Nixon Calls Urgent Talks On War

WASHINGTON — President Nixon opened talks today with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin on a possible truce in Southeast Asia, and raised the possibility of a settlement in the Far East.

Nixon made the announcement during a closed-door meeting with members of his Cabinet, the only public statement he made was that he had been "informed" of the discussions.

The president said he had been "informed" of the discussions by the State Department, which did not confirm or deny the reports.

The talks with Kosygin were part of a broader effort to end the war in Vietnam, which has been going on for more than a year.

Nixon said he hoped to conclude the discussions by the end of the week, but did not specify what form they would take.

He stressed that any agreement would have to be "meaningful" and "realistic".

The talks were expected to focus on ways to end the war, including a possible cease-fire and the withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

The president also said he was "confident" that a settlement could be reached, but added that "this is not a guarantee."

Whatever Happened To Little Eleanor Holm...?

Summer Olympic Games Bring Back Thoughts Of 1936

By JIM DAVENPORT

Eleanor Holm, now a mother of two, daughter of Thomas Holm and Eleanor Holm, is a former Olympic swimmer. She won a gold medal at the 1936 Olympics in Berlin. She is currently married to fellow Olympic swimmer, C. W. 'Bill' Hoyt.

Eleanor Holm was born on December 29, 1926 in New York City. She began swimming at a young age and quickly showed promise. In 1935, at the age of nine, she won her first national championship. She continued to excel in the sport, eventually earning a spot on the 1936 United States Olympic Swimming Team.

At the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, Holm won gold medals in the 100-meter backstroke and 400-meter freestyle. Her success in the water was mirrored by her talents in the classroom, where she was a straight-A student.

After retiring from competitive swimming, Holm married C. W. 'Bill' Hoyt, also a former Olympic swimmer. The couple has two children, a son and a daughter.

In recent years, Holm has remained active in the swimming community, serving as a mentor and coach to young swimmers.

Father Suddenly Jealous Of Three-Year-Old Child

By JIM DAVENPORT

A father found himself suddenly jealous of his three-year-old daughter. He had always been proud of his daughter's intelligence and accomplishments, but recently found himself comparing her to other children his age.

Dr. Brothers, a child psychology expert, explains that it's normal for parents to feel this way. However, it's important to remember that each child develops at their own pace.

One way to cope with these feelings is to focus on your daughter's strengths and accomplishments. This can help you feel more pride and confidence in your child.
