Week Shows No Pullout

President Nixon gave a brief interview recently in the Oval Office on the 1972 election campaign. He said he expects to have a campaign "on the order of 1960." Nixon also expressed the view that if President Johnson runs for re-election, he would face problems similar to those experienced by the Republican candidate in 1960.

"Big" Minh Speaks Out

SAGIN - Gen. Dang Van "Big" Minh pronounced South Vietnam's military situation Monday as "the worst it has been in years." Daily reports from the vast and constant enemy attacks in South Vietnam indicated that the enemy had launched a new effort to secure the country, which the communists have视为 the key to their eventual victory.

"We will not let the enemy win," said the general, "because we are determined to defend our country against the enemy's attack."

Minh, who was speaking from a military command post, added that the enemy's attacks were not only directed at South Vietnam's military forces, but also at the people themselves.

"We will not allow the enemy to win," he said. "We will continue to fight until the enemy is defeated."
