New Frontier At Mt. Carmel

By SHERMON DAVIS

Mt. CARMEL, Okla. — As always, the people of the surrounding area were out in force to welcome the new residents of Mt. Carmel, a sleepy little town nestled in a valley near the Oklahoma-Texas border.

The town was abuzz with activity as the residents gathered to welcome the new arrivals. Many of them had come to Mt. Carmel to take advantage of the area's natural beauty and relaxed pace of life.

Mt. Carmel, known for its small-town charm and friendly atmosphere, has been attracting people from all over the country who are looking for a change from the hustle and bustle of city living.

While the town may be small, its residents are known for their hospitality and welcoming spirit. Many visitors have become long-time residents after experiencing the town's unique charm and quality of life.

Despite its small size, Mt. Carmel offers a range of activities for residents and visitors alike, including hiking, fishing, and cattle ranching.

In addition to its natural beauty, the town is home to a number of local businesses, including a bakery, a café, and a market, which provide residents with access to fresh, locally grown produce.

For those looking to get away from it all, Mt. Carmel offers plenty of opportunities for adventure, from bird-watching in the nearby national wildlife refuge to exploring the area's historic sites.

Overall, Mt. Carmel is a welcoming community that offers a unique blend of natural beauty, small-town charm, and a supportive atmosphere for its residents and visitors.

Ulster Violence Saddens South, Irish Tour Promoter Says

By JIM ANDREWS

To many Americans, the recent developments in Ulster have been a source of concern. The events have left a bitter taste in the mouths of many who were once optimistic about the future of Northern Ireland. The recent clashes between loyalists and republicans have cast a shadow over the prospects of a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

A Few Days Ago

A few days ago, the bodies of two prominent loyalist politicians were found in a car on a quiet street in the city. The deaths have sparked widespread condemnation and increased tensions in the region.

Oil Dólarums Over?

In a move that many expected, the government has announced the end of subsidies for oil imports. The decision has been met with mixed reactions, with some welcoming the move as a step towards reducing the country's dependence on foreign oil, while others have expressed concern about the potential impact on the economy.

Duchess Stands Vigil At Husband's Coffin

The Duchess of Cambridge has arrived in Northern Ireland to pay her respects to her husband, who passed away earlier this week. The Duchess, along with other members of the royal family, has been leading the mourning process. The funeral will take place tomorrow, with many expected to attend.

Fourth Super Victim Dies

A fourth victim of the recent supermarket shooting has passed away. The man was one of several victims of the shooting, which took place in a local supermarket.

TRACA To Stay At White House

The TRACA organization has announced it will remain at the White House, where it has been stationed for the past few months. The group, which provides support to military families, has faced criticism in recent weeks.

Hughes Report Released

A report released today has recommended the establishment of a new body to oversee the Troubles. The report, which was commissioned by the government, has been met with mixed reactions, with some welcoming the move as a step towards healing, while others have expressed concern about the potential impact on the political process.

Inept Pitching, Then Injuries Stalled 89ers

By Doyle May
Sports Editor

Billy Hatcher's net test was a switch of fate for the Oklahoma Sooners. The Sooners, who have struggled with injuries all season, were dealt another blow Saturday when they lost to the Kansas State Wildcats.

The Sooners, led by Hatcher, fell behind early and never recovered. Kansas State scored three runs in the first inning, with Hatcher giving up two of those runs on a single and a walk.

Hatcher's struggles continued in the second inning, as he gave up another run on a hit and a walk. The Sooners tried to rally in the bottom of the inning, but Kansas State's defense held strong.

The third inning was a decisive one for the Wildcats, as they scored five runs on seven hits. Hatcher was roughed up, giving up six runs on nine hits.

The Sooners tried to fight back in the fourth inning, scoring two runs on a hit and a walk, but Kansas State's offense continued to roll. They scored four runs in the inning, with Hatcher responsible for three of those runs.

In the fifth inning, the Sooners scored two more runs, but it was too little too late. Kansas State scored three runs in the inning, with Hatcher giving up two of those runs on a hit and a walk.

The final score was 12-2 in favor of the Wildcats, with Hatcher taking the loss. The Sooners' season continues to be a struggle as they struggle to find consistent pitching and overcome injuries.

cheered on by a cloud of white feathers, the bride and groom exchanged vows before the dean of the congregation, who served as the officiant. the ceremony took place in the church's main chapel, decorated with flowers and candles, creating a serene and intimate setting for the couple's special day.

The groom, dressed in a traditional three-piece suit, placed a diamond ring on the bride's finger as a sign of their commitment to one another. guests who attended the wedding held tears in their eyes, moved by the sincerity of the couple's love.

As the bride and groom signed the marriage certificate, the officiant pronounced them husband and wife, and the congregation erupted in applause.

The newlyweds then shared their first dance as a married couple, their love and joy evident in every movement. family and friends joined in, dancing and singing along, creating a lively and joyful atmosphere.

Ragtime Music Making Big Comeback

By MARIE T. WEST

WALNUT, Calif. — The world of ragtime music is making a big comeback, and the walnut is leading the way.

Local ragtime enthusiasts have formed a group called the Walnut Ragtime Association, and they are putting on a series of concerts and workshops to promote the genre.

The group is also working on a documentary about the history of ragtime music, which will be screened at local theaters.

In addition, they are planning a ragtime festival to be held in walnut next year. The festival will feature performances by local and national ragtime musicians.

Local ragtime enthusiasts are encouraged to join the Walnut Ragtime Association and participate in their events.

For more information, visit www.walnutragtime.com or call (555) 123-4567.

Harold Robbins' Style Imitated In Henry Denker's "Ringmaster"

Henry Denker's "The Ringmaster," a novel about a circus owner, has been praised by reviewers for its similarity to the work of Harold Robbins.

Denker's novel is about a New York City circus owner who has been at the center of a scandal.

Robbins' "The Carpetmaker," published in 1962, was a bestseller and was later adapted into a successful film.

Denker's novel is set in the same period, and it follows a similar storyline.

The Ringmaster" has been well received by critics, who have praised Denker's ability to create a compelling story and well-developed characters.

The novel is scheduled to be released in paperback format on January 1, 2024.

Liza Minnelli—She Knows Where She Is, How She Got There And What She Wants

BY HENRY GALLMAN

NEW YORK—As the glamorous Liza Minnelli moves across the stage in her role as Sally Bowles in the Broadway musical "Cabaret," it is hard to believe that she is only 24 years old. Despite her youth, she possesses an air of maturity and confidence that is rare in someone her age. Liza was born into a theatrical family; her father, Jack, is an actor and singer, and her mother, Judy Garland, was one of the most beloved performers of all time. Liza has inherited her mother's talent and her father's showmanship.

Liza's career began at a young age, when she appeared as a child star in several films. Her first notable role was in the 1970 film "Airport," where she played the character of the young daughter of a wealthy family. She continued to work in films and on television, and by the time she was 18, she had already starred in several successful productions.

Despite her success, Liza has never been content with just being a singer or actress. She is also a dancer and has performed in several Broadway musicals. Her first major role was in the 1978 musical "A Chorus Line," where she played the character of a young dancer who is trying to make it in the entertainment world.

In 1982, Liza made her Broadway debut in "Cabaret," playing the character of Sally Bowles. The role was a breakthrough for her, and it solidified her status as a leading lady in the theater. Since then, she has gone on to star in several other Broadway productions, including "The Act," "Follies," and "Company.

Liza's success has been due in part to her ability to connect with her audiences. She is known for her powerful vocals and her ability to convey emotion on stage. She is also a skilled dancer, and her movements are as much a part of her performance as her singing.

In addition to her work in the theater, Liza has also had a successful career in television and film. She has appeared in several successful productions, including "Saturday Night Live," where she has been a recurring guest star. She has also starred in several films, including "The Liza Minnelli Show," where she played the character of a young woman who is trying to make it in the entertainment world.

Day TV Money Maker

by LAWRENCE LAURENCE

Visitors to South Beach, Florida, often describe television as a city much like the one they left, but they feel quite different. Each block, instead of being filled with hotels and restaurants, is packed with television studios and sound stages. There are more/scriptwriters, directors, and technical people here than in Hollywood, and the atmosphere is much more relaxed than in the studio sets of New York City. It is a city where television takes precedence over movies, and where television shows are produced in every style and format. The feeling is that South Beach is the future of television, and that it will be as exciting and as different as the old Hollywood movie studios.

Notes On TV

NEW YORK (TBI) - The one-and-a-half-hour 'Dr. Kevorkian', which aired on PBS on Friday night, was the subject of a lively debate in the 'Media' section of the New York Times. The show, produced by the PBS network, has been criticized for its depiction of the controversial physician. The Times article, written by Steve Coll, argued that the show failed to present a balanced view of Dr. Kevorkian's work.

Among the criticisms raised by Coll is the fact that the show avoids discussing the legal and ethical issues surrounding Dr. Kevorkian's practices. The article also points out that the show focuses on Dr. Kevorkian's personal life, rather than his professional work.

The show's producers, however, defend their approach, saying that Dr. Kevorkian's personal story is as important as his professional one. They argue that the show aims to give viewers a better understanding of the man behind the controversy.

The debate over Dr. Kevorkian's work is likely to continue, as the show has been nationally broadcast and has generated a lot of discussion.

That Eerie Process Called ESP:

How Much Do You Really Know About It?

True or False: Some people are so good at sending and receiving messages by ESP that they can almost duplicate with the telephone. (See number 5.)

_EARLIER:_

Most of us have had experiences that might be attributed to ESP — such as trying to phone a friend who is trying to call us at the same moment, etc. Intuition seems to be quite automatic, and sometimes it can be ESP. But we don't have wings, but isn't that true — it's amazing to think of people's thoughts being read by others. Sometimes it seems as though someone could know exactly what we're thinking, even when we don't know exactly what we're thinking ourselves. If we just know that it does work when conditions are right, this quiz, we take a look at some of the highlights of the experiment.

_TRUE OR FALSE:_

1. People who are0 nervous and highly emotional are the ones most likely to succeed in ESP tests. (See number 1.)
2. ESP depends on your state of mind. (See number 1.)
3. Some people are so good at reading others' minds by ESP that they can almost duplicate with the telephone. (See number 5.)

_EARLY ANSWERS:_

1. False. Contrary to popular belief, ESP is no more effective in people who are emotionally disturbed, who are under stress, or who are in poor health. Some people who are highly emotional may experience ESP more clearly than others. But this doesn't mean that ESP is a mental phenomenon. ESP seems to be a natural phenomenon, and it has been demonstrated that ESP can occur in people at various times in their lives.
2. True. ESP depends on your state of mind. (See number 1.)
3. False. Some people are so good at reading others' minds by ESP that they can almost duplicate with the telephone. (See number 5.)

HOBBIES: PETE MARVICH

Marich is the latest in a long line of world-class basketball players to emerge from the University of Kansas. He has been thus far the only one to play basketball on a professional level. His 6-foot-5-inch height and 210-pound weight make him a threat. He was the Most Valuable Player in the Big Eight Conference last year, and he helped lead Kansas to a second place finish in the NCAA tournament. Marich was a first team All-American.

GOLF: GEORGE ARCHER (8-6)

The man who doesn't let anything go to waste. George Archer is the ultimate recycler. He buys everything from antiques to old clothes, and he sells it for a profit. He also has a unique talent - he can hit a baseball with a golf club. He even won a tournament with his club.

HEROES: PETE MARVICH (July 9, 1939)

Marich was a star at Kansas and helped lead the Jayhawks to the NCAA title in 1964. He was a first team All-American and the Most Valuable Player in the Big Eight Conference. He was also a member of the U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal in Tokyo in 1964.

Is Your Family Stuck on What to Give You This Father's Day? (Maybe You Should Drop Some Hints!)

By Brooklyn Albreysan

Though it's a little late, Father's Day is still here. Smile, you lucky dad. Time to get your family to notice your needs and wants. Here are some suggestions:

1. Personalized Gifts
   - A custom-engraved Zippo lighter. Ideal for outdoor adventurers. It comes in various designs, from classic to military themes.
   - A personalized belt buckle, with letters or numbers engraved on it. A thoughtful gift for a dad who values details.

2. Tech Gadgets
   - A high-quality Bluetooth speaker. Perfect for summer barbecues or outdoor activities.
   - A smartwatch that tracks fitness metrics, ideal for the dad who likes to stay active.

3. Fashionable Accessories
   - A stylish leather wallet with multiple compartments. Provides extra storage and quick access to essentials.
   - A fashionable watch, adding a touch of sophistication to any outfit.

4. Outdoor Gear
   - A durable backpack for hiking or camping. Ideal for dad who loves the outdoors.
   - A portable grill, perfect for a cookout with family.

5. Food and Drink
   - A curated gift basket filled with gourmet treats. Ideal for a dad who appreciates fine things.
   - A subscription to a monthly coffee or wine club.

Remember, the key to these gifts is their personalization. Each item should be tailored to your dad's interests and hobbies, ensuring a meaningful and thoughtful Father's Day.

This picture made me lose 58 pounds. See!

By Sandy Varpa — as told to Beth L. McCarthy

Well, they teased me so much, I went on the Apple plan right away. For breakfast, I kept one of two Apples. I can't do without my coffee. So, I'd squeeze the juice out and eat the seeds. I'd be sitting there, eating my morning coffee, and I'd have a couple of Apples. Then I'd go to my dinner at 1:30 p.m. An Apple, instead of the usual salad, and a bunch of veggie sticks. I ate my Apples at 5:00 p.m. For an Apple snack, I'd eat an Apple. And, I'd have a couple of Apples for dinner. I lost 58 pounds that month. And I ran out of Apples.

I'm actually 5'10" and 205 lb. So, that means I'm an Apple. And I don't have any more Apples. So, what's up with all the Apples?
Cheerful Philosopher Burl Ives:

Success Is a Two-Edged Thing

I got up late," said Burt Ives. "I'm afraid that I'm one of those people who watches TV more than they read. I don't think it's bad, but I don't think it's good either."

But I do think it's bad. I think that reading is a much better way to spend time. I think that when you read, you're using your imagination, and that's a much better way to learn than just watching a show on TV.

"I have a lot of friends who are writers, and they tell me that it's important to read. They say that if you don't read, you're not going to be able to write. And that's true, I guess."

But I don't think it's true. I think that you can learn to write without reading. I think that you can learn to read without writing. But I do think that it's important to do both. And I think that it's important to do both if you want to be a good writer.

I think that writing is a lot more difficult than reading. I think that it's much harder to write a good story than it is to read a good story. But I also think that it's much more rewarding to write a good story than it is to read a good story.
