A LICENSE TO KILL?

When the Supreme Court abolished the death penalty, Baggett immediately called the decision a "tremendous achievement in public policy." Baggett, a former death penalty opponent, has now reversed his position.

In 1972, Baggett wrote a book titled "The Death Penalty: A Study of Its History and Effect." He argued that capital punishment was cruel and unusual punishment, and that it did not deter crime. However, after the Supreme Court's decision in 1972, Baggett changed his mind. He now supports the death penalty and has written several articles advocating for its reinstatement.

Baggett believes that the death penalty is a necessary tool for keeping society safe. He argues that criminals who commit heinous crimes should be punished with the ultimate sanction.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE
Americans: Strangers In A Stranger Land

From a political perspective, the Church Committee report on the role of television in the nation's political life has been criticized for being too lenient toward television companies. The report states that television is a powerful force in American politics, and that television can be used to influence public opinion. However, the report also notes that television is not a perfect medium, and that television programs can sometimes be biased and distorted. People who are not familiar with television can be swayed by the information presented on the screen, and this can have significant consequences. The report recommends that more attention be paid to the role of television in American politics, and that more research be conducted into the ways in which television can be used to influence public opinion.

The United States Army Corps of Engineers has released a new report on the electromagnetic pulse (EMP) threat to the nation's power grid. The report states that EMP attacks could cause widespread blackouts and other disruptions, and that the United States is not prepared to deal with such an event. The report recommends that the United States government take action to strengthen the power grid and to protect it from EMP attacks.

Where Did Flower Children Go?
Clean Classicism Replaces Second-Hand Look In Paris

PARIS — Where are all the hippies and the Haight-Ashbury generation?
From this great center of international fashion they've vanished, leaving behind only a few reminders of their style.

The conventional silhouette is back. The liquid, flowing lines of the 1960s have been replaced by a return to more classic proportions.

At the International Fashion Centre, clothes are being designed with straighter lines, more fitted shapes, and less emphasis on the use of fabrics.

"The idea is to create clothes that are simple and elegant," said a designer at the Fashion Centre. "We want to give people a sense of security and stability."

Indian Exhibit
To Open Friday

The artistry of the contemporary Indian will brighten the Oklahoma City Art Center beginning Friday when "Indian Art: Fragments of the Folk" opens there for a three-month run. The exhibition is sponsored by the Oklahoma Indian Council and the Indian Arts and Crafts Board, and is part of the ongoing American Indian National Exhibit program of the National Park Service.

The 66 artists from 17 tribes are from different parts of Oklahoma. Each has contributed about 20 works, mostly in the medium of pottery, including fired and unfired shards, baskets, jewelry, carvings, and textiles. The exhibit will be shown at the Oklahoma City Art Center, 720 NE 5th St., through November 20.

The exhibit is a part of the national program aimed at preserving and promoting the cultural heritage of American Indians. It is being held in conjunction with the 10th anniversary of the National Indian Art Program, which was established in 1970 to encourage the development and appreciation of Indian art.

How Chess Pieces Move

The book contains a comprehensive study of the development of the chessboard and the movement of the pieces. It is suitable for players of all levels, from beginners to masters.

THE BOARD

The board is divided into 64 squares, with 32 white and 32 black pieces. The board is placed so that the white side is on the right at the start of the game.

THE PIECES

1. The King: The most powerful piece on the board, the king has the ability to move one square in any direction. In the opening, it is often used to control the center of the board.

2. The Queen: The most valuable piece, the queen can move any number of squares horizontally, vertically, or diagonally. It is often used to attack the opponent's pieces.

3. The Rooks: The rooks move any number of squares horizontally or vertically. They are often used to control the edges of the board.

4. The Bishops: The bishops move any number of squares diagonally. They are often used to control the corners of the board.

5. The Knights: The knights move in an "L" shape, two squares in one direction and then one square perpendicular to that. They are often used to jump over other pieces.

6. The Pawns: The pawns move only one square forward, except on their first move when they can move two squares. They are often used to protect the more valuable pieces and to control the edges of the board.

THE ENDGAME

In the endgame, the players have fewer pieces on the board and the focus is on achieving a king and pawn ending. The players must use their remaining pieces to create a passed pawn that can promote to a queen.

In summary, the book provides a comprehensive study of the chessboard and the movement of the pieces, suitable for players of all levels. It is a valuable resource for anyone interested in learning more about chess.

OK! Vacation Is Over... Now, Let's Get Back Into Shape!
For Bob Hope:
Do you think it's necessary for humor to be risque to be popular today?

Bob Hope: I don't think so. I think humor should be funny and entertaining. I think that's what people want. They want to be entertained, and they want to be entertained in a way that makes them laugh. I think that's what humor should be about.

For Melvin Laird, Secretary of Defense:
Can you give us your views on the current state of the world, especially with regard to the war in Vietnam? Do you think it can be won? What are your plans for the future?

Melvin Laird: The situation in Vietnam is complex and difficult. I believe that the United States must continue to support the South Vietnamese government and its allies. We must also continue to work towards a peaceful solution to the conflict. I have no specific plans for the future, but I will continue to work for the best interests of the United States.

For Amelia Earhart:
You were the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic Ocean. How did you feel when you received your trophy for this achievement?

Amelia Earhart: I was elated. It was a great honor to be the first woman to achieve this milestone. I felt a great sense of pride and accomplishment. It was a significant achievement for women and for aviation.

For Arthur Miller:
You are a well-known playwright. What do you think are the most important issues facing society today?

Arthur Miller: There are many important issues facing society today. In my opinion, the most pressing issue is the need for a more equitable distribution of wealth and resources. We also need to address the problems of political corruption, environmental degradation, and social inequality.

For Warren Beatty:
You are a confirmed bachelor. Do you ever think about marriage and children?

Warren Beatty: I have never married and I have no children. I believe that I am more fulfilled by my work and the people I am associated with. I do not feel the need to have a family to feel complete.

For John Wayne:
You are a well-known actor. What do you think are the most important qualities for an actor to possess?

What Makes Your Mental Muscles Work?

*True or False? If your child prefers unsymmetrical patterns and designs to symmetrical ones, that is an indication of superior intelligence. (See number 5) *

By John R. Gibson

Without the ability to think and reason, music would be no more useful than a monkey's tail, and math would be as precise as the Nintendo’s game. For instance, if you were to take a Moments in Time tour of history, the rise and fall of civilizations would be as predictable as the tides of the ocean.

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Men are on the left side of their brain for thinking and the right side for feeling.
2. Alcohol has a stimulating effect on your emotional processes.
3. You feel better when you go to bed.
4. If you feel good, you should go to sleep.
5. Your child prefers unsymmetrical patterns and designs to symmetrical ones, that is an indication of superior intelligence.

Cranberry Cooking:

Ideas to Help Your Fall Meal Planning

It's not too soon to start planning a "harvest motif" for your dinners. We know you'll remember the corn, the pumpkins and the squash—but don't forget the cranberry!

By Marilyn Hansen, Food Editor

Cranberry is the perfect addition to your autumn menu. It's versatile and can be used in both sweet and savory dishes. Try these recipes to get creative with your cranberries:

1. Cranberry Pie
   - Use fresh cranberries or frozen, and add a touch of orange zest for extra flavor.

2. Cranberry Relish
   - Perfect for Thanksgiving dinner, this relish can be served with turkey or as a topping for cornbread.

3. Cranberry Sauce
   - A traditional Thanksgiving side dish, cranberry sauce can be made with sugar or honey, giving it a sweet and tangy flavor.

4. Cranberry Relish Salad
   - Combine fresh cranberries with apples, celery, and walnuts for a crunchy and refreshing salad.

5. Cranberry Chutney
   - Use chutney as a spread for sandwiches or a topping for grilled chicken.

6. Cranberry Bread
   - A simple recipe using fresh cranberries, this bread is perfect for a fall breakfast.

These are just a few ideas to get you started. Cranberries can be used in so many ways, so be creative and try something new this fall!
Cranberry Cooking: Ideas to Help Your Fall Meal Planning

CRANBERRY WINE PUNCH

1. In a large (3 qt) punch bowl, combine cranberries, sugar, orange juice, and water. Cover and let stand for 30 minutes. Stir until the sugar is dissolved.

2. Add club soda and orange liqueur. Chill until the punch is ready to serve.

3. To serve, ladle punch into sherbet glasses. Garnish with orange slices and cranberries.

CRANBERRY POT ROAST

1. In a large pot, combine the cranberries, sugar, vinegar, and wine. Bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer for 15 minutes.

2. Add the beef to the pot, cover, and simmer for 2 hours or until the beef is tender.

3. Remove the beef from the pot, and let it cool. Strain the cranberry sauce and use it as a sauce for the beef or as a side dish.

4. Serve the cranberry sauce with a dollop of whipped cream.

GLAZED ONION WITH CRANBERRIES

1. In a large skillet, cook the onions in butter until they are soft and translucent.

2. Add the cranberries and cook for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

3. Pour in the glaze mixture and simmer for 5 minutes, until the onions are coated and the glaze has thickened.

4. Serve the glazed onions over meat or as a side dish.

GOLDEN MASHED POTATOES

1. In a large pot, cook the potatoes in water until they are tender.

2. Drain the potatoes and mash them with butter, milk, and seasonings.

3. Serve the mashed potatoes as a side dish.

Flip Wilson: "I'm the World's Greatest Eater of Snails!"

By Flip Wilson in conversation with Hedda Hopper

I've never had to count with a "big spread." I come from a huge family: 17 brothers and sisters and we were always on diets. We'd get big bowls of fruit and eat a lot of fish fillets. We'd stand in line to get our food. (That's how you get through the rest of your life.)

But I did acquire a taste for snail food in a big way. My father was a lawyer in a small town and he had a lot of friends. One lady had a son, and when she was away, we'd sneak in and eat all the snail meat bottled up in the basement. By the end of the day, only about half of the meat was left.

My favorite food is from the Bahamas. I used to watch them in the highlands, I love their wonderful fish soup and shellfish. I've also acquired a taste for snail food. I can eat them too. One day I went to town with a friend who loved them. I was very unwell, every time I go to one of the restaurants near the studio, they've already put the snails on the menu. I've never had 1,000 snails during the last year.

FRENCH PEACH SALAD

Peaches are a great source of antioxidants and vitamin C. Combine with fresh mint and serve on a bed of lettuce.

COLD SNAIL SOUP
2 cups water

Snail soup is a classic French dish. It's made with scented snails cooked in white wine and served chilled. It's a fun dish to make for a special occasion.

A Top U.S. Official Warns:
"Think Again Before Sending Your Child to College"

"We foresee no return to the conditions of the '60s and '70s, in which employers were forced to bid against each other for the services of new graduates... Conspicuous college graduates and undergraduates are no longer valued as they were in that era. Indeed, the student who goes into an academic career might be well advised to consider other opportunities."

What in the World?

Richard Burton: A Love Affair

Has Lin got something to worry about? There was Richard Burton, constantly showing off an ear of corn that existed in the same room as a number of other corn ears. And there was his wife, Linda, who was mostly seen walking around the room with a basket over her head. The corn was the only thing that seemed to interest her.

Elizabeth Tear: The Truth of the Matter

As the corn was being shown off, Elizabeth Tear was busy writing a letter. She seemed quite content with her work, and the corn was nowhere to be seen.

Trout Isler: The Magic of the Night

Trout Isler was playing the corn on the cob with lightness and grace. It was quite a spectacle to watch. Lin was seen walking around the room with a basket over her head.

What's Up?

Who's got the bullion?

One day a bullion slightly clung, the next it's somewhere else. It's been a little bit of a problem for me to be seen up and down the street with a bullion in my hand. There's a chance for me to be seen up and down the street with a bullion in my hand.

A new wrinkle on the skinning of the bullion, I'm willing to give a pressing demonstration here today, and let's see if Lin can see me. I could see her.

Your plan pays so much and the $1 offer is so good, you probably have some questions — or even some doubts. We've put all the answers (including the exact calculations) down right here... in black and white... for family weekly readers, so you won't miss the Enrollment Deadline for the Cash/Plus Plan. Comparison shows Cash/Plus helps answer today's alarming jump in hospital charges, now up to $51.66 a day national average with still worse to come.

Ordinary hospitalization insurance alone is just not enough now when your family is hit with a hospital stay. You need to supplement it with a hospital income plan that pays enough extra cash — cash that's paid in addition to any other money and insurance or Medicare benefits you may have. Otherwise, you could end up fighting over the savings, children's college fund, etc. Low-cost Cash/Plus helps answer this need. It pays more because it covers more. Helps out for both sickness and accident, and for the hospitalized costs of hospital and convalescence facilities.

Your family is in order and so are your hard-earned savings. And now it's easy to get Cash/Plus! Just fill out the Enrollment Form (right in this booklet) and mail it with only $1 by September 19th, 1972. Better get it now today!

YOUR-1-BACK NO-RISK GUARANTEE

Under this Guarantee, you can write the following letter to your policy in home, giving to yourself or any other named person, if not associated with cash or other benefits, 100% of your hospitalization benefits under the plan plus any accumulated enrollment funds on September 19th, 1972. Better get it now today!

If you are under age 50, your enrollment will begin at the time you specify, subject to the maximum age limits. If you are age 50 or over, your enrollment will begin at the time you specify.

And the cost of your plan can be sure of getting ten times what you are paying for your plan — not to the doctor but to you — while you are covered under the plan.

Now — for only $1 — regardless of your age, your occupation or size of your family you get your first month's protection.

But you must reply before midnight September 19th.

During this Limited Enrollment Period you the readers of Family Weekly can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by filling in and mailing the Enrollment Card referred to on page 11 of this issue. The card has a deadline of September 19th. Your protection begins just as soon as we receive your form and issue your policy. You gain nothing by waiting — act now — please fill out your Enrollment Form today!
