Audit Questions Fee Paid Clara Luper

BY HOWARD DAVIS

Civil rights activist Clara Luper reportedly received $658 in a cash payment at a conference in 1970 as an honorarium for her work. The question is whether this payment constitutes a bribe. The Oklahoma Board of Education, which is responsible for the Oklahoma Public Schools, had been investigating the claim.

PANEL TOLD LARRA

BY J. P. LARSON

A panel of judges and educators was told at a meeting that the Oklahoma Board of Education should consider removing the word "bribe" from the definition of fee paid to school employees. The panel also discussed the possibility of establishing a new fee paid to school employees.

Candy Not So Dandy in Schools?

By EUGENE NEWMAN

The candy, often chocolate and other sweet treats, is a major issue in schools. The Oklahoma Board of Education has been considering regulating the use of candy in schools.

Inside News

Charges Dropped

Charges against five men were dropped in the theft of a commercial truck in Oklahoma City. The men had been charged with grand larceny.

Test Scores

The University of Oklahoma has released test scores for its students. The university has been under pressure to improve its test scores.

Panel Votes Nixon Broad Budget Power

The panel voted 50 to 1 in favor of Nixon's budget plan. The plan includes a $3.5 billion increase in federal spending, including $1.5 billion for education and $1 billion for Medicaid.

Panel says Nixon has no "right to..."

The panel voted 50 to 1 in favor of Nixon's budget plan. The plan includes a $3.5 billion increase in federal spending, including $1.5 billion for education and $1 billion for Medicaid.
Cushing Girl Crowned Sweetheart Of FFA

Broken Field Runner

Pirate

Boyer To Request Raises

Separate Crashes Kill 2

Luper

President

Baggett
Medical Benefits May Drop

As a result of a recent court decision, many employees' medical insurance policies may be in jeopardy. The court ruling suggests that employers are not required to continue providing medical benefits for employees after they reach a certain age. This means that many employees, especially those who are close to retirement, may face significant financial hardship if they lose their medical benefits.

Families Moving To Avoid School Bussing

Mobile Home Living Gives Solution To House Problem

Lancaster families have found a solution to the problem of school bussing. By moving into mobile homes, they are able to avoid the inconvenience and expense of bussing their children to school. This has been especially helpful for families who live far from the school or who have multiple children.

Demo Candidate Withdraws

James Smith, the Democratic candidate for the local school board, has withdrawn from the race. Smith cited personal reasons for his decision. His withdrawal leaves the race open for other candidates to enter.

Business Briefs

Traders Pull Stocks Down

The stock market has seen a drop in trading volume. Traders have pulled back on some stocks, causing a decline in prices.
Woody Allen Strikes Again In New Film

by Robin Adams Sloan

The comedy genius has a new movie opening this week, and he's bigger than ever. Woody Allen is now a major star, worldwide. He's no longer just a New York comedian, but a Hollywood heavy, with a large fan base.

The Midnight Earl

Fight Crowd Just Social

GOSSIP

COLUMB

Fair's Schedule

Busy For Tuesday

OU Indians

Climbing In Normal

The Midnight Earl

The comedy genius has a new movie opening this week, and he's bigger than ever. Woody Allen is now a major star, worldwide. He's no longer just a New York comedian, but a Hollywood heavy, with a large fan base.

Fair's Schedule

Busy For Tuesday

OU Indians

Climbing In Normal

big in entertainment
TULSA
STATE FAIR

SEPT. 29- Oct. 3

The Oklahoma Journal
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1970
The PEOPLE'S Voice

Vietnam

Back To The Middle Ages

William F. Buckley, Jr.

U.S. Exhibit In Russia

Bob Considine

A Shocker—Even For New Yorkers

Your Money's Worth

Money Talks Viewed

State Editors Say

Return The Death Penalty

Bill Tharp

Follow-up On Visit To Fair

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Lyndon Fears Early Demise

Japan's 'Guilt' Unexcused

Bartlett Win

Phillips Sees

OCMA Commander To Speak

Paso Robles Center Sets Dinner

Family Outing Loses Gaiety

Crash Jet Rating Hit By Solon

Woodland To Vote On Bonds

Banks Accepting Gifts For Girl

More School Workers Quit

Health Workers Get Fair Day
Questions Should Come Before The Wedding

By Mary Baker

In the land of great advertising copy, where outsize headlines and exclamation points rule the roost, the admonition to "questions should come before the wedding" has been given new life by the wedding industry. It's a signal that the big day is, in fact, about to begin.

The industry has long been criticized for its marketing techniques, which some critics say are designed to separate couples from their money. But the industry's defenders argue that the focus on weddings is simply an attempt to capture the attention of couples who are looking for something special.

Now, with the advent of weddings as a major industry, there's a new twist: questions should come before the wedding. This is a call to action for couples to think about what they want from their wedding, rather than simply letting the industry dictate their choices.

As one industry insider put it, "If we're going to have a wedding, let's make sure it's the wedding we want, not the one that's been sold to us by the industry."

The Second Wife — II

It was a day of celebration in the town of Anywhere, USA. The town was buzzing with excitement as the wedding of the year was about to take place.

But as the guests gathered, there was a sense of unease. The bride and groom had been married for only a short time, but already there were signs of trouble. Tales of domestic violence had been heard, and some of the guests were worried for the couple's future.

As the wedding day approached, the tension grew. The couple was said to be split, and some of the guests were afraid to make a mistake in their dress code.

The ceremony was a disaster. The bride and groom didn't speak to each other, and the guests were left to wonder what had happened.

In the end, the once-happy couple was left with a tattered relationship and a bitter divorce.

The Second Wife came to see that marriage wasn't always what it seemed. And so she set out to tell her story, to warn others of the dangers that lie in wait for those who enter into such unions.

But the Second Wife knew that she wasn't alone. There were many others who had been trapped in the same way, who had been sold a dream that didn't quite fit their reality.

And so she spoke out, hoping to help others avoid the same fate. For it was clear to her that the Second Wife was not a fairy tale, but a cautionary tale, a warning to all those who would enter into such unions.
Big 8 Coaches Explain Rout

Suits Fly In Erving Case

Vikes Will Give Miami Another Test

OU Meets Tigers Next

OU Freshmen Team Strong Despite Injuries

Nunn Eyes Turnabout

Closing Prices Listed On The New York Stock Exchange

Sunland Park Season Near

Stocks Will Split Program

Market Summaries

Baseball Standings

By Texans

OCAC Book Now On Sale

Business

Gary Player's Golf Class:

Insurance, Bank And Trust
Rogers Asks Tough Anti-Hijack Measures

UNITED NATION, Nov. 19 — United Nations General Assembly's standing committee on security, 1973, in action in New York, approved a resolution by Secretary General U Thant asking UN and its member states and organizations to take steps to enforce a measure for preventive and punitive action against hijackers. The resolution calls for the immediate cessation of hijackings and for the establishment of a special fund to finance measures against hijackers. The resolution also calls for the establishment of a special tribunal to try hijackers.

The resolution was adopted by an overwhelming majority of votes cast in the UN, with only a few nations opposing it.

Rogers proposes a new measure aimed at hijackers, who are considered to be a threat to international peace and security. The measure would involve the use of armed forces and other means to prevent and punish hijacking.

Man Held Minus Bail In Slaying

Larry Joe Burgert, 25, of El Dorado, was arrested Tuesday evening, July 2, and charged with the murder of a woman in the city. Burgert, who was found in possession of a .22-caliber rifle, was taken to the El Dorado Police Station for questioning. He is scheduled to appear in court on Thursday, July 4, for a preliminary hearing.

Del City Approves New AOC Plan

Del City Mayor Elmer Balkalis announced today that the city council has approved a new AOC (Antioch City) plan. The plan, which was developed by the AOC staff, will provide for the expansion of the city's water and sewer systems. The plan also includes provisions for the construction of new roads and sidewalks.

The plan will be presented to the public at a public hearing on August 15, and will go into effect on September 1.

Airline Strike Resulting from Strike

FAIR-BOUND BAND STALLS

The airline strike resulted from a dispute between the pilots and the company over working conditions. The pilots are demanding better pay and benefits, while the company is offering a lower salary and fewer benefits.

Del City Smog Station

DEPARTMENT OF AIR QUALITY

Del City, Okla. — The Department of Air Quality has issued a new air quality report for the Del City area. The report shows that the air quality in Del City is improving, with a slight decrease in the level of pollutants.

The report also shows that the levels of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides are below the national standards.