Bank To Get Stock Rights

Stockholders in First National Bank and Trust Co., which merged with Atlantic National Bank in St. Louis in 1974, will meet today to consider whether to approve a plan to sell stock rights. The meeting is scheduled for 9 a.m. at the First National Bank in St. Louis.

The offering is being made under terms of a merger agreement, which calls for the sale of 10 million shares of First National Bank stock to the shareholders of Atlantic National Bank.

Randall G. Willard, president of the First National Bank, said the bank will receive 10 million shares of Atlantic National Bank stock in the merger.

The bank also plans to sell 10 million shares of Duff & Phelps stock, according to the agreement.

The sale of the Atlantic National Bank stock will be made only to those shareholders who hold their shares for a period of 20 days after the merger becomes effective.

Residents were asked to submit their stocks in the First National Bank for sale only to those owning Atlantic National Bank stock in the merger.

The bank said it would use the proceeds from the sale of the Atlantic National Bank stock to help finance the merger.

'Bluebeard' So Bad It's Funny

By RICHARD BROWN

NEW YORK - It's hard to believe, but the sexiest new movie in town is the one that's been around for the longest time. 'Bluebeard' is a 1959 film noir that's being re-released because of its new Roger Ebert review. It's so bad it's funny, according to Ebert, who says it's the best movie of the year.

‘Chiefs’ Ad Gets Big Forum

It will be interesting to see what the Oklahoma State Board of Education does in regard to the recent advertisement by the Oklahoma Chief, in which some of the teachers in Oklahoma are taking part.

The advertisement is a very timely one, and if it is given the proper attention it should do much to help in the education of our youth. It is a very timely subject, and one which we believe will be of great benefit to the community at large.

New Wife Must Keep Her Identity

I became a second wife at the advanced age of 57. I wanted to keep up with the times and so I started to dress in a more modern style. My husband had never seen me dressed like this before and he was surprised. He even asked if I was remarrying. I told him no, I was just trying to stay current. He laughed and said, "That's nice, but do you still work?"

I did not think about it, but I still work. I have a part-time job at the local grocery store. I enjoy it because I can meet new people and help them with their groceries. But my husband doesn't understand why I still work. He thinks I should stay home and be a full-time housewife. But I need to work or I'll get bored.

I have been living with my husband for three years now. He is a very kind man, but I think he is too old to understand the modern world. I wish he could see that being a second wife doesn't mean I'm going to change my personality. I still love him, but I also want to be independent and have a life of my own. I'm not sure if he will ever understand that.
