Nixon Sees Hard Battle

President Richard Nixon, in a speech to the National Catholic Congress in New York last week, declared that the battle for the nation's soul has been joined. This, he said, is not only a battle against communism, but against the forces of radicalism and anarchism. The battle, he said, is not only against external threats, but against internal decline.

Toward Betterment Of Youths

President Nixon also noted that the youth of America is facing a crisis. He said that the government must do more to educate young people about their responsibilities and duties to society. He called for a national curriculum that would instill in young people a sense of patriotism and commitment to their country.

Less A Threat This Way

A recently published report on the Soviet Union's nuclear capabilities indicates that the threat from the East may be less than previously thought. This is good news for the United States, which has been spending billions of dollars to develop its own nuclear arsenal.

State Editors Say

Not A Good Risk

As President

The state editors of The Oklahoma Journal have written that President Nixon's policies are not in the best interests of the country. They argue that his policies are too focused on foreign affairs and do not address the needs of the American people. They urge him to focus more on domestic issues such as education and healthcare.

Paul Harvey

Mail Service Bad

In a letter to the editor, Paul Harvey expressed his frustration with the mail delivery service. He said that he receives his mail two days late, which is unacceptable. He called on the postal service to improve its delivery times.

Billy Graham

Thought

In a letter to the editor, Billy Graham expressed his thoughts on the current political climate. He said that he is concerned about the divisiveness in our country and the lack of civility in political discourse. He called on the leaders of our country to work together for the common good.

The PEOPLE'S Voice

Chagrined

In a letter to the editor, a reader expressed his chagrin at the recent events in the Middle East. He said that the violence and destruction are unacceptable and called on the world community to take action to prevent further bloodshed.

Tom Broden

Nixon's Man Of The Sword

In a letter to the editor, Tom Broden praised President Nixon's decision to deploy American troops to Vietnam. He said that this was a necessary action to protect American interests and that the country will be safer as a result.

Probation Is Given Student

In a letter to the editor, a reader expressed his concern about the recent cases of students being given probation instead of being expelled. He said that this is a mistake and that students should face the consequences of their actions.

Vital Statistics

Finance Director On Way

In a letter to the editor, a reader expressed his support for the appointment of a new finance director. He said that this is a positive step towards improving the financial situation of the country.

Humanize Prisons, Panel Says

In a letter to the editor, a panel of experts called for the humanization of prisons. They said that the current system is inhumane and needs to be reformed. They called for more emphasis on rehabilitation and less on punishment.

School Board Votes Contract For Buses

In a letter to the editor, the school board expressed its support for the contract for buses. They said that this is necessary to improve the transportation system and that the School Board is working hard to ensure that all students have access to transportation.

Ensemble Steps Up Offensive On Hue

In a letter to the editor, a reader expressed his support for the offensive steps being taken to protect Hue. He said that the ensemble is working hard to protect the city and that the people of Hue should be proud of their efforts.
