the diseases of the rich. This latter belief is due to a mistaken belief that vitamin A is only good for healthy people.

1000 Lakes: Pay Well-Rated
It's a cliche of overnight success at a New York Times. Buchanan, who's decided that 50 percent of his studied work is successful in losing weight because they're working irrelevant. As an editor, editors without the ability to make good decisions in selecting and 50% of the time, decisions are made without thinking much. Some mistakes have been made by the workplace, in the process of making a decision. But never workplace, in the process of making a decision. But never remember that at times, reality is a beast.

EXCITING NEW FASHION VALUES

Why I smoke Vantage?
I read the papers. I watch TV. I hear the things some of them are saying about smoking. All I know is that I enjoy smoking and I don't plan to quit. Last year, maybe the year before, I did get one of those low tar cigarettes. Worked for it for a solid month. Trying to pull flavor through one of those cigarettes was like sucking on a pencil.

I went back to my old brand. What's the way of smoking if you can't get flavor through a cigarette? Just as the thing, my old brand. All those critics made me feel guilty about smoking them. That's about the time Vantage came out and I latched on to them.

First off, they tasted good. Like my old cigarettes. And then, frankly, all that the critics say about 'tar' and nicotine has to make an impression. Fact is, they don't make me feel guilty about smoking Vantage. I mean here's a cigarette that's got a whole lot less 'tar' and nicotine than my old brand and I'm still getting good rich flavor out of them.

They're always telling people to stop smoking or to cut down on 'tar' and nicotine.

But how about telling a guy like me, who likes smoking, how to cut down on 'tar' and nicotine yet still get some enjoyment out of a cigarette.

Will every smoker like Vantage? All I can say is to try them.

The Super-Nutritional Breakfast
We all know, don’t we, that breakfast is the most important meal of the day? Well, this week’s Cookbook features breakfast menus that are not only nutritious, but super-nutritious. Some will be different to you, but all will be healthy and good to eat. (One word of caution: don’t try all of them at once! One new breakfast menu every few days is probably all your family can assimilate.)

By Robert Mitchum

"Me, I Just Cook for Myself"

"We usually have one big party each year. It's the party, with about 300 people. Lots of wine to improve the mood. And five-foot tall bowls filled with caviar, clams, etc. It's a pretty choosy party—and, very, very well fed."

As told to Helen Dunay

The Family Weekly Foodshelf

"Excuse me, I'm Robert Mitchum."

ROBERT MITCHUM'S BEEF STEAK

2.5 lbs. beef steak, cut into 3- to 4-inch pieces

8 oz. cream of mushroom soup

2 oz. Michelob

1/4 tsp. salt

1/2 tsp. pepper

Mix together the soup, Michelob, salt and pepper. Place the beef in a pan and pour the mixture over it. Let stand 10 minutes. Then place in loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Add more soup mixture if necessary. Serve warm.

MIRACLE MARGARINE

1/2 cup cream

1/2 cup butter

1/2 tsp. salt

Blend cream and butter until smooth.

In a mixing bowl, beat the cream until it forms soft peaks. Add the sugar and beat until stiff peaks form. Fold in the whipped cream.

MIRACLE MARGARINE MIX

3 cups flour

1/2 cup sugar

1 tsp. baking powder

1/2 tsp. salt

Mix together the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Add the shortening and mix until well blended. Add the milk and mix until the dough comes together. Roll out the dough and cut into desired shapes. Bake at 350 degrees for 10-15 minutes.

The Cherry Breeze

A delicious no-cook, no-bake cream cheese pie with a crisp graham cracker crust. Convenient ingredients, easy to make. All you do is mix and chill.

TANG MARGARITA MIX

1 bottle Tang Margarita mix

1 bottle orange juice

1 bottle water

1 bottle tequila

Mix all ingredients together. Pour into a pie shell and chill in the refrigerator. Serve chilled.

TV's Sandy Duncan Finds Life Anew After Trial by Surgery

STAR PROFILE/By Peer I. Oppenheimer

I was really looking forward to meeting Sandy Duncan, the "Gangster's" "Gangster's" "Gangster's" star. As I walked into the lobby of the "Gangster's" "Gangster's" "Gangster's" "Gangster's" set, I saw Sandy walking towards me. She was wearing a white suit and looked very confident. She smiled and said, "Hello!"

She took me up to her dressing room, where we sat down and talked. She told me about her experience with surgery, and how she felt she had "found life anew" after the trial.

A month after the operation, Sandy told me, "I feel great. I've lost weight and my energy level is up. I feel like a new person."

Sandy had been through a lot during her career, and it was clear that surgery had given her a new lease on life. She was thrilled with the results, and I was impressed by her determination.

I asked her about her future plans, and she said, "I want to keep working, but I also want to spend more time with my family."

Sandy's surgery was a success, and she continues to inspire others with her dedication and hard work. She is a true survivor, and I'm proud to have met her.

Sandy's story is one of hope and determination. I'm glad I could be a part of it. Congratulations, Sandy!"
