Air Conditioners Work By Degrees

SYNLINES

Air conditioning, in its simplest form, is the process of removing heat from an enclosed space to create a cooler environment. This can be done through various means, such as the use of air conditioners. Air conditioners work by drawing in warm air, cooling it, and then circulating it back into the room. This process helps to maintain a comfortable temperature in the room. The efficiency of air conditioners can vary depending on the model and the conditions in which they are used. Overall, air conditioning systems are designed to provide a comfortable indoor environment by regulating temperature and humidity levels.

HAIL SALE

Much of our inventory of new 1972 Dodge Cars & Trucks, plus our Used Car & Truck stock was hit by the recent hail storm downtown. The Insurance Adjustors are here now and we are in the process of computing the loss on each vehicle.

Each car & truck will be reduced in price by the amount of the insurance settlement PLUS a further substantial discount to move them out without delay.

A fresh stock of new cars & trucks has already been ordered from the factory so these hail-damaged units must be sold at once. Dealers welcome.

France Tests Atomic Bomb

France announced today that it had successfully tested an atomic bomb. The test was conducted in the desert of Algeria, near the town of Argel. The device produced a radioactive cloud that was visible for miles around. This development has raised concerns about the proliferation of nuclear weapons.

Pope John Paul II was also mentioned in the World Briefs section. He made a historic visit to the Holy Land, where he was able to meet with leaders from Israel and Palestine. His trip was seen as a significant step towards peace in the region.

Tinker Workers To Retire

Many workers at Tinker Air Force Base will retire in June, ending a long career with the government. This is the second big retirement wave at Tinker, the other coming when the Los Angeles Air Force Base was closed in 1956.

The employees leaving include more than 2,000 primarily in the supervisory, maintenance, and administrative areas. About 600 of the retirees are eligible for early retirement, 250 of them have been in the Tinker area for 40 or more years, and 30 have been there for 50 years or more.

The employees are scheduled to leave on June 30 and the retirement party will be on Thursday, June 18, at the Oklahoma City Civic Center. This marks the first time in 50 years that Tinker has had 2,000 retirees.

Among the retirees is Joe Thomas, who has been at Tinker 34 years. He has been a chemical technician for 26 years and was recently elected to the board of directors of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce. Other retirees include Bob Hoagland, who has been at Tinker 32 years and is a member of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce board of directors; and Frank Davis, who has been at Tinker 33 years and is a member of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

During his time at Tinker, Thomas has had a variety of jobs, including working in a variety of maintenance areas, such as aircraft maintenance, electronics, and computer systems. He has also been involved in the development of a number of new aircraft, including the F-16 Fighting Falcon and the F-22 Raptor.

Among the retirees is Robert C. Davis, who has been at Tinker 33 years and is a member of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Davis has been involved in the development of a number of new aircraft, including the F-16 Fighting Falcon and the F-22 Raptor.
Adventure in 'Only Way Home' Described As 'Love Trip'

By Bob Adams Snout

The love story of a Tauridian and a human has been told in several books and movies, but this one is a little different. The Tauridian, a native of the planet Tauron, has been stranded on Earth for 20 years, and the human woman he loves has been searching for him. The Tauridian, named Odi, has been hiding in a cave near a small town in Oklahoma, and the woman, named Sarah, has been searching for him in the United States. The two finally meet in a small town, and Odi takes Sarah to his home planet.

OSU Days To Be Held Family Use Of Fireworks Slapped

Last week, the Oklahoma State University lost its annual Family Day celebration due to the state's ban on the use of fireworks. The university had planned to have a fireworks display on the campus and a family day event, but the state's ban on the use of fireworks forced the university to cancel the event. The university has been planning to have a fireworks display on the campus for several years, but the state's ban on the use of fireworks has prevented the university from having the event.

75 Hurt In State Last Year

Last year, 75 people were injured in the state, according to the Oklahoma Department of Public Safety. The majority of the injuries were the result of car accidents, but there were also several injuries from falls and other accidents. The state's Department of Public Safety is working to reduce the number of injuries by encouraging people to wear seat belts and to drive safely.

Germ Lurk In Baskets For Picnic

If you are planning to have a picnic, be sure to check your baskets for any germs that may be lurking. Germs can be found in a variety of places, including in the air, on surfaces, and in the water. It is important to wash your hands before and after handling food to help prevent the spread of germs. It is also important to store food in a cool place to help keep it fresh.

Long Drought Causes Tomato Rot

The long, dry summer has taken its toll on the garden. The number of tomatoes harvested this year is down sharply. At the same time, the quality of the tomatoes is not as good as in previous years. The drought has caused the tomatoes to be smaller and less flavorful. It is recommended that gardeners use water conservation techniques to help their tomato plants survive the dry spell.

Society Presents Memorial Trophy

The Oklahoma Garden Club will be presenting the Memorial Trophy at their meeting this week. The Memorial Trophy is awarded to the member who has made the greatest contribution to the club during the year. This year, the trophy will be presented to Mrs. Jane Doe for her dedication and hard work in organizing the club's garden events.

Scouts Explore Ranch

In May afternoon

They drove Scouts, and each looked like the best from outside. The sun was warm and pleasant. They had just returned from the Vigilante Ranch on a week-long camping trip. The boys were tired and hungry, but they were happy to be back home. The Ranch, run by a group of volunteers, was a great place for Scouts to learn about nature and teamwork.

'Bang' Almost Gone From July 4 Celebrations

In future years, July 4 Independence Day may be no big deal in this region. After the belligerent firing of a celestially useless cannon in the air over Shasta and a Fourth of July bonfire in the parking lot of the Red Bud Food Market, for the first time in 10 years the Fourth of July is no longer the most important holiday of the year.

The day was uneventful, with the exception of a few overzealous fireworks that lit up the night sky. Instead of the usual fireworks display, residents of the area celebrated with a more subdued and environmentally friendly Independence Day.

The reduction in the number of fireworks has been attributed to the decrease in the number of people in the area, as many people have moved to the city for work or to escape the heat. The city has also implemented stricter regulations regarding the use of fireworks, which has further reduced the number of people using them.

This change in the city's Independence Day traditions has been met with mixed reactions. Some residents have expressed concern that the city is losing a part of its tradition, while others are pleased with the reduction in noise pollution and fire hazards.

Despite the change, the city is still planning for a future where Independence Day is no longer a major event. The city has already begun discussions about how to make the holiday more meaningful and less reliant on fireworks. The city hopes that this change will help to make Independence Day a more enjoyable and inclusive experience for all.
