Hockey Future Depends On WHA

By ROY BURTON

The hockey world is in a state of flux as the World Hockey Association (WHA) prepares to begin its inaugural season in 1972. The WHA, modeled after the National Hockey League (NHL), aims to compete with the NHL for players and fans. The league's success will depend on several factors, including the performance of its teams and the quality of its players.

Baltimore Outscores California

In a surprising upset, the Baltimore Blades defeated the California Golden Seals in a playoff game. The Blades, led by star forward Terry Sawchuk, scored three goals in the third period to secure the victory. The California Golden Seals, despite their strong defensive play, were unable to overcome the Blades' offensive dominance.

Jack Nicklaus: Golf On the Texas Wedge

Recent attempts to introduce golf on the Texas wedge have failed, with Nicklaus's performance on the course proving lackluster. The Texas wedge is a unique design that has not been widely accepted by professionals.

Compromise Impossible?

The proposed compromise between the NHL and WHA has been met with skepticism by both sides. The NHL, led by its powerful owners, is refusing to participate in any form of compromise, while the WHA, eager to establish its legitimacy, is pushing for a resolution. The situation is tense, with both leagues vying for talent and fans.

1st All-Pro Drag Meet Scheduled

The world's first all-pro drag meet is scheduled to take place in Los Angeles next month. The event promises to attract top drag racers from around the country, including record-breaking drivers.

Sears: FREE TICKETS

Sears is offering free tickets to its annual Christmas show as part of its holiday promotions. The show features live music, dance performances, and a special appearance by Santa Claus.

Landry's Not Happy With Dallas Showing

Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones is reportedly upset with the team's performance in its latest game. Jones, known for his high standards, is said to be considering changes to the coaching staff as well as the roster.

Don Wilson

ELECT
AL TERRILL
U.S. SENATE

Don Wilson has given you honesty and fairness in the county assessor's office.

Now it's your decision.

You said you wanted a fair, honest county assessor... you have one.

You said you wanted all property taxed fairly... it is now.

You said you were tired of a privileged few getting special tax breaks... that has stopped.

You said you don't mind paying a fair share as long as everybody else pays their fair share, too... come check the records. That's the way it works today.

You said you wanted an assessor who would follow the law, whether or not he agreed with it... you haven't been disappointed.

You wanted an assessor who would do the job without fear or favor. That's the way the office is being run.

Don Wilson kept his end of the bargain and will continue to do so. He deeply appreciates your help and support.

Now it's up to you to decide whether the county assessor's office continues to be run with fairness and honesty... Tuesday, in the voting booth.

Don Wilson

DON WILSON HEADQUARTERS

In an emergency... would people be able to find you?

Probably not, if you have an unlisted telephone number. Right now, maybe all you're wasting is a friendly call from someone you haven't seen in years. But it could be something bigger, such as an emergency. That's no time to have an unlisted number. With a published number, you're available quickly. And that might make a difference. Don't assume your name may not be in the directory because you're just moved here, or if you're unlisted because of choice, since choice doesn't mean anything. Call the telephone business office nearest you. Get the most from your phone service.
