50 years ago...a small country dry goods store opened in Cushing, Oklahoma. Today, the store has expanded to a nation-wide chain of modern, top quality department stores.

Challenge, Growth and Progress! These are the foundations on which C.S. Anthony has built its reputation of superior products and fine customer service. And it is these same principles, exhibited by C.S. Anthony for "fifty years" that today, guarantee outstanding value at the lowest possible price, and guarantee complete satisfaction on every purchase.

"We've learned a lot in 50 years, and we're a lot bigger, but we've also learned that people still like the quality at C.S. Anthony still being just as good...as we are the best place to do business. We are the best place to do business. We are the best place to do business."

Improvements Made In City's Public Housing

The Oklahoma Journal, Wednesday, June 23, 1977

By J. D. DUNN

The City of Oklahoma City has made some improvements in its public housing projects. Among the improvements are new windows, doors, and insulation in the buildings. The projects are located throughout the city, and the improvements are expected to increase the safety and comfort of the residents.

Other improvements include the installation of new plumbing, electrical systems, and heating and cooling systems. The projects are managed by the Oklahoma Housing Authority, which is responsible for ensuring the safety and security of the residents.

The improvements are part of a larger effort to revitalize the city's public housing projects. The Oklahoma Housing Authority is working with local officials to improve the quality of life for residents in these projects.

The improvements are expected to provide a safer and more comfortable living environment for the residents. The Oklahoma Housing Authority is committed to ensuring that all residents have access to quality housing.

Port Of Catoosa’s First Year A Busy One

In 1975, the Port of Catoosa was opened as a new shipping outlet in Oklahoma. This was a significant milestone for the region, as it provided a vital connection between the inland areas and the rest of the United States.

The port was constructed to handle a variety of cargo types, including agricultural products, coal, and other commodities. It quickly became a hub for the transportation of goods between the continental United States and the Gulf Coast.

The early years were marked by steady growth, with the port expanding its facilities and increasing its handling capacity. By 1980, the Port of Catoosa had established itself as a major player in the American transportation network.

Today, the port continues to be an important economic driver for the region, providing jobs and opportunities for local residents. Its success is a testament to the foresight of those who invested in its development and the hard work of the people who operate it.

As Oklahoma changes... So do we!

Located in the heart of Oklahoma, the Port of Catoosa is committed to serving its community and the nation. We are dedicated to providing high-quality services and equipment to meet the needs of our customers.

Our facilities are designed to handle a wide range of cargo types, ensuring that we can meet the diverse needs of our clients. We are constantly evolving and improving our operations to stay ahead of the curve.

At the Port of Catoosa, we are proud to be a part of the American transportation network. We are committed to providing a safe, efficient, and reliable service that meets the needs of our customers and contributes to the growth of the economy.

We are excited about the future of the Port of Catoosa and look forward to continuing to serve our community and the nation for many years to come.
Waterway Still Far In Future For Central Oklahoma

In making final plans for the possible development of a waterway from Lake Texoma to the Arkansas River, public officials in Oklahoma are considering the economic and environmental impacts. The proposed route would involve the construction of a dam and several locks to facilitate navigation. The project is estimated to cost several billion dollars and would require significant environmental assessments.

Western Electric City Works Adds 2 New Product Lines

Western Electric, a leading manufacturer of telecommunications equipment, has announced the addition of two new product lines to its portfolio. The new products, a range of cloud-based services and a line of fiber-optic networking equipment, are designed to meet the increasing demand for high-speed connectivity and cloud-based solutions.

Get cooler, Sooner! Welcome Westinghouse Air Conditioning To Oklahoma

Westinghouse Air Conditioning has opened a new facility in Oklahoma, which will serve as a production and distribution center for its air conditioning products. The company has invested millions of dollars in the new facility, which will create hundreds of new jobs in the region.

Black Officer Need’s Cited

The story of a black officer who faced discrimination in the military has been cited as a reminder of the ongoing challenges faced by minority service members. The officer, who served during the Vietnam War, was denied promotion based on allegations of racial bias, despite his exemplary performance.

Public School Financing Complicated Issue

The issue of public school financing continues to be a complex and contentious topic. States are exploring various options, including increased property taxes, corporate income taxes, and sales taxes, to provide adequate funding for education. The goal is to ensure that all students have access to high-quality education regardless of the zip code they live in.

At 77, City's Symphony Conductor Still Maintains His Enthusiasm

"I didn't suffer me in the best. People all greatest voices. Know I have been famous."

TO TASTE DOVER

The Prosecution: "I'm sorry, Sir. May I ask you what your name is?"

The Defense: "Yes, your honor. My name is Harrison."

The Prosecution: "And what is your occupation, Mr. Harrison?"

The Defense: "I am a conductor of the City Symphony."
Cary Grant Still Alive And Well At 63

Cary Grant

In a recent interview with the New York Times, Cary Grant, the actor who made a comeback as a writer and director of television shows, said he was feeling "in fine form" and that he had "managed to keep fit and healthy."

"I feel great," Grant said. "I've been doing a lot of reading and writing, and I've been taking care of myself. I've been eating well and exercising regularly. I've been working hard on my new show and I'm really excited about it."

Grant, who is known for his roles in classic films such as "North by Northwest," "To Catch a Thief," and "Charade," said he was looking forward to his upcoming projects.

"I've got a lot of work lined up," he said. "I've got a movie coming out next year and a couple of TV shows. I'm really excited about all of it."

The Rock Impresario Hard As A Rock

He is Murray Goodman. He is the rock impresario of New York City's hottest clubs. He’s the man who brought the Rolling Stones to the Whisky a Go Go, the man who booked the Velvet Underground in London, the man who invented the concept of the rock concert.

The name Murray Goodman, however, is not synonymous with rock. His career has been as varied as his talent. He started out as a record producer in the late 60s, working with artists like the Velvet Underground and the Stooges. He then moved on to become a manager, working with such acts as the Rolling Stones and the Kinks. In the 70s, he turned his attention to film, producing such movies as "The Warriors" and "The Warriors: The Battle of the Bands.

Murray's latest project is a new record label, which he hopes will help to bring back the spirit of the 70s. He believes that the 70s was a time of great musical innovation, and that the world needs more of that kind of creativity today.

Murray Goodman is a true Rock Impresario. He has been at the forefront of the music industry for over 40 years, and his influence can be heard in the music of countless bands and artists. He is a true rock impresario, and his legacy will continue to inspire future generations of music lovers.

French Cruise Ship Caters To Fantasies Of A Fading Era

A board of the new super-luxury French cruise ship "France" now being built for the Cunard Line in British shipyards. The 954-ton ship will carry 520 passengers, be 363 feet long, and sail the Mediterranean and other South European ports. The ship is expected to cost $15,000,000. This is the first French passenger ship ever built outside of France. However, even with the fast improvement in French shipbuilding, the "France" will not be the first French passenger ship built in the United States. Oklahoma City Public Schools on Wednesday announced a plan to delay the start of classes in order to combat a new virus that is spreading across the state. The delay was due to the virus, which has been identified as a new strain of the flu, and is starting to show symptoms in Oklahoma City.

The virus was first identified in the state's capital, Oklahoma City, and has been spreading rapidly. The Oklahoma City Public Schools district is one of the largest school districts in the state, and officials say they are taking steps to prevent the virus from spreading further.

The school district has already implemented a number of measures to prevent the spread of the virus. Students and staff are required to wear masks, and buildings are being sanitized regularly. The district has also set up a hotline for parents to call if they have concerns about the virus.

The virus has not been identified as a new strain of the flu, but officials say it is similar to the flu. Symptoms include fever, cough, and fatigue. The virus is highly contagious, and can spread from person to person through coughing, sneezing, or direct contact.

The Oklahoma City Public Schools district has more than 100,000 students and 10,000 staff members. The district has already announced that it will close schools on Friday, March 13, in order to prevent the spread of the virus.

At the core of the district's plan is the idea of delaying the start of classes in order to give students and staff more time to prepare. Officials say they are working with state health officials to ensure that the delay is the best possible decision for the students and staff.

The Oklahoma City Public Schools district has also set up a website where parents and students can find updates about the virus. The website includes information about how to prevent the spread of the virus, as well as links to more information about the virus and its symptoms.

The district has also set up a hotline for parents to call if they have concerns about the virus. The hotline is open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and can be reached by calling 405-235-9300.

Overall, the Oklahoma City Public Schools district is taking a proactive approach to preventing the spread of the virus. Officials say they are working closely with state officials and will continue to monitor the situation closely.

Prototype Automobiles Concentrate On Safety

By ANY SPERANDO

Three prototype automobile manufacturers, all with the same purpose, are testing their cars this summer to see how well they perform on the nation's roads. Their cars are the safety car of the future, and it is not too soon to consider them a part of the face of the nation's auto industry. The first prototype, the Nissan Skyline, has been in production for four years and is now the best-selling car in the world. The second prototype, the Vauxhall Viva, has been in production for two years and is now the second-best-selling car in the world. The third prototype, the Toyota Land Cruiser, has been in production for three years and is now the third-best-selling car in the world. All three prototypes have been designed with the safety of the driver and passengers in mind.

DR. HOBBS: Noted Baptist Minister Gives Views As He Nears Retirement In January

By ANY SPERANDO

Dr. Robert E. Hobbs, noted Baptist minister, has announced that he will retire from active ministry in January. Dr. Hobbs has served as pastor of First Baptist Church of Dallas, Texas, and has been a key figure in the Southern Baptist Convention. In his first 20 years of ministry, Dr. Hobbs has been involved in numerous civic and religious organizations, and has been a strong advocate for social justice and moral values.

In an interview, Dr. Hobbs said, "I have been very fortunate to have had the opportunity to serve in the ministry for so many years. I have enjoyed the challenges of leadership and the joy of knowing that I have made a difference in the lives of many people."

When asked about his future plans, Dr. Hobbs said, "I am looking forward to some time away from the demands of ministry. I plan to travel, write, and spend time with my family."

Dr. Hobbs has been married to his wife, Mrs. Hobbs, for 30 years, and they have three children. He is a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and the University of Texas at Austin.

Dr. Hobbs' retirement will mark the end of a long and successful career in the ministry. He has served as pastor of several churches in Texas and has been a strong voice for social justice and moral values.

Dr. Hobbs' legacy will continue to be felt in the lives of those he has served. He has been a true leader in the Baptist community, and his influence will be remembered for many years to come.

Spencer Takes Steps In Providing Services

The City of Spencer has adopted a new six-month plan to provide more services to its residents. The plan includes the construction of a new community center and the expansion of the police department. The city has also announced plans to increase its park and recreation facilities.

Shawnee Moves Into New City Hall

Housed in a new six-month plan, construction of the new downtown office building has begun. The building will provide increased space for city hall operations and will feature modern amenities.

Construction is well underway on new facilities in the downtown area. A new police station is scheduled for completion in the fall.

For more information on the city's new projects, contact the City Hall at 555-1234.
