6 Hurt In Maryland

INMATES HOLD PRISON GUARD

Burning, Gunfire Reported

JOHNSON, Md. - Inmate, including two guards, were injured today in an apparent uprising in the Puckett Unit of the Maryland State Penitentiary in this town. At least six officers were injured in the fray, which started shortly after 9 a.m. and lasted for about an hour.

Warden Ralph L. Williams said the guard was caught in an explosion from a bomb. Another inmate policeman was shot, but the bullet did not strike him.

"One inmate is reportedly missing and five others have been taken to hospitals," Williams said.

Glen's Still Country

BY STEVE ENNIS

Glen Campbell's single country hit is in the works. Campbell, who has been working on the recording of "Glen's Country" for the past two years, said he is working on a new album.

"I've been working on this for a long time," Campbell said. "I'm really excited about the new album."

The first VIP meeting to be held in Oklahoma City will be held today attended by a group of 200 people. The meeting will be held at the American Hotel, with dinner and entertainment. The meeting will be sponsored by the Oklahoma City CVB and the Convention and Visitors Bureau of Oklahoma City.

Among the attendees will be a group of VIPs from the National Association of Convention and Visitors Bureaus (NACVB). The meeting will provide an opportunity for the Oklahoma City CVB to network with other CVBs and learn about best practices in convention and visitors bureau management.

Man Keeps Fruit, Loses Dignity...

Customs Crush On At JFK

By JACOB LAMPE

The fruit lasted only one day, but the loss of dignity lasts a lifetime.

Sandra Lee (left) and her husband, Steve, lost their job after the fruit they brought to JFK airport was crushed by airport customs officials.

The couple was trying to bring in fruit to help their sick son, who has a rare disease.

Twin Towns Host Tourists

Opryland U.S.A. Opens Outside Nashville, Tenn.

By STEVE DAVICK

As I was saying . . .

It all started with an idea in 1967, and led to the creation of an idea that earned more than $300 million for its creator. Now, 20 years later, the dream has become a reality with the opening of Opryland U.S.A., a $300 million entertainment complex in Nashville, Tennessee.

The centerpiece of the complex is the Opryland Hotel, a 1,250-room hotel that features a man-made lake, a tropical paradise, and a series of themed restaurants and bars. The hotel is surrounded by a 50-acre entertainment village that includes a 1,250-seat theater, a 300-seat concert hall, and a 1,250-seat arena.

One of the most impressive features of Opryland U.S.A. is the Opryland Park, a 20-acre outdoor venue that includes a 1,250-seat amphitheater, a 300-seat concert hall, and a 1,250-seat arena. The park is also home to a 1,250-seat theater that features a variety of live entertainment, including music, dance, and comedy.

In addition to the Opryland Hotel and Opryland Park, the complex also includes a 1,250-seat convention center, a 1,250-seat exhibition hall, and a 1,250-seat arena. The convention center is the largest in the state of Tennessee, and can accommodate up to 1,250 people.

The Opryland U.S.A. complex is part of a $4 billion development project that includes the Opryland Hotel and Opryland Park, as well as a 1,250-seat theater, a 300-seat concert hall, and a 1,250-seat arena. The entire project is expected to create more than 1,250 jobs and generate more than $300 million in annual revenue.

The Opryland U.S.A. complex is located on a 20-acre site in downtown Nashville, Tennessee. The complex is easily accessible by car, with a car park on-site.

The Opryland U.S.A. complex is open 365 days a year, with a variety of events taking place throughout the year, including concerts, conventions, and trade shows.

For more information on Opryland U.S.A., visit the website at oprylandusa.com.

The Opening of Opryland U.S.A.

On June 1, 1981, Opryland U.S.A. opened its doors to the public, marking the beginning of a new era in entertainment. The complex featured a variety of attractions, including a man-made lake, a tropical paradise, and a series of themed restaurants and bars.

Marilyn Monroe: Rest In Peace

by Vernick Scott

Marilyn Monroe, the famous screen star, was found dead in her apartment on August 5, 1962. She was 36 years old. Monroe had been under a lot of pressure because of her marriage to Arthur Miller. She had been living in England at the time and was due to return to the U.S. on August 9. The cause of death is believed to be suicide by poison.

In 1962, Monroe was in England filming the movie "The Prince and the Showgirl." She had been married to Arthur Miller, the famous playwright, since 1956. Miller was in jail at the time, charged with contempt of Congress for refusing to testify about his supposed Communist affiliations. Monroe was not happy with her marriage and was planning to divorce Miller. She had been living in England for several months and was due to return to the U.S. on August 9.

Many people were shocked by Monroe's death. She was known for her beauty and her screen presence. She had been one of the most popular actresses of the 1950s and 1960s. Her death was a major event in Hollywood and around the world.

Egyptian Temples Still Under Water

by Gerlad Loughnan

In May, 1962, the Egyptian government, supported by a number of international experts, led by UNESCO, declared that the temples of Abu Simbel must be removed before the Aswan Dam would be built. The temples had been threatened by the rising waters of the new Aswan Reservoir. The project, called the Assuan High Dam, was a major engineering achievement of the time.

Abu Simbel, a group of ancient Egyptian temples located on the Nile River, was built in the 13th century B.C. by Pharaoh Ramesses II. The temples were threatened by the rising waters of the new reservoir, which would flood the temples and their surrounding area.

The project was a major engineering achievement of the time, and the ancient temples were moved to new locations using a combination of traditional and modern techniques. The temples were dismantled and reassembled in their new locations, preserving their ancient beauty.

Early Morning Sport

Palm Beach's Palm Beach Daily News: "The Impossible Years," a movie about the life of President Kennedy, is playing at 7:30 p.m. at the Playhouse Cinema. The movie is a historical drama about the Kennedy years, from his early years in the Senate to his presidency.

The movie is directed by John F. Kennedy's brother, Robert F. Kennedy, and stars Burt Lancaster as JFK. It is a story of love, tragedy, and loss, and is a tribute to the Kennedy family and their contributions to American history.

Endangered

The Nile River is home to a number of species of fish, including the Nile crocodile, that are threatened by the dam. The Nile is the longest river in the world, and its waters support a rich ecosystem of plants and animals. The crocodile is one of the most endangered species, and its population is declining due to habitat loss and hunting.

The Nile River is also home to a number of other species of fish, including the carp, that are threatened by the dam. The dam is a major threat to the fish population, as it alters the natural flow of the river and changes the water levels. This can affect the fish's ability to reproduce and survive.

Group Fights Economic Crisis

Actors Guild Forms 'Posse'

BURLINGTON (Iowa) - There is an economic crisis among actors throughout the United States and a group of actors has formed to help themselves into the theatre.

John Cusack, president of the Iowa Actors Guild, created an advisory council headed by Raymond Brain. The council began to discuss the growing trend of takeovers to cut the number of episodes in series among other things.

The council is comprised of Charles Horner, Glenn Potts, Betsy Kooh, Robert Hurst, and Roberta Morgan. The group is planning to meet regularly to discuss these issues.

Actress Has Serious Side

Lyric Theatre audiences may not realize it, but there is a serious side to Janice Cooper Miller, the actress who portrays Laura Linet on the hit TV show "The Waltons." Miller is a renowned stage actress who has performed in many Broadway productions.

Miller said she takes the role seriously but also enjoys the lighter moments of filming. She said she often has to balance the two aspects.

Authentically Western

Ralph Vaill, a master of the traditional cowboy lifestyle, will be the star of the upcoming Western film "The Trail." Vaill, who was raised on a ranch in the Black Hills, has been a popular figure in the cowboy community for years.

Vaill said he was excited to take on the role and hopes to bring a sense of authenticity to the film.

Prison Portrait

Ray Weller, a renowned artist from the state penitentiary of McAlester, will be displaying a series of "Self Portraits" of himself and others in the Oklahoma City Arts Council Building. The exhibit will continue through July in the Arts Council Building.

The Desi Arnaz Jr. film comes as a surprise to the fans of the legendary Desi Arnaz Sr. who has been absent from the limelight for some time. DESI ARNAZ JR., 31, the son of actor-comedian Desi Arnaz Sr., has signed a contract with Universal Pictures to appear in a film that will be released later this year. The film, titled "My Father's Son," will explore the life of Desi Arnaz Sr. and his influence on the entertainment industry.

Desi Arnaz Sr. had a successful career in Hollywood, first as a comedian and then as a television star. He was known for his roles in shows such as "I Love Lucy" and "The Man With a Horn." He was also a successful businessman, owning and managing the Desilu Studios, which produced many of his film and television projects.

Desi Arnaz Jr. has appeared in a few television shows and films, but this will be his first major role in a film since the untimely death of his father in 1986. The role of Desi Arnaz Sr. will be challenging, but the actor is up to the task. He has already shown his talent and dedication in his previous works.

The film "My Father's Son" will be directed by acclaimed director Steven Spielberg. The script is written by Academy Award-winning screenwriter lampooned for its humor.

Politics Head List On Best Gags Of Year

By EARL WILSON

New York: The American Gag Writer's Association has announced its list of the best gags of the year, with the category of "Politics" taking the top spot. The gag "The President's Inauguration Day Speech" by Leon Kovel, which aired on March 6, 2023, was voted as the best political gag of the year. The gag was a parody of the annual event, featuring President Joe Biden in a scenario where he was forced to deliver a speech to a crowd of assembled politicians.

Other notable gags in the "Politics" category include "The GOP Convention Speech" by Bob Saget, which aired on April 30, 2023, and "The Senate Impeachment Trial" by John Mulaney, which aired on May 15, 2023. These gags were praised for their humor and their ability to capture the political climate of the year.

The complete list of the best gags of the year can be found on the American Gag Writer's Association's website.

Ken Berry Finally Gets Song And Dance Show

By LAWRENCE LAURENCE

Ken Berry spent years as a successful cast member on "The Andy Griffith Show," but it wasn't until his recent performance in "The Andy Griffith Show" that he finally got his own song and dance show. The show, titled "Ken Berry: The Musical," opened last night to enthusiastic reviews.

The second season of the show is being held at a local theater in a neighboring town. Berry's fans have been eagerly awaiting this opportunity to see their favorite actor perform on stage. The show features a variety of classic songs from the 1950s and 1960s, as well as a few original compositions by Berry himself.

"I'm so excited to finally have my own show," Berry said during an interview. "I've always loved singing and dancing, and I've been looking forward to this for a long time."

The show is a hit with audiences, who are thrilled to see Berry's Somalia in addition to his acting skills. "Ken is such a natural performer," said one fan. "He has a great sense of humor and his dancing is really impressive."

The show runs through the end of the month, so fans of Berry will want to make sure to catch it while they can. Tickets are available online or at the theater box office.

Marlo Turns To Politics

BY ALLEN MACMAHON

"I'm not a musician but I do like to sing," said Marlo Thomas at a recent press conference. "I've always been interested in politics and I think it's time for me to give back to the community that has supported me for so many years."

Thomas, who is best known for her role in the TV show "That Girl," has decided to run for a local political office. She will be running as a candidate for the position of mayor in her hometown of New York City.

"I've always been involved in local politics," said Thomas. "I think it's important for people to get involved and make their voices heard."

Thomas is running as a Democrat and is expected to face stiff competition from a number of other candidates. However, her fans are excited to see her run for office and hope she wins.

"I love Marlo," said one fan. "She always gives back to the community and I think she would make a great mayor."

Thomas will be running in the upcoming election and will be campaigning heavily in the upcoming weeks. Fans are encouraged to vote for her and to support her campaign.

Ruth Buzzi Says She'll Return For Laugh In'

By JERRY PARKER

Laugh-In" fans rejoice! Miss Wayneaupunk, former TV comedy show star, recently announced that she will be back when the Rowan and Martin revue returns to NBC. In an interview with "The Eating Co.", Buzzi expressed her excitement about the show's return and revealed some behind-the-scenes secrets.

"I can't wait to get back to work," Buzzi said. "Rowan and Martin are like family to me, and I'm looking forward to spending time with them again.

But what made Buzzi decide to return to Laugh-In? "I think it's because I really miss the creative process," she explained. "Laugh-In is a show where you can really be yourself and have fun. It's a place where I can be silly and have a good time.

Buzzi also spoke about some of the challenges she faced while working on the show. "It was tough to keep up with the pace," she admitted. "But the writers were amazing, and I learned a lot from working with them.

Despite the challenges, Buzzi said she had a great time on Laugh-In. "I loved being part of a show that was so popular," she said. "It was a real thrill to see people laughing and enjoying themselves.

Buzzi's return to Laugh-In is just one of many exciting things happening in her life. She's also working on a new TV show and has recently released a book about her life in Hollywood.

For more information about Ruth Buzzi and her upcoming projects, check out "The Eating Co." online. You won't want to miss out on the latest news from one of America's funniest actresses.

CBS No Longer Finds Steinberg Objectionable

By LAWRENCE LARBITZ

WASHINGTON -- Just three years ago a masterpiece by Russian-born David Steinberg was branded "obscene and objectionable" by the head of the CBS television network. Now Steinberg is over 30 and set to be trundled by the network. He has a five-week run, beginning Thursday, July 19. Filming is complete and for "The Carol Burnett Show."

Steinberg was a central figure in 1968, a key player in theẩm to the network's "You Never Know," a show that featured Steinberg as a writer and director. The show ran for two years and was praised for its innovative style and its ability to bring in new talent. The network was obviously pleased with Steinberg's work, and he was tapped to write and direct for the network again in 1971. The show was called "The Carol Burnett Show," and it was a huge hit. Steinberg's work was widely praised, and he was awarded an Emmy Award for his writing on the show. He was also praised for his direction, and he was named director of the show in 1972.

Both Steinberg's work has been hotly debated. Some critics have praised his work, saying it was groundbreaking and innovative. Others have criticized it, saying it was too risqué and too liberal. Steinberg himself has always been proud of his work, saying it was never intended to be controversial. He has said that he simply wanted to create entertainment that was fun and enjoyable for all audiences. He has always been careful to avoid offending anyone, and he has always been willing to compromise if necessary. Steinberg's work has been a shining example of how television can be used to entertain and educate, and it has earned him the respect of his peers and his fans. He is a true master of his craft, and his work will continue to inspire and amuse for years to come.

The Shocking Mathematics of Parenthood:

A $98,000 Investment – Your First Child

By Robert Lawrence

Even if you’re not a parent, you’ve likely heard the statistics about the high costs of raising a child. But what about the actual numbers? Let’s break down the costs of raising a child from birth to age 18.

For most families, having a child will mean not only substituting one lifestyle for another, but also substituting one standard of living for another. This is because the cost of raising a child is significantly higher than the cost of maintaining a single-adult household.

Let’s assume a family with an income of $75,000 per year is considering having a child. The following costs will likely be incurred:

- Pregnancy: $5,000
- Delivery: $10,000
- Nursery: $10,000
- Child care: $24,000 per year
- Child’s education: $12,000 per year
- Medical expenses: $3,000 per year
- Clothing: $1,500 per year
- Toys: $500 per year
- Entertainment: $2,000 per year
- Transportation: $1,000 per year
- Miscellaneous: $2,500 per year

The total cost of raising a child from birth to age 18 is approximately $98,000. This does not include the cost of college, which is another significant expense. In fact, the cost of raising a child to age 18 will likely be much higher than $98,000, depending on the family’s lifestyle and the cost of living.

It’s important to note that these costs are only estimates and can vary significantly depending on the family’s circumstances. However, it’s clear that having a child is a major financial commitment that should not be undertaken lightly.

For those who are considering having a child, it’s important to carefully consider the financial implications. It’s also important to remember that the love and joy that being a parent brings are immeasurable.

If you have any questions or concerns about the costs of having a child, please don’t hesitate to contact us. We’re here to help you make the best decision for your family.

So You Think You Understand Children?

True or False:

1. Some children are brats. Because their parents want them to be.
   (See number 5.)

2. Some children are brats because they're brats.

3. Some children are brats because they're brats.

4. Some children are brats because they're brats.

5. Some children are brats because their parents want them to be.

6. Some children are brats because they're brats.

7. Some children are brats because they're brats.

8. Some children are brats because they're brats.

Answers:

1. True — according to the findings of a study of children's reactions to various forms of temptation, conducted by researchers at Southern Illinois University. The study showed that children who were exposed to temptation were more likely to engage in "obedient behavior" than the boys. There was no evidence to indicate that the girls who tempted the boys more, but they did it more because of their parents' requests.

2. False — although some of the kids who played alone had difficulties with each other, they still did make more of an effort to accommodate to each other.

3. False — although some of the kids who played alone had difficulties with each other, they still did make more of an effort to accommodate to each other.

4. True — psychological studies at the University of Florida tend to show that children are more likely to work well together than they can. A child's ability to share the materials, feelings and attitudes that lie behind another person's words is far more important than their words. He is quickier to see the need for cooperation, the need for understanding, and the need for sharing.

5. True — in order to understand children, it is important to know the children. The child is the one who determines what the child will become.

HOMEMADE JAM MADE EASY.

That's right. To put up a mouth-watering jam, jelly, or preserve, you don't have to put up an entire kitchen, boiling, stirring, and waiting questions that used to go along with it...

Take Strawberry Jam. Now all you need to make it are fresh, ripe strawberries, sugar, lemon juice, and a S&Co. 14 1/2-oz. half bottle which will help you make about 51 cups of jam. Just follow the quick and easy recipe you'll find with many others tucked behind every Carter label.

And all you do is crush the strawberries, mix everything, and stir for three minutes. You'll even have a dozen... Then put it in any tight-lidded food container, pint-size or smaller, and set it still in a cool place. Put it into the refrigerator, and that's that.

As fruitly and naturally-tasting homemade jam as ever...

And what you don't plan on serving within three weeks, you can freeze. What you have in mind is still have the same fresh-fruit flavor it had when you made it. Jam, without stewing up your home.

DONNA DE VARIANO

Women are good sports, too

The boys wouldn't let her play baseball, so Donna de Vario turned to swimming, and wound up with two Olympic Gold Medals and 18 world swimming records. "I was lucky," she tells us. "The school I went to in California encouraged girls in sports. But even swimming, I found schools wouldn't let girls in the state swim with boys. I think it's terrible that girls aren't allowed to compete in sports. There are no Little League for girls, and some girls really enjoy a good game of baseball. It's ridiculous! But I think we're getting a better attitude. More women are participating in sports, and there are more women sports commentators." (Including Donna, of course!)
