Outpatient Project Shelved

The Anderson Health Center is shelving its plan to build a new $1 million outpatient project on the hospital grounds. The project is part of a $170 million bond issue voters approved last year to provide medical care to the public.

The new project would have been staffed by the Anderson County Health Department and would have included a laboratory, radiology, and medical records department. The project was expected to open in the spring of 1974.

The center plans to reopen the old building, which is currently being used for patient care, after the new project is completed. The old building will be used as a temporary facility until the new project is opened.

The decision to cancel the project was made after the center received a grant from the state of South Carolina. The grant was used to study the feasibility of the project and to provide funding for the construction of the new building.

The center hopes to reopen the old building by the end of the year. The new project is expected to open in the spring of 1975.

Theatre Center Completes Plans To Take Over Mummer's

The Anderson Theatre Center has completed plans to take over the old Mummer's building. The center plans to use the building for theater productions and other events.

The building has been vacant since Mummer's closed in 1972. The center plans to make repairs and improvements to the building before it opens.

The center hopes to reopen the building by the end of the year.

Editorials

Costly Beyond Price

Newspaper editors, like the newspeople in general, are often confronted with difficult decisions. And it is perhaps the greatest of these, the selection of the editorial page for a particular paper's layout. The editorial staff of The Oklahoma Journal is no exception to this. We have chosen to dedicate this page to important issues that affect our community and the world at large.

A Nation Remembers

Bill Tharp

They Kept Us Free

Washington, D.C., March 20

As the nation celebrates the bicentennial of the United States, we take a moment to remember those who have served our country and ensured our freedom. The sacrifices made by our military service members are not forgotten. We honor their dedication and heroism.

Tom Braden

Questions To Be Answered

In this section, we present a collection of questions that need to be answered in order to address the pressing issues facing our society. These questions range from economic policies to social justice and environmental concerns.

Water Quality And Health

A "long and hot" summer can be a challenge for those who rely on clean water. The Oklahoma Journal is committed to reporting on the health of our water sources and the steps being taken to protect them.

State Editors Say

Washington, D.C., March 20

The Oklahoma Journal editors are proud to present a collection of editorials from around the state. These editorials cover a wide range of topics, from education to economic development. We are grateful for the perspectives shared by our colleagues across the state.

Bill Buckley

The Poop Scoop War

The Oklahoma Journal's Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist, Bill Buckley, provides an in-depth analysis of the latest developments in the -poop scoop war. His article highlights the issues at stake and the potential solutions.

Bob Condine

The Nixons Scam Bohemian

The Oklahoma Journal's investigative journalist, Bob Condine, delves into the scandal surrounding the Nixon administration. His reporting reveals the extent of the corruption and the impact on our democracy.

Thought

Washington, D.C., March 20

As we reflect on the bicentennial, we cannot help but think about the future of our country. What challenges do we face as we move forward? How can we ensure that our nation remains strong and free?

Nixon's Chess Game Pushing Pawns To Brink

Washington, D.C., March 20

As the world watches, the Nixon administration engages in a high-stakes game of chess. Will their moves push us closer to war or peace? Only time will tell.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Efforts To Curb Profiteers Weak

"U.S. acts to prevent our precious professors from profiteering" is a common refrain on college campuses. The Oklahoma Journal takes a closer look at the efforts to curb this practice and what more can be done.

MINI-MALL

Shops, Offices Line City's First Subterranean Passage

By SUE WARD

The opening of the new mini-mall beneath the Liberty Bank building, a $4 million project of the Liberty Bank and the First National Bank, comes as no surprise to people involved in the downtown area.

The mini-mall, which opened last year, has become an integral part of the downtown area, providing a variety of shops, offices, and restaurants to the public.

The project was initiated by the Liberty Bank and the First National Bank in an effort to revitalize the downtown area.

The mini-mall includes a variety of shops and offices, including banks, restaurants, and retail stores.

FAA Center Is Hub Of Aviation

In a series of cross-country flights in 1958, a United States Army Center of Excellence for Transportation Sciences was established at the Oklahoma City Army Air Force Base. The center was a significant effort by the federal government to improve transportation systems in the United States through research and development.

The FAA Center is located in Oklahoma City, near the Will Rogers Airport. It is one of the major transportation research facilities in the United States. The center conducts research on various topics related to transportation, including aircraft operations, air traffic control, and airport management.

The center is staffed by experienced professionals in the field of transportation. They work with companies and organizations to develop new technologies and improve existing systems. The center is also involved in training and education programs for transportation professionals.

In conclusion, the FAA Center is a vital hub of aviation research and development. It plays a crucial role in improving transportation systems in the United States and contributes to the advancement of the aviation industry.
We'll help you turn a good airplane into a great airplane.

Soaring Popularity Growing Rapidly

There are nearly 130,000 pilots in America who are officially licensed by the FAA to fly airplanes.

They are members of the growing ranks of pilots who now enjoy flying for pleasure. The demand for new pilots is at an all-time high, and the FAA estimates that there will be a need for over 200,000 additional pilots over the next 20 years.

A recent survey revealed that 90% of pilots are male and 99% are white, but the FAA is encouraging diversity and inclusion to broaden the pool of pilots.

The FAA has implemented a variety of initiatives to increase the number of pilots, including scholarships and training programs.

Downtown Airport has been servicing the best aircraft in the world — longer than anyone.

We have over 120 decades of experience selling and servicing Aero-Commanders. We have our own hangar, runway and fuel service.

We are internationally known for our custom aircraft interiors and paint designs.

Electronics, major engines, overhaul, instrumentation and wiring service are just a few of the areas where we excel.

Downtown Airport is a Full Service airport located at 7171 N. Federal Highway, Treasure Island, FL 33710. We offer hangar space for all types of aircraft.

Title Checks Important Before Purchase

Flying Oklahoma have been able to save thousands of dollars by buying and selling air-planes by utilizing the first complete system of checking with the Home Insurance Co. of Texas.

The Federal Aviation Administration says the sale of their airplane has made it easier to buy and sell airplanes. But a fire at Oklahoma City.

"Most people don't know it, but an aircraft is an asset," said Pilot John D. McGregor of Oklahoma City. "The FAA is just a tool that helps to facilitate the transfer of property from one owner to another."

McGregor is president of the Oklahoma Aircraft Sales, Inc., a firm located near Minneapolis, Minn. McGregor says that the FAA often requires that aircraft be flown outside the United States before it can be sold.

"It's a process that is required by the FAA," said McGregor. "If the FAA doesn't approve the sale, the aircraft can't be sold. It's a process that is required by the FAA."
Soaring Popularity Growing Rapidly

As soaring gains in popularity, and as soaring pilots are able to fly higher and farther, the soaring community is growing larger and more active. Some key factors contributing to this growth include increasing public interest in aviation, advancements in soaring technology, and the development of more accessible soaring sites.

The soaring community has experienced significant growth in recent years. According to national organizations and soaring clubs, the number of active soaring pilots has increased steadily over the past decade. This growth is evident in the number of soaring events, soaring schools, and soaring organizations that have sprung up around the country.

One major factor driving this growth has been the increasing public interest in aviation. As more people become interested in flying, soaring provides an affordable and accessible option for those who want to learn to fly. Soaring is not only a fun and rewarding activity, but it also offers a unique way to see the world from a bird's eye view.

Advancements in soaring technology have also contributed to this growth. Soaring aircraft have become more efficient and reliable, allowing pilots to fly longer distances and at higher altitudes. Additionally, the development of new soaring sites and the expansion of existing sites has made it easier for pilots to find places to fly.

The soaring community is also benefiting from the development of more accessible soaring sites. As more soaring sites have been developed and expanded, pilots have more options for where to fly. This has made soaring more accessible to people who are interested in the activity, and it has helped to grow the community further.

Aero Commanders Begin As Sheet Of Aluminum

Aero Commanders begin as a sheet of aluminum. The first Aero Commander was a 1954 model, and its distinctive design and performance quickly made it a favorite among soaring enthusiasts.

The Aero Commander was designed by John A. Mustin, who had a background in aircraft design and engineering. The original design was a single-seat, high-wing monoplane with a high Aspect Ratio wing. The aircraft was built using a combination of metal and fabric, which was a common practice for high-performance aircraft of the time.

The initial design was developed with input from the soaring community, and it quickly gained popularity among soaring enthusiasts. The aircraft was known for its excellent soaring performance, and it was one of the first high-wing monoplanes to be designed specifically for soaring.

The Aero Commander was a popular choice for soaring pilots, and it remained in production for several years. The aircraft was known for its distinctive design and performance, and it continues to be a favorite among soaring enthusiasts to this day.
New Plane Developed at Norman

The Thryssor Commander, the world's largest general purpose aircraft, has been acquired by the U.S. Air Force and is being used for studies of the effects of noise, pollution, and other factors at the Air Force Research Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

The plane has a 1,000-horsepower engine, which is said to be about three times as powerful as the largest aircraft currently in use. It is a twin-engine aircraft with a top speed of about 300 miles per hour and a range of about 2,000 miles. The aircraft is being used for research into the effects of noise and pollution on the environment.

The Thryssor Commander is equipped with advanced avionics, including a state-of-the-art navigation system, and is capable of flying at altitudes up to 50,000 feet. It has a wingspan of 110 feet and a length of 90 feet. The aircraft has a crew of three, including a pilot and two mission specialists.

The Thryssor Commander is expected to be used for a variety of research projects, including the study of the effects of noise and pollution on the environment, the development of new aircraft technologies, and the testing of advanced avionics systems.

Colleges Teach Flying

For more than 30 years, the University of Oklahoma has been teaching students how to fly. The university's aviation program is one of the oldest and most respected in the country, and it offers a variety of courses and programs for students interested in pursuing a career in aviation.

The airline industry is experiencing a significant labor shortage, which has led to an increased demand for pilots. As a result, many universities are expanding their aviation programs in order to meet this demand.

North American Aviation's Sabre 75, the largest commercial airliner in the world, can carry up to 125 passengers and can fly more than 2,000 miles on a single fueling. The aircraft is equipped with advanced avionics and is capable of flying at altitudes up to 50,000 feet.

Airports Important To Cities

The disappearance of small airports and air service from small communities has been a concern for many years. As a result, many communities are working to attract new airlines and improve existing airport facilities.

Airports are important to cities because they provide access to the world, connect local businesses with national and international partners, and provide job opportunities.

Summer, '72, When A Little Means A Lot

By SHERMAN WAKES

A SUMMER of sorts and temperatures, based on 1972 predictions... "Summer, '72, When A Little Means A Lot..." could very well be the theme for the July 4th holiday. And for many, it could also mean a change in wardrobe, with the arrival of warmer weather.

In Candlelight Setting...
Betsy Ross Zahn Weds R.S. Thorpe

BETSY ROSS ZAHN, of Skokie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zahn, and R.S. Thorpe, of Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thorpe, were married in a candlelight ceremony July 5 at the home of the bride's parents. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. John Zahn.

The couple plan to reside in Hammond.

Art Center Plans Summer Workshop

Art Center, Inc., an organization which supports the arts in Chicago, is planning a summer workshop scheduled for July 10. The workshop will be held at the center's new facility on Chicago Avenue and will feature a range of classes in painting, sculpture, and drama.

Art Allows James Hudman To See 'Black' Viewpoint

By RICHARD B. COLEMAN

In his latest exhibit, Hudman has taken a new look at his subject matter. He has chosen a different medium for his work, and the result is a series of paintings and drawings that reflect his own thoughts.

The paintings are done in a realistic style, with a focus on the black body. The drawings are more abstract, with a focus on the human figure.

Hudman's work is on display at the University of Arkansas Art Gallery, in conjunction with the Black Student Association's art show.

Filmmaking Course Will Begin June 6

Producing art and motion films will be a prime topic of the course for 20 in a 10-week class beginning June 6 at Great Magnavox, 300 S. Grand Blvd. The course, "Film Production," will be taught by Bruce Elkin, director of the Film Department at Oklahoma State University.

"We are trying to create an environment in which film students can develop their skills," Elkin said. "We want to encourage students to express themselves through film." The course will be held weekly, and students will be expected to attend all classes. The course will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For more information, contact Elkin at 743-1400.

Animated Filmmakers

Using a team of animators and several examples of children's art, Frank Banes, 90, and Roger White, will teach an animation class in June as part of the Animation Program at Great Magnavox.

"We are trying to create an environment in which film students can develop their skills," Elkin said. "We want to encourage students to express themselves through film." The course will be held weekly, and students will be expected to attend all classes. The course will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For more information, contact Elkin at 743-1400.

Cannes Awards Big Questionable

by Robin Adams Sloan

Q. It is true that George Sanders killed himself because he was sexually attracted to other men, is it not? A. Yes, it is true. Sanders, born in 1902, was a British actor who played a variety of roles in films and on stage. He was known for his prominent roles in classic films such as "Pride and Prejudice," "The Winslow Boy," and "The Life of Emile Zola." He committed suicide in 1972 at the age of 67.

Q. How does Ellen DeGeneres feel about her divorce? A. DeGeneres, who was married to actress Portia de Rossi from 2008 to 2020, has spoken out about the divorce. She has been candid and open about the process, saying that it was a difficult and emotional time for her. However, she has also emphasized the importance of maintaining a positive attitude and focusing on self-care during challenging times.

Q. Did the German soldiers die in World War II, or were they killed by civilians? A. The German soldiers who died in World War II were killed by other German soldiers as well as by Allied forces and civilians. The exact number of German soldiers who died during the war is difficult to determine, as the Nazi regime tried to hide its scale of atrocities.

Q. What is the cause of death for George W. Bush's father, former President George H.W. Bush? A. George H.W. Bush, who served as the 41st President of the United States from 1989 to 1993, died on November 30, 2018, from complications of lung failure. He was 94 years old.
The 10th edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus has begun its tour and will arrive in Oklahoma City for its performance June 21-25.

The most recent circus to hit the major markets of the United States, the tour is a combination of traditional clowns, acrobats, and animal acts that have been performed for generations.

Tickets for the show are available at the Oklahoma City Arena box office, and the circus will feature new presentation equipment, previously owned by the Tonkawa Pro Rodeo and recently purchased by Robert Norton Performing Arts.

Basketball on Wheels

One of the best seats in the house will be in the exclusive Hawk's Nest, a private lounge area designed by Robert Norton. The lounge will feature a full-service bar, grilled food, and a private entrance to the circus floor.

Marvin Gaye Climbs Into Ring

By TONY ZIO

Baseball gave a lift to Marvin Gaye.

He's no Mariano Duncan, the Famous New York Yankee baseball player, but he was the center of attention at the New York Coliseum on Thursday night when his new album Go Anywhere was released.

The audience consisted of black sports fans and music critics alike. Gaye was joined by other stars like Stevie Wonder, Bill Withers, and Al Green.

Gaye's energetic and soulful performance electrified the crowd, and his powerful vocals earned him standing ovations.

In addition to his music, Gaye's espoused a new message of unity and racial pride, which resonated deeply with many in the audience.

Today, Marvin Gaye's legacy lives on, as his music continues to inspire and uplift people across the globe.

Huston Directing 'Life Of Judge Bean'

By DAN FORD

actor Anthony Hopkins has been cast as famed judge John H. Bean in the upcoming biopic "The Man Who Ran the Country".

The film, directed by Woody Harrelson, will explore the life and times of Bean, who served as the first African American judge in Tennessee.

Hopkins, known for his work in "The Shawshank Redemption" and "The Silence of the Lambs", was a natural fit for the role of Bean, according to Harrelson.

"Anthony has a unique ability to bring complex characters to life," Harrelson said. "His work on Bean is going to be truly transformative."
Baez Album's Released

By ROBERT HOLBROOK

The album of Joan Baez has become as well known as the singer herself. The songs are true to the heart and soul of the people through simple themes of love, peace, freedom, and solidarity. It is not just a musical achievement; it is also a reflection of the social and political changes happening in the world today.

The album opens with a simple yet powerful song, "Silouetted". It is a song of hope and peace, a call for understanding and cooperation. The lyrics are filled with powerful imagery and metaphors that speak to the heart of the listener. The song is a perfect introduction to the rest of the album, setting the tone for the rest of the songs to come.

"Diamonds & Rust" is one of the standout tracks on the album. It is a beautiful song, rich in melody and harmony. The lyrics are a mix of personal and universal themes, exploring the complexities of love and relationships. The song is a wonderful example of Baez's ability to connect with her audience on a deep and emotional level.

The album is a beautiful reflection of Baez's musical journey. It is a powerful reminder of the importance of music as a tool for social and political change. It is a testament to Baez's talent and dedication, and a gift to her fans and to the world.
Stars Hop On Bandwagons

BY VERNON SCOTT

Bollywood (UPI) - Movie and television stars have been billed for their role in the premiere of a new musical sensation at the recent American Music Festival.

The music sensation, which is a combination of rock and roll, is called "The Midnight Earl." It tells the story of a young couple, Liza Desi, who finds themselves in a star-studded bandwagon.

Liza, who is played by actress Kelly McSweeney, is the star of the show. She is portrayed as a beautiful, talented, and successful star who is forced to work with a group of less successful stars.

Desi, who is played by actor John David, is a young, naive, and inexperienced star who is forced to work with Liza. He is portrayed as a humorous, enigmatic, and charismatic star who is forced to deal with the challenges of working with Liza.

The musical sensation, "The Midnight Earl," is directed by John David and produced by Kelly McSweeney. The show is set in the glamorous world of Hollywood and is filled with songs and dance numbers.

The cast includes other stars such as Olivia Newton-John, Cher, and John Travolta. The show is filled with laughs and musical numbers that will keep the audience entertained.

The show's success is due in large part to the chemistry between Liza and Desi. Their individual performances are outstanding, but their chemistry is what makes the show a success.

Shirley Joins Campaign

By RALPH NOVAK

NEW YORK—Miss Shirley MacLaine, actress for "The Omen," tells the press that she has joined the Kennedy/Nixon campaign as a volunteer worker. Miss MacLaine, who has appeared in a number of films, said she was asked to join the campaign by Robert Kennedy, who is a favorite for the presidency.

"I’m not sure how long I’ll last," said Miss MacLaine, "but I hope to make some contribution. I feel very strongly about the issues, and I want to help in any way I can."

The campaign has been criticized for its negative advertising, and Miss MacLaine said she was concerned about the direction of the campaign.

"I think negative advertising is wrong," she said. "It’s a shame that people have to be attacked just to get their point across."

She added that she was concerned about the role of money in politics.

"I’m not a political activist," she said. "But I do believe that the system is corrupt and that money has too much influence."

Miss MacLaine, who is a native of Chicago, said she was excited to be in New York, where she has lived for many years.

"I’ve always been interested in politics," she said. "I’m glad to be able to help in any way I can."

She also said she was looking forward to meeting some of the candidates.

"I’m going to try to meet as many people as possible," she said. "I’m excited about meeting some of the candidates and hearing what they have to say."

She added that she was looking forward to the debates and the final vote.

"I’m really looking forward to the debates," she said. "I think it’s going to be a really exciting time."

Designers are now plotting the fashion looks for the fall of 1972. There are standard looks-J. C. Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.

- We've gone through enough of "new" fashions last season to ourselves to make sure there are no more fashions for fall. In fact, we've seen so much of the "new" that it's beginning to look like the "old." The harsh reality is that designers aren't going to be any more relevant than last season. The fashion business has been on a downward spiral for years and there's no sign of recovery.

FOR BILL BURG
Who would you like to see as the next President of the United States? Mr. Lyndon B. Johnson, Washington, D.C.

- I would like to see a man of integrity and character in the White House. It's important to have a strong leader who can make tough decisions. The country needs a leader who can bring about positive change.

FOR MELBO THOMAS
Are you interested in the light-gauge liaison in your area? I think it's a good opportunity. I believe it can help to improve the lives of people in the area.

- I agree. It's a great opportunity to make a difference in people's lives. It's important to be involved in the community and work towards improving the quality of life for everyone.

FOR NORMAN LEARN, co-author of "All in the Family"
You can't have a popular show and have it ignore social issues. In fact, you can't ignore social issues and be popular. If you ignore social issues, people will tune you out.

- I completely agree. Social issues are important and need to be addressed. It's important to have a show that reflects the issues of the day and engages the audience.

FOR JIM MARTIN
You had the image of being a "hero." Do you think that's a fair description? J. J. Martin, Santa Rosa, N. M.

- I don't think I'm a hero. I think I'm just doing my job. My goal is to help people and make a positive difference in their lives.

FOR ALBERT WILSON
Do you think we need more control over our weapons? J. J. Martin, Santa Rosa, N. M.

- I think we need more control over our weapons. It's important to prevent the misuse of weapons and ensure that they are used for the right purposes.

FOR JOHN BURG
In your opinion, what's the best way to live? Mr. Lyndon B. Johnson, Washington, D.C.

- I think the best way to live is to work hard and make the most of your time. It's important to have a fulfilled life and surround yourself with good people.

FOR ARNOLD WALKER
If you have a favorite author, who is it? J. J. Martin, Santa Rosa, N. M.

- I don't have a favorite author, but I enjoy reading about different topics. It's a great way to learn and expand your knowledge.

FOR BILL BURG
Do you think you will ever run for President? Mr. Lyndon B. Johnson, Washington, D.C.

- I don't think I will ever run for President. I think it's important to have someone else in the White House to bring about change.

A Reader's Remembrance:

The Day I Met John Payne

Whenever you see John Payne, thank you. I was at McCarran Airport, Los Vegas, in May of 1963, but the memory of it has helped me ever since.
Mia was wearing a short dress and I was fanning myself with a fan. I saw him in the airport. He was wearing a suit and carrying a briefcase.
I went over to him and said, "Hello, John?" He said, "Hello, Sue?" We went to the hotel and had lunch together. I was so surprised because he was so nice and friendly.

I was surprised to find myself really interested in him. We talked and talked about his career and his family. He was so kind and considerate of me. It was a wonderful experience to spend time with him.

GOOD NEWS IN MEDICINE: Four New Ways Americans Will Get Better Health Care for Less Cost

By T. K. Irwin

M Ds. L. Avandaro of Salt Lake City and D. R. Smith of St. Louis urge that all Americans have health care, but the cost of it is prohibitive. They believe that medical care should be available to all who need it, regardless of income. Their proposals are as follows:

1. Primary Care Providers (PCPs) - These are general practitioners who can provide basic care for most common illnesses. They are trained in family medicine and can diagnose and treat many common conditions such as colds, headaches, and minor injuries. PCPs can coordinate care with specialists and can help manage long-term conditions like diabetes or hypertension.

2. Integration of Primary Care with Specialty Care - This involves the collaboration between PCPs and specialists to ensure that patients receive coordinated care. For example, a patient with heart disease might see a PCP for routine care but also consult a cardiologist for specialized treatment.

3. Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs) - HMOs offer comprehensive health care plans at lower costs than traditional insurance. They provide a network of doctors and hospitals that are pre-approved to treat patients, which can reduce costs.

4. Advancements in Technology - The use of technology in health care can help reduce costs. For instance, telemedicine allows doctors to consult with patients remotely, which can be more cost-effective than in-person visits.

These proposals aim to make health care more accessible and affordable for all Americans.

Country Star
"Peace of Mind— I Still"

I'm a rock star, I know
I'm a rock star, I know
I'm a rock star, I know..."

The punch line South Shore fans were waiting for... that moment when Merle Haggard was named as the new star of the show. Yes, folks, Merle Haggard is back, and he's got a new album on the way. "Peace of Mind— I Still" is the first single from his upcoming release, "Country Star." Merle's voice still resonates with the same emotion and depth that fans have come to expect from him. He's still got that rasp, that edge that makes his music unique. And with his new album, he's bringing back the sound that fans love... the sound of Merle Haggard.

Merle Haggard— still got it... still got the soul of a rock star. He's been through it all, but he's still got the fire in his eyes. And with "Peace of Mind— I Still," he's proving that he's still got the talent to keep us engaged and entertained.

"Peace of Mind— I Still" is a heartfelt song about the struggles of life, the challenges that we face, and the hope that we can find in the midst of it all. Merle's voice carries the weight of his experiences, and it's a powerful reminder of the strength we can find within ourselves.

So go out and get your copy of "Country Star"... go out and support Merle Haggard. He's still got it... still got the soul of a rock star.

Are You Sure You Know How Other People Judge You?

True or False: If you're a girl whose looks are on the plain side, you'll have to get used to the idea that prettier girls have the inside track as far as men are concerned. (See number 6.)

Answer:
- True, research has shown that men prefer prettier girls and are more likely to be interested in them. However, it's important to remember that there is more to a person than just their appearance. Being confident and kind can also attract attention.

STERLING SILVER RING

Mary Cobb has received many fine gifts through the years, but this sterling silver ring that she received from her husband was one of her favorites. The ring features a small diamond and is engraved with her initials. The couple has been married for over 50 years, and the ring is a symbol of their enduring love.

What in the World!

Although being out of work is one of the worst things I can imagine, there is a silver lining for me. I've been able to spend more time with my family and hobbies. I've even started a new knitting project that I never had the time for before.
