Prairie Dogs Gain Reprieve In House Vote

By PAUL ENGLISH

Tulsa, Okla. — Oklahoma House members Tuesday approved a bill that would permit prairie dogs to be killed. The bill, which passed by a 36-1 vote, now goes to the Senate for consideration.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Steve Miller, aims to help control the population of prairie dogs in the state. Miller said he hopes the measure will help protect wildlife and agriculture.

'It Was A Good Day To Start' For Cowboys

By Bob JONES

Sports Editor

The Dallas Cowboys, riding high on the success of their first playoff victory, will meet the Minnesota Vikings Sunday in the first round of the National Football League playoffs.

The Cowboys, who won their first ever home playoff game with a thrilling overtime victory over the San Francisco 49ers, have been favored to win the NFC East title since the start of the season.

With a win over the Vikings, the Cowboys would advance to the NFC Championship game against the winner of the other NFC playoff game between the New York Giants and the Los Angeles Rams.

The Vikings, coached by Mike Zimmer, have a tough task ahead of them. Dallas is one of the best teams in the league, with a dominant defense and an explosive offense.

But the Cowboys are not without their own challenges. They will be without key players like running back Ezekiel Elliott and offensive tackle Tyron Smith due to injuries.

Despite the injury concerns, the Cowboys are confident they can carry on the momentum from their playoff victory and secure a spot in the championship game.

The game is set for 1 p.m. Eastern time at AT&T Stadium in Dallas. It will be broadcast on NBC.
