He's Ready For Adoption!

The Oklahoma County Journal today begins its "adoption service" for the age of a senior citizen and will daily picture a dog ready to be taken home by a senior citizen. The ad will appear in the newspaper and the dog will be available for adoption at the S.P.C.A. shelter. The dog will be on hand at the shelter from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day. The adoption fee for the senior citizen is $5. The S.P.C.A. is located at 500 S. Hudson Ave., Oklahoma City.

Shriver Choice Draws Praise

Oklahoma Democratic Senator Robert S. Sargent Shriver, the former Peace Corps director, has been named by President Lyndon B. Johnson as his special assistant for the proposed Office of Economic Opportunity. Shriver is expected to be named by the President as the new Peace Corps director.

Muskie Rejects Offer

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senator Edmund Muskie, who was named by President Lyndon B. Johnson as special assistant to the President for the new Office of Economic Opportunity, has rejected the offer. Muskie, who has been a strong supporter of the President's domestic programs, said he would not accept the position.

City Killings, Ruling Linked

City law enforcement and governmental officials Saturday drew a swift and unanimous response to the recent decision of the Municipal Court of the City of Oklahoma City to dismiss the case of a man accused of murder. The decision was made after a hearing in which the defendant was found not guilty by a jury.

Viet Press Handled Tight Restrictions

PHOENIX — In an unprecedented effort to gain control over the press, the government is imposing strict restrictions on foreign correspondents working in the country. The restrictions include a ban on the use of cameras and microphones, and a requirement that all correspondents obtain special passes before entering the country.

Court OKs Halt In Trial Of Ellsberg

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The U.S. Supreme Court has granted a stay of execution in the case of Daniel Ellsberg, the former military analyst who leaked the Pentagon Papers to the New York Times. The court ruled that Ellsberg cannot be retried for the leak until the higher court has had a chance to consider the case.

How Took Hughes

How Took Hughes -- Nicknamed "The Hammer," the Oklahoma County Sheriff, is expected to make a dramatic comeback in the upcoming election. Hughes, who was indicted last year on charges of corruption, has been a fixture in the county for decades and is expected to win a third term.

How By Jonathan Herren

Analysis of the final vote count in the Oklahoma County Sheriff's race, which was won by Nick Hughes, shows that Hughes won a narrow margin of victory.

The election results show that Hughes won by a margin of 500 votes over his closest rival, John Smith. Hughes received 3,000 votes, while Smith received 2,500. The final tally was 3,500 for Hughes and 3,000 for Smith.

Hughes campaigned heavily on issues of law and order and his record as sheriff. Smith, on the other hand, focused on his experience in law enforcement and his commitment to community service.

Two Preview Showings Will Highlight Sunday Calendar

Susan Ashley Shows Art Center
A PREVIEW SHOW of eight new oil paintings and a graphic engraving by Leon Golub will be on exhibit at the Susan Ashley Shows Art Center, 418 Biltmore Way, from noon to 9 p.m. Saturday.

A preopening preview will be at 5 p.m. Sunday, with a reception to follow.

The exhibit, sponsored by the center and the Walter A. Reade Foundation, is a benefit for the renowned photographer Susan Ashley, who is facing a serious illness. The exhibition is the first of its kind in the center's history.

Vince Ayers, a well-known artist, will also be featured in the show, along with Golub's work. Ayers' paintings are currently on exhibit at the center, which is open daily, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Awards Ceremony at Anderson University
Awards will be presented to students who have won the annual Portrait Competition sponsored by the Anderson University Art Department and the Anderson Evening Post. The awards ceremony will be at the university's Davis Hall, Anderson, S.C., at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The recipients will be honored for their outstanding achievements in the field of art. The competition is open to all students enrolled at Anderson University, and the winners will be selected by a panel of judges.

Raquel Claims She's 'Puritanical'

"I'm rather practical," admitted Raquel Welch, who was thinking about her carpenter兼 the arrangement to support her last week. "To, basically, get a thing a to be in a theater, she suggested." "Elton City" was the first of 15 movies she has played in, but the two had some very interesting films that she has done with the public.

She is known to be a hit maker, so in the making of the two new films, "Elton City" and "America," Raquel will also be starring in about 15 minutes.

She has also been making a name for herself in other films, including "America," "Elton City," and "America."

Cover Story

"I've never been in a strip club before," said Raquel. "I used to be so much fun."

She started out in New York, where she worked as a model. She then moved to Los Angeles, where she worked as a model and actress.

She was first discovered by a studio executive who was working as a producer in Hollywood.

She now lives in New York City, where she works as a model and actress. She has also done some modeling and acting in other films, including "Elton City," "America," and "America."

Student Takes Top Set Design Awards

As a certified professor for the College of Interior Design, Elizabeth has been one of the leading figures in the field for the past three years. She has been teaching the course "Design of the Interior" at the university, and she is currently working on a new book about the subject.

Buffalo Hunter

An certified professor who received a Distinguished Professor Award in recognition of her teaching and research, Elizabeth has been teaching for over 10 years. She has also been involved in several research projects, including the study of the effects of light on human behavior.

Nineteen Indian Artists Featured During August

With the help of several artists and organizations, nine Indian artists will be featured during August. The artists are:

In addition to the painters, several sculptors will also be featured. The exhibition is sponsored by the Oklahoma Art Foundation.

McAlester Prison Rodeo Slated Aug. 31-Sept. 3

The event will feature several rodeo events, with the highlight being the "Rodeo Show" on August 31. Several professional riders will be coming from across the country to participate in the events.

Musical History Show Planned

The show will feature a variety of music, including traditional and contemporary. It will be held in the evening, and tickets are available at the door.

The program is a companion to the 10th Annual Music Festival, which is planned for August 31. The festival will feature a variety of music, including traditional and contemporary.

AUTO RACES—FRIDAY 8 P.M.

2 TRACKS: 54-CARS-1,000-LAP.

The race will feature a variety of cars, including collector cars and modern-day race cars. The race will be held at the Oklahoma State Fairgrounds.

"Duck You Sucker"

The classic Western movie "Duck You Sucker" will be shown at the Cain Alley Theater. The movie is about a group of cowboys who are on the run from the law.

The movie will be shown at 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children. The movie is rated PG.

SNEAK Preview

TOMORROW 8 P.M.

Two popular Westerns that fans of the classic genre will enjoy are "Tombstone" and "Duck You Sucker." The movie shows a group of cowboys who are on the run from the law.

The movie will be shown at 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children. The movie is rated PG.

Young Lyric Actors
Draw High Praise

By STEVE DOBREK

MUSICAL... ""The Tender Trap,"" starring stars of the new ""I'm Young,"" was presented at the Majestic Theater in Oklahoma City last night. It was the first time the show had been presented in the city.

The production, which received high praise from critics and audiences alike, was directed by Edward Coates and produced by Robert Popenoe.

The cast included Jane Powell, Richard Chamberlain, and Robert Walker.

The story is about a young couple who fall in love and get married. The show features songs such as ""The Tender Trap"" and
""The Long and Winding Road.""

Movie's Plot 'Like A Chess Game'

By STEVE DOBREK

A ""good"" move and a ""bad"" move are both playing a role in a chess game.

The good move gets the ball back to you,
but the bad move lets the other player win.

The move is a part of a larger strategy that involves taking the other player's piece.

The story is about a young couple who fall in love and get married.

The show features songs such as ""The Tender Trap"" and ""The Long and Winding Road.""

Moving In

Vincent Van Gogh set up the first exhibit in this new gallery. He first exhibited at 1122 NW 18, Topeka, Kansas, and then moved to Woolworth's Department Store in Kansas City, Missouri, to exhibit his works. He then moved to Chicago, Illinois, to exhibit at the Art Institute of Chicago. The success of the exhibit brought him to the attention of Hoorsenbuhs, a native of Neo-Dutch, who sponsored his painting "Aspen Gold."
'Popeye' Launches Show Biz Career

BY TOM MAGUIRE

Three years ago, with just a hunch, a couple of ideas, and some talent, a young man named Popeye began his career in show business. Today, he is one of the most recognizable characters in the world, and his popularity has only grown with time.

Popeye's success can be attributed to his unique blend of humor and messaging. His catchphrase, "I'm blustery, but I'm not a coward," serves as a reminder to viewers that they should never give up, no matter how daunting the challenge.

Despite his humble beginnings, Popeye quickly became a household name. His first appearance was on a comic strip, which quickly gained popularity due to his witty Comebacks and his ability to outsmart his opponents.

Today, Popeye's influence extends far beyond the comic strip. He has starred in numerous TV shows and movies, and his image can be found on merchandise ranging from T-shirts to action figures. His popularity has even led to a Popeye-themed restaurant, where fans can enjoy Popeye's favorite dish, spinach salad.

Popeye's success is a testament to the power of good storytelling and the importance of staying true to one's roots. Despite his rise to fame, Popeye remains grounded and continues to use his platform to spread a positive message to his fans.

ABC To Air 61½ Hours Of Olympics

Russell Shifts Ground In Album

By ROBERT BURGI

There is a shift in the music industry, and Russell has found a way to capitalize on this change. His new album, "Ground," marks a departure from his previous work and has already garnered critical acclaim.

Russell's decision to shift his sound reflects a broader trend in the music industry, where artists are exploring new genres and styles to stay relevant. His new album, "Ground," is a fusion of rock and hip-hop, showcasing Russell's versatility as a musician.

Despite the change in style, Russell's fans remain loyal, with many commenting on the album's deeper themes and introspective lyrics. His ability to connect with his audience is a testament to his talent and dedication to his craft.

Coco's Role Carries Weight

By ERL WILSON

NEW YORK CITY

The role of Coco Chanel in the film "Reign Over Me" is a significant one for Coco. Nelson De La Mora plays the role of Coco Chanel in the film, and his portrayal is a reminder of the influence that Coco had on the fashion industry.

Coco Chanel was a visionary fashion designer who revolutionized the industry with her simple, yet elegant designs. Her influence can still be seen today, with many of her signature looks still popular among fashion enthusiasts.

Nelson De La Mora's portrayal of Coco in "Reign Over Me" is a testament to the impact that Coco had on the fashion world. His performance is a reminder of the lasting influence that Coco Chanel had on the industry and continues to inspire fashion designers today.
Alexis Big Star
At Dynamic 50

Alexis Smith

BY DONNY SHOEMAKER

NEW YORK — Alexis Smith, who last made a name for herself in the early 1950s with roles in films like "The Rose, the Reed and the Brier" and "The Big Combo," has returned to the New York stage with her one-woman show "Alexis," which is currently playing at Playwrights Horizons until June 28.

Smith, 70, has been acting for more than 50 years and has appeared in numerous films and television shows. She was nominated for an Academy Award for her role in the 1957 film "The Rose, the Reed and the Brier," and has received critical acclaim for her work in both theater and film.

In "Alexis," Smith performs a series of monologues and songs that showcase her range as an actress and vocalist. The show is directed by her daughter, Sally Smith, and features music by John Kander, Cy Coleman, and others.

"Alexis" is a tribute to a life in the spotlight, and Smith delivers a captivating performance that is both moving and entertaining. Her voice is strong and clear, and her delivery is flawless. Smith's monologues range from humorous to poignant, and she brings a depth to each character that is truly remarkable.

The set is simple, with a piano and a few chairs, which allows the focus to remain on Smith and her storytelling. The lighting is used effectively to enhance the mood of each scene.

"Alexis" is a must-see for fans of Alexis Smith and for anyone who appreciates the art of storytelling. It is a testament to Smith's talent and longevity as an actress, and it is a fitting reminder of the impact she has had on the world of entertainment.
Power Of Television

BY JEFF GREENFIELD

NEW YORK—What does television do? For the first time in our national history, it is possible to give a coherent answer to that question. As we watch television, we are inundated by a stream of images that seem to be designed specifically for us, to capture our attention and hold it for as long as possible. The fact that this is true is a testament to the power of television.

The question is, what happens to us? What are the effects of television on our society? How do we interpret the images we see? How do we make sense of the world around us through television?

The answer is complex and multi-dimensional. Television is a medium that has the ability to shape our perceptions, our values, and our actions. It is a powerful tool that we need to understand and use wisely.

TELEVISION'S power is not in the content of the shows themselves, but in the way they are presented. The images we see are not just stories, but a reflection of our society. Television is a mirror that shows us who we are and who we want to be.

The question of what happens to us is not easy to answer. Television is a powerful force, and its effects are complex and multifaceted. However, by understanding the role that television plays in our lives, we can begin to take control of it and use it to our advantage.

TELEVISION'S power is not just in the content of the shows themselves, but in the way they are presented. The images we see are not just stories, but a reflection of our society. Television is a mirror that shows us who we are and who we want to be.

Telethon's Big Hangup

By JACK DAVIES

— Apr 30

LIFE BEGINS — Life is a bumpy road, and sometimes it can be a real struggle. But for Jack Davis, it seems like he's been running on empty for too long. His latest attempt to make a comeback has been anything but smooth. And now, it looks like he's about to run out of gas for good.

Life is full of ups and downs, and sometimes it feels like it's all downhill from here. Jack has been struggling for years, trying to find his way back to the top. But every time he thinks he's getting close, something comes along to knock him back down. It's like he's been in a never-ending race, but the finish line is always just out of reach.

But Jack isn't giving up. He's still got some fight left in him. And he's determined to make a comeback. He knows it won't be easy, but he's willing to do whatever it takes to make it happen.

Jack's story is a reminder that life is full of obstacles, but with determination and hard work, you can overcome anything. So if you're down, remember, Jack's still got miles to go before he sleeps. And he's not alone. There are millions of people out there who are struggling just like him. But with a little bit of faith, anything is possible.
Taylor to Diversify CBS

By MICHAEL BERTSCH

NEW YORK — CBS Television president John Eppler is working feverishly to diversify the network's portfolio of programming, after new producer shows that CBS is no longer content to rely exclusively on its traditional core strengths.

Among the initiatives under consideration are a new network of cable channels, a new network of satellite programming, and a new network of international distribution.

While Eppler is confident that CBS can continue to dominate the broadcast networks, he is also aware that the market is becoming more competitive and that new players are emerging, such as HBO and CNN.

Eppler has already begun negotiations with several cable companies to launch a new network that would focus on programming for a younger audience.

He is also looking into the possibility of launching a new satellite network that would provide programming for a select group of cable companies.

Finally, Eppler is considering the possibility of launching a new network of international distribution, which could help CBS expand its reach beyond the United States.

While Eppler admits that these initiatives are expensive and time-consuming, he is determined to make them happen in order to ensure that CBS remains a major player in the entertainment industry.

He adds that CBS is not interested in simply being the biggest but rather in being the best, and that he believes these initiatives will help CBS achieve that goal.

Eppler's initiatives are seen as a response to the growing zero-sum game in the entertainment industry, where big networks are vying for the same audience.

Eppler believes that by diversifying its portfolio, CBS can create new opportunities and maintain its position as a major force in the industry.

He adds that CBS is not afraid to take risks and that it is willing to innovate in order to stay ahead of the curve.

Eppler concludes that while the future of the entertainment industry is uncertain, he is confident that CBS is well-positioned to thrive in the years to come.

SANDY RESUMES CAREER

For Sandy, the next step is to return to her roots in the music world.

Sandy, who has been out of the public eye for several years, recently announced her comeback in a surprise move that has taken the music industry by storm.

Her first album in nearly a decade, "Reflections," was released last month and has already become a critical and commercial success.

Sandy has been working on the album for several years, and it reflects her personal journey and the lessons she has learned.

She says she is excited to be back in the spotlight and to have the opportunity to share her music with the world.

Sandy's comeback has been widely praised by critics, who have praised her mature and introspective lyrics.

She says she is grateful for the support of her fans and is looking forward to continuing her music career.

Sandy's success has also inspired other artists to follow in her footsteps and to take a risk in order to achieve their dreams.

She says she hopes that her story will inspire others to pursue their passions and to never give up on their dreams.

The Better Business Bureau Warns:

These Swindles Are Used Most to Take Your Money

By Bruce Palmer, president, Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc.

On to another product coming onto the market. The Better Business Bureau is warning you to be cautious about the following schemes.

WORK AT HOME

360's on the Baseball Card have a "something for nothing" offer that seems too good to be true. Be wary of schemes that promise quick money with little or no effort. The Better Business Bureau advises caution.

Home Improvement

A lady in Ohio, Ohio, has a "home improvement" type of scheme. She claimed it would clean the windows in the basement and that the windows would be cleaned in 90 days. When the customer returned, he found that the windows were not cleaned at all. Be cautious of schemes that offer services and do not follow through.

Franchise Schemes

Vending-machine franchises that offer a way to make money should not be accepted without checking. The Better Business Bureau advises caution.

Consumer Education

A woman in New York advertised that she could improve your looks and sell her services to verify this.

H. Bruce Palmer, who wrote the article especially for The Better Business Bureau, is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He is an expert in the field of consumer education. He has been active in public service for many years.

Phony Charities

A neighboring town to a Better Business Bureau office in the Midwest recently advertised a "charity" that was soliciting funds. When the Better Business Bureau was contacted, it was found that the charity was not registered with the Better Business Bureau and did not have a charitable purpose. The Better Business Bureau advised caution.

Service Repairs

A neighbor of Bruce Palmer, who wrote the article especially for The Better Business Bureau, sought a charity after reading about a "charity" that was soliciting funds. When the Better Business Bureau was contacted, it was found that the charity was not registered with the Better Business Bureau and did not have a charitable purpose. The Better Business Bureau advised caution.

Victimizing the Aged

An older lady in New York was solicited to purchase a "charity" by a solicitor. The solicitor promised that all of the money would go to charity. When the Better Business Bureau was contacted, it was found that the charity was not registered with the Better Business Bureau and did not have a charitable purpose. The Better Business Bureau advised caution.

Mailing Lists

A man in New York was solicited to purchase a "charity" by a solicitor. The solicitor promised that all of the money would go to charity. When the Better Business Bureau was contacted, it was found that the charity was not registered with the Better Business Bureau and did not have a charitable purpose. The Better Business Bureau advised caution.

Especially for Family Weekly

For a while now, young people have been wanting to have a voice, and I think this is their way of expressing it. They want to be heard, and they want to be taken seriously. They want to be able to express their feelings and their opinions. They want to be able to make a difference in the world. They want to be able to have a say in what happens to them. They want to be able to have a say in what happens to their community.

I think it's important for parents to listen to their children. They need to hear what they have to say. They need to understand their perspective. They need to respect their opinions. They need to encourage them to express themselves. They need to support them. They need to be there for them.

I think it's important for parents to be involved in their children's lives. They need to be involved in their education. They need to be involved in their activities. They need to be involved in their social life. They need to be involved in their hobbies. They need to be involved in their interests.

I think it's important for parents to be a source of support for their children. They need to be there for them when they need them. They need to be there for them when they're upset. They need to be there for them when they're happy. They need to be there for them when they're sad. They need to be there for them when they're excited. They need to be there for them when they're tired.

I think it's important for parents to be a source of love for their children. They need to show their children how much they love them. They need to tell their children how much they love them. They need to hug their children. They need to kiss their children. They need to hold their children. They need to talk to their children. They need to smile at their children.

I think it's important for parents to be a source of guidance for their children. They need to help their children make decisions. They need to help their children understand the world. They need to help their children understand themselves. They need to help their children understand their emotions. They need to help their children understand their values.

I think it's important for parents to be a source of influence for their children. They need to set a good example for their children. They need to show their children how to be good people. They need to show their children how to be kind. They need to show their children how to be patient. They need to show their children how to be honest. They need to show their children how to be fair.

WHY CATS DON'T NEED THE OUTDOOR LIFE

The outdoor life is not for cats. They are not meant to run around outside. They prefer being indoors where they can be warm and safe. Even if they are allowed outside, they should only be allowed for short periods of time and should be supervised at all times.

Double-bolt clothes are the thing today.
No waving, no sagging of all,
Double-bolt clothes are the thing today.
For the legs as well as the waist.
If ever Chance a big or a small
On you he'll wind the bolt, you'll know you're in his style.
If it's too much of the house should
It's a double-bolt house I'll want.

And I see, as I look out,
I see that the window has been closed.

The room's door shut when he's there
He'll find the trap that's supposed to be in
And I see that the window has been closed.

The room's door shut when he's there
He'll find the trap that's supposed to be in
I see that the window has been closed.

I see that the window has been closed.

It's either
My systems, when he steps in the door.
Will keep my heart in the room.
