Lessons From Space

We find that we can't live in a world without space travel. The progress we've made in space travel is a great step toward understanding the universe. Without it, we could not understand the problems that face us today. We need to develop a new perspective on space travel and how it can help us understand the universe.'

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good; you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But what happens if you need money? What's going happen to your standard of living? What's going happen to your health? What's going happen to your freedom?

What happens if you're disabled? What happens if you're old? What happens if you're sick? What happens if you're unemployed? What happens if you're unemployed for a long time?

It's easy to make money; it's not so easy to make money when you need it. It's easy to spend money; it's not so easy to spend money when you need it. It's easy to save money; it's not so easy to save money when you need it.
