Los Angeles (AP) — A masked man claimed credit for the plane hijacking that started the trouble over the United Airlines jetliner on Thursday, allegedly firing at empty buildings.

He carried a heavy weapon and said thousands of dollars in property damage. He also claimed to have killed one passenger and wounded another. He demanded a ransom of $2 million and threatened to kill the passengers if the terms were not met.

The hijacker was said to be at least 21 years old and had been employed by Major Airlines. He was last seen in the area around the Los Angeles-Torreman airport.

The plane was forced to land at the airport, where it was surrounded by police. The hijacker was said to be armed with a .44-caliber revolver.

Networks Facing Antitrust Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said Thursday it is ordering that the broadcasters have more time to consider the Justice Department’s request for an antitrust investigation of the networks. The Justice Department said it is concerned that the networks may be acting in a way that is harmful to the public interest.

The networks have until the end of the month to make their case for why an antitrust investigation is not needed.

The Vietnam News Agency reported Thursday that the situation in South Vietnam was rapidly deteriorating. The agency said that the government’s efforts to contain the situation were failing, and that the situation was becoming increasingly tense.

The Vietnamese government has been under increasing pressure from the United States and other countries to take more decisive action.

War Powers Curb Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Friday to limit the use of military force in North Vietnam. The measure, which passed by a vote of 55 to 45, was supported by the White House and some of the more hawkish members of Congress.

The move was seen as a victory for the anti-war movement and a setback for the Nixon administration. The measure is expected to be vetoed by the House, which has been more inclined to support the military operation.

Nina Fan Blasts Wilson's Comment

In KEW, Texas, a fan who saw Nina Fan's recent performance in "The Great Adventure" at the Kew Theatre was so impressed that she wrote a letter to the Kew Theatre manager, Wilson, expressing her admiration for the performance. The fan, who went by the name "Daisy," stated in her letter, "I have never seen a performance like Miss Fan's. She is truly a natural talent. I hope she will perform again soon." Wilson, however, was not pleased with the fan's comments. In a response to Daisy, Wilson wrote, "I appreciate your kind words, but I do not agree with your assessment of my performance. I am a professional actor and have been performing for more than 20 years. I believe my performance was excellent." The exchange between Daisy and Wilson has sparked a debate among fans and critics about the quality of Wilson's performance.

New Ride Rated High

Reliving Six Flags’ Adventures Fun

In the early 1970s, the Six Flags amusement park chain was known for its thrilling roller coasters and exciting rides. The new ride being described was said to offer a thrilling experience, with a combination of speed, height, and turns that would appeal to both seasoned riders and novices. The article highlighted the technical aspects of the ride, such as its track design and safety features, and how these contributed to its popularity. The ride was part of the park's ongoing efforts to attract a wider audience by offering new and exciting attractions. The authors of the article were impressed with the ride's design and expected it to become a major draw for visitors to the park. The ride was located within the main amusement section of the park, which made it easily accessible to all guests. Overall, the article praised the new ride for its innovative design, safety features, and enjoyable experience, making it a must-try for anyone visiting the park.
Here's How Boating Can Be Safer

Q: Keep A. in a backing-up, according to the rules of the Road, which boat has the right of way? A. B. C. D.

A: When there is doubt involved as to the right of way, the boat on the right has the right of way. This means the boat on the right is supposed to keep to the left and pass between the other boat and the channel.

Q: According to the rules of the Road, which boat has the right of way here? A. B. C. D.

A: In the event of two boats meeting, the boat on the starboard (right) side has the right of way. This means the boat on the starboard side is supposed to keep to the left and pass between the other boat and the channel.

Q: What should you do if you are coming in to the pier and you see another boat coming out of the harbor? A. B. C. D.

A: If you are coming in to the pier and you see another boat coming out of the harbor, you should slow down and give them the right of way. This means you should decrease your speed and allow the other boat to pass safely.

Q: In the event of two boats meeting, both may make a change in their course or speed? A. B. C. D.

A: In the event of two boats meeting, both may make a change in their course or speed. This means that both boats should reduce their speed and change their course to avoid a collision.

Q: Should a skipper keep on the inside or outside of a pier when approaching a deep draft or an awkward change? A. B. C. D.

A: A skipper should keep on the inside of a pier when approaching a deep draft or an awkward change. This means they should stay closer to the pier and avoid the deeper areas.

Tips For Novices

Know What You Want In A Boat

If you're new to boating, it can be overwhelming. Here are some tips to get you started:

1. Choose the Right Boat
   - Consider your budget and what you plan to use the boat for.
   - Check out different types of boats and see which one suits your needs.

2. Learn the Basics
   - Take a boating course to learn the basic skills you need to operate a boat safely.
   - Read manuals and other resources to learn more about operating a boat.

3. Test Drive Before Buying
   - Try out different boats before you buy to make sure you're comfortable with them.

4. Consider the Maintenance
   - Boats require regular maintenance, so consider how much time and money you're willing to spend on maintenance.

Small Dinghy Selling Like Hot Cakes

By Jack McGilvray

"The dinghy market is quite a busy one," said a boat excelsiorist, "and this year it appears to be particularly hot for small dinghies. The demand has been so great that many manufacturers are finding it difficult to keep up with the orders. The reason for this increase in demand is not hard to find. The small dinghy is a versatile and adaptable boat that can be used for a wide variety of purposes, from fishing and sailing to simply enjoying the outdoors. It is easy to transport and can be stored in small spaces, making it perfect for those who live in urban areas or who have limited storage space. Additionally, the small dinghy is a cost-effective alternative to larger boats, making it an attractive option for many budget-conscious boat buyers.

Renting Boat Makes Decision On Buying Easier

In the past, a variety of factors made it difficult for someone to decide whether to rent or buy a boat. However, recent advances in technology have made renting a more attractive option. With the advent of online boat rental services, it's easier than ever to find a boat that meets your needs at a price you can afford. Plus, you don't have to worry about maintenance or storage fees.

Check Insurance Policy For Your Pleasure Boat

BY AUD REAVEN, NEW YORK CITY

As boating season approaches, it's important to make sure your insurance policy is up-to-date. A recent study by the National Marine Manufacturers Association found that the average cost of boat insurance in 2021 was $1,200. While this may seem like a significant expense, it's crucial to have adequate coverage to protect your investment.
