Debate Simmering
Myriad Scheduling Conflict Stirs Controversy

BY HOWARD ENGLISH

How should the new Myriad Convention Center open woes with a whimper? We were in the Convention Center on any committee on the topic, the Myriad Convention Center. The new center is scheduled to open in January and will feature a significant number of events throughout the year. Despite the delays and controversies surrounding the center's opening, there is a sense of excitement and anticipation among those involved in its planning and development. The opening of the center is expected to attract visitors from across the country and further cement Oklahoma City's position as a major destination for conventions and events. However, the center's opening also raises questions about the economic impact it will have on the local community and the sustainability of the center's operations. As the center prepares to open, it is crucial that all stakeholders work together to ensure its success and address any concerns that may arise. Only then can Oklahoma City truly embrace the potential of the Myriad Convention Center and continue to strengthen its position as a leading destination for conventions and events. The center's opening is a significant milestone for the city and its residents, and it is a testament to the hard work and dedication of those involved in its development. As we look forward to the center's opening, we are excited to see what the future holds for Oklahoma City and its convention center.

We're looking for 14,000 people:
If you took delivery of a new GM car or light truck last year, you may have some money coming.

On August 15, 1971 President Nixon recommended repeal of the Automotive Excise Tax. Effective Dec. 1, the tax was repealed retroactively. Since then, General Motors has helped 1,850,000 customers to collect their excise tax refunds from the U.S. Government. We have about 14,000 more to go.

Are you one of them?
If you took delivery of a new Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Buick, Opel or Cadillac car after August 15 and prior to December 11, 1971, or a new Chevrolet or Olds light truck after September 22 and before December 11, 1971, the Federal Excise Tax you paid may be refundable.

If you've moved, or have not returned the forms we've sent to you, and you believe you have a refund coming, please go to a GM dealer who sells the kind of car or truck you bought, ask him for an application form, fill it out and mail it to him immediately.

We've sent letters, follow-up letters, searched for correct addresses for those people whose forms were returned as undeliverable by the Post Office, but there are still 14,000 to go. If you think you're one of these people, please send your form in now. By Federal Law the final date for payment of refunds is September 30, 1972.

OU Center Can Help People Get Involved

Norma J. Hinkle, OU student, tells in the Daily Gazette how OU students and OU staffs can help new students plan their college courses. "It's important for students to make the most of their college education," she says. "There are many opportunities to get involved on campus, both socially and academically, and we encourage all students to take advantage of these opportunities."
