Skeleton Believed 21,500 Years Old

First American Found In California Desert

EL CENTRO — A complete human skeleton, which may be the oldest ever found in the Western Hemisphere, has been discovered in a sheltered wash bed along the Colorado River in Imperial County, the California Department of Fish and Game announced yesterday.

The skeleton, which is believed to be about 21,500 years old, was found in a sheltered wash bed about three miles west of El Centro, according to the department.

Skeleto and Mr. D. H. Whitehead, the state's director of fish and game, said the skeleton was found by a hunter who was exploring the area.

Difference In Texas, OU Wishbone: 'Octane'

About the only difference between the Texas and Oklahoma Wishbone maneuvers is that John Mack Brown's Sooners arrived at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas history as a juggernaut and a powerhouse, whereas Barry Switzer's Sooners are only two years removed from their first national title. Both are 3-0, but the Sooners have won their games by an average score of 26-15, while OU's average is 25-13. Oklahoma wants to confirm its status as the country's best and Texas hopes to prove that it belongs in the national picture. But the Sooners need to win to stay in the hunt for the national championship, and the Longhorns need to win to stay in the hunt for the Big Eight title.

Oakland Wins Second Game

Here’s why the Jets lost to the Dolphins: too many penalties and poor pass defense. The Jets made 13 penalties for 110 yards, including a 15-yard penalty on kick returner Wayne Teaford in the fourth quarter. The Jets had 29 penalties for 163 yards. The Dolphins made five penalties for 45 yards.
