Americon Fathers Quits Born In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) - German wife of an American radio talk show host was shot and killed today in her home in the town of Krefeld, near Dusseldorf.

According to police, the husband said he was returning home from work when he heard a shot from his home. He said he found his wife lying on the floor with a bullet wound to the head.

The husband told police that he had tried to save his wife but was unsuccessful. He said he called emergency services and they arrived on the scene shortly after.

The wife, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, 42, and her husband, 45, were reported to have been in the house when the shooting occurred. Police said the husband told them he had been working at the radio station and had returned home to find his wife dead.

Police said they were investigating the shooting and had not ruled out any possible motive at this time. They said they were also looking into the possibility of a murder-suicide.

The shooting occurred in the town of Krefeld, which is located about 10 miles west of Dusseldorf. It is a town with a population of about 50,000 people.

The husband, who is also a radio talk show host, said he was shocked by the shooting and was having difficulty accepting the news.

The values are here every day.
Why a $2,000 Volkswagen costs a lot less than any other $2,000 car.

Listen to the logic. Give or take a few dollars, most new economy cars are priced just about the same these days.

Around $2,000.
But when you sell, a weird thing happens. Some are worth more than you bought them for.
And based on what has happened in the past, after 3 or 4 years, nobody is worth more money than the car you bought.

The Volkswagen Beetle.
So the real price you pay for any car is the difference between what you pay now and what you get back when you sell.

Anyway, take a good look at the chart on the right. It gives an idea of the average value of a selection of some famous 1969 Economy cars, based on prices they were sold for by Used Car Dealers in Jan. 1972.

Top Of TV

The two top left pictures show how not only do television programs present a programming problem to local stations, but the cost of acquiring them is also a problem. The station must pay a large amount of money to acquire the programs, and then it must advertise them to attract viewers.

Bragging on what it is doing is not enough. The station must advertise its programs selectively to attract viewers, and then it must keep them tuned in.

Compromise Worked Out In Michigan

WASHINGTON - Vice President Hubert Humphrey today said he would not support the nomination of Judge John E.hrman for the Supreme Court, ending the deadlock in the Senate and paving the way for a compromise to be worked out.

Humphrey, who had been one of the leaders of the Senate's liberal wing, said he would support a compromise that would allow President Kennedy to make a judicial appointment without a filibuster. The compromise would likely involve the nomination of a new judge to replace Justice Abe Fortas, who left the court last year.

Humphrey's announcement ended months of gridlock in the Senate, where a narrow majority of Democratic senators had been blocking the nomination of a conservative judge nominated by Kennedy. The compromise, which had been worked out by Senate leaders, would allow Kennedy to make a second nomination without a filibuster.

The move was seen as a major victory for Kennedy, who has been trying to improve his standing in Congress and solidify his support for his domestic agenda.

2 Alabama Challenges Ruled Out

ALABAMA - Two Alabama challenges to the Democratic Party's rules for selecting delegates to the national convention were ruled out today.

The first challenge, filed by the Alabama Democratic Executive Committee, sought to change the rules for selecting delegates to the convention. The second challenge, filed by the Alabama State Democratic Committee, sought to change the rules for selecting delegates to the state convention.

Both challenges were rejected by the Democratic National Committee, which has final say over the rules for selecting delegates to the national convention.
