How Quickly Can Emotional Ills Be Cured?

A controversial new approach to psychotherapy that seems to work, saves money, and that does not ask you to describe your childhood.

By Allan D. Haas

If you or someone you know has been to a psychologist or psychiatrist, you are aware of the problem. The problem is in describing the problems—something that is often required in the first step of any sort of therapy, and which makes therapy not only difficult but often impossible. This is especially true when the therapist is not able to relate to the patient's problems in a meaningful way.

The result of all of this is that many people do not go to therapy, and that those people who do go to therapy often do not benefit and may be harmed by it. The reason for this is that the therapy is not effective, and that the therapist is not able to understand the patient's problems in a meaningful way.

Dr. Gary E. Greenberg, director of psychology and psychiatry for the Chicago Medical School, has developed a new system of therapeutic communication that can help people to understand their problems in a meaningful way. Dr. Greenberg has found that people are able to understand their problems in a meaningful way when they are able to relate their problems to others in a meaningful way.

The system that Dr. Greenberg has developed is a new system of therapeutic communication that can help people to understand their problems in a meaningful way. The system is called the "Greenberg System." The system is based on the idea that people are able to understand their problems in a meaningful way when they are able to relate their problems to others in a meaningful way.

The system has been tested in a number of hospitals and clinics, and has been found to be effective. The system is based on the idea that people are able to understand their problems in a meaningful way when they are able to relate their problems to others in a meaningful way.

Does Your Name Really Suit Your Personality?

True or False: The most popular children have the most popular names. (See number 4.)

By Joel K. Gilson

1. A name is a process which a baby goes through to get a package. Hopefully, ideally, it gives us an indication of what he is going to be. Sometimes — with people — we go through packages. We do, and sometimes it doesn't. Whether you're one of the lucky people where name on you, or whether you're one of the lucky people where name is added to the packages that you do, is a matter of chance. You have to make the best of it.

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. The happier a person is, the happier he is with himself.
2. People say that those who name themselves individually are not cut above the rest.
3. Most people name their children after Uncle Whistle or Aunt Whale.
4. Most popular children have the most popular names.
5. Many people who name children aren't sure what they should name. They may be in the same house and find each other on the nursery talk every morning.

TRUE.

1. If you're happy with your name, that's an indication that you appreciate the kind of person you are, and you are a great person of yourself. People who dislike their names tend to express personal dissatisfaction with themselves. A name is usually a reflection of who they are. If they are interested in psychology, they are interested in people who are interested in them. People who dislike their names give them attention, usually, as a reflection of what they value in themselves. They may not talk to others, avoiding opportunities to socialize.

2. People are happy with their names. They are happy with their names. They are happy with their names.

3. People are happy with their names. They are happy with their names. They are happy with their names.

Daddy: What Sport Can I Play And Remain a Lady?

By Barry Abrams

YOU undoubtedly have heard of many so-called "cures" for the pains, tenderness, and stiffness of arthritis and rheumatism. The present article is not one of these.

But now, there is something you can do to help you better live with your problem.

What Is Arthritis?

Whether it's called "arthritis" or "rheumatism," it changes practically the same thing... "inflammation of joints or surrounding tissues and tendons."

Information which can give you an action back, stiff, achy, sore, painful, swollen, hands, or feet; that can make it more difficult for you to move around comfortably...that can interfere with your work, your sleep, your life.

Doctors can use arthritis, regardless of age or sex. It can strike early in life or later. It can strike anyone. And anyone everywhere. Among men. In all climates. In all sorts of weather.

There are many types of arthritis and other diseases, ranging from the mild arthritis and pain of "Depression" to the more difficult "Rheumatoid" and "Osteo-Arthritis." The symptoms of each kind are different. They may be hard to tell one another apart.

What To Do About It?

Only a doctor can diagnose your specific arthritis or rheumatism, and as well as the proper treatment to control it. In certain cases, surgery may be necessary. In all cases, rest. It is extremely important that you follow your doctor's instructions. So that you can return your feeling of pain, increase your range of motion.

Until recently all we had known about treatment, chemically, and now rheumatism comes as an anti-inflammatory ingredient (like Methyl Salicylate) to help reduce the natural toxins and other forces causing tendons to swell, limb inflammation. These were all right so far as they went. But, they didn't go far enough!

Great News!

For years, scientists sought to develop an external rub that would not only help relieve pain caused by inflammatory arthritis, but would also temporarily decrease the swelling and tenderness that occur with pain. What's more, these effects would be achieved safely and effectively.

Now, there is something you can do to help you better live with your problem.

You're Eligible To Enroll Up To Age 65

You and your wife up to age 65 are eligible to apply for up to $20,000 in Life Insurance for yourself ($5,000—$10,000—$15,000—$20,000), and also up to 1/2 your coverage for your wife ($2,500—$5,000—$7,500—$10,000) and all your children ($5,000 each), no matter how many, for one low premium, at rates so low for their coverage, you can't afford not to provide for them.

Once issued to you, your policy can never be cancelled except by you and your premium can never be increased. However, to keep your policy in force you must keep your premiums promptly when due. And you can continue to renew your policy until you're 70 years old without any proof of insurability.

Pensioners Without If You're Eligible

If before age 60 you became totally disabled for six months or more, your disability could wipe out your premium requirements while your disability continues or if, at any time before your 65th birthday, it is determined that you are disabled and even through your circumstances are improved, you still keep your right to continue your coverage to age 65 while the insurance is in force. In fact, this right may be extended up to age 70, subject to the insured's approval, in the case of total disability, with certainty that your premiums will be affordable.

Harm to Yourself—Those Questions

1. If you're self-employed, do you provide for yourself as you would expect if you worked for someone else?
2. Your family protection needs may be just as great now as when you were employed. Yet, your plans probably are not the same—just for that reason. Do you still have coverage if you change jobs?
3. You need to be sure you and your family are covered at all times. Our plans in no way alter what your present income is or will be. Do you have increased your life insurance to the ten year limit?
4. Your group life insurance or other insurance plans are never enough to meet your needs. Money can't replace the love you gave your family. It's just that insurance is now available if something happens to you and you are not there. Do you or your family ever think of the savings you would gain if you were able to get life insurance? When they are not out on their own?
5. Conditions, health could change, so the value of your protection would vary. Your premium stays the same, $1.00 a month. If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, you and your family need the low cost, high protection Family Life Insurance that your employer has arranged for you. If you have a disability, or if you are not employed because you are not able to work, you may also be issued under this plan.

How to Figure Your Own Family's Low Monthly Premium

1. If you change, or are changed, do you know how your new income will affect your protection?
2. Your plan has no waiting period. Do you or a member of your family need to change to keep it. Is it really possible to live your life in the family's best interest—without considering the financial implications and the low life insurance premiums at all times?
