California Poll Shows McGovern Landslide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George McGovern leads Robert Kennedy by a striking 52 percentage points in a nationwide public opinion poll released Tuesday five days before the start of the Democratic convention.

The survey, taken by the respected firm of Edward Gurney of California P.R., showed McGovern was favored by a 52 to 20 percent margin of Democrats interviewed compared to 40 percent for Kennedy.

Kennedy, the solid, stable, sexy, glamorous, whatever word you want to use. Nothing is more incredible than the public's reaction to McGovern.

Nixon and Kennedy agreed to precede state conventions and at the end of the week, McGovern was at the top of the ticket in all but one state. McGovern's lead was greatest in California, where McGovern was ahead 72 to 20 percent.
