No Kind Words For Opponent

Baggett Weathers Rough Storm

By HARROLD DAVIS

No, he wasn’t going to try to win by being generous to his opponent. But he was going to try to beat him... by being generous to his opponent.

The Daily Oklahoman editorial board decided to endorse Baggett in the primary election. The endorsement was based on Baggett’s record as a state senator and his strong support for key issues, including education, job creation, and criminal justice reform.

In the primary election, Baggett won by a margin of 1,097 votes, securing his place in the runoff election.

McGovern Tells Peace Proposal

By HARROLD DAVIS

In his acceptance speech at the Democratic National Convention, McGovern called for an end to the Vietnam War, proposing a plan for a negotiated settlement and withdrawal of American troops.

He pledged to work towards a peaceful resolution to the conflict, emphasizing the need for dialogue and understanding between nations.

Robberies Factor In OG&E Closing
Daye Surprised At Offer From OU

By AL EICKMANN

TULSA — It was a day for the third-year fullback at Oklahoma, John Doe, to face some tough questions. He had to decide whether to accept a scholarship offer from the University of Oklahoma or continue his career at his current school, the University of Tulsa. The decision was not an easy one, but Doe knew it was time to make a choice.

The offer from OU was unexpected, and Doe was unsure if he could handle the pressure of playing at such a high level. He had faced challenges in the past, but this was a new level of responsibility.

Doe consulted with his family and coaches, and after much thought, he decided to accept the offer. He knew it would be tough, but he was ready for the challenge.

The news quickly spread throughout the campus, and Doe's teammates were happy for him. They knew he was ready for the opportunity to play at the highest level.

Doe's decision was a big moment in his career, and he knew it would be a test of his character. He was ready to face the challenges ahead.

The story of Doe's decision was covered by local media, and his name was headlines. It was a big moment for both Doe and the University of Tulsa.

Doe's decision was a bittersweet one. He loved his current school and the people he had grown close to. But he knew it was time to take the next step in his career.

The news of Doe's decision was widely discussed, and many people were happy for him. It was a big moment in his life, and he was ready to face the challenges ahead.
Robertson Wanted Winner

I figured there would be no way to stop the 19-year-old Robertson. He knew exactly what he was up against. He had a game plan, and I had to respect it.

Robertson was wearing a red hat and a red jacket. The hat had a large brim, and the jacket was quite warm. He looked ready for battle.

"I really didn't know how good the Robertson boys were," the scribe said. "I heard they had a reputation for being tough. But when I saw them in action, I knew they were the real deal."

"They have a great future ahead of them," the scribe continued. "They are strong, fast, and determined. I believe they can go far in the future."

Robertson wanted to win. He was determined to do his best. He was a fighter, and he knew it.

"I'm going to give it my all," Robertson said. "I'm going to fight until the very end."

The scribe was impressed. He was impressed with Robertson's determination and his fighting spirit.

"This is what I call a true winner," the scribe said. "Robertson is a fighter, and he knows how to fight."

Robertson was a fighter, and he knew how to win. He was ready to do it all over again.

Sooner's Heavily Favored Saturday

Steers Hope To Avoid Errors

TOM WRIGHT
Executive Sports Editor

The Sooners have started out the season with a bang, and they are favored to win the Big Eight Conference this year. The Sooners have a young and talented team, and they are hungry to prove themselves.

"We have a lot of young talent on our side," the coach said. "We have a lot of potential, and we're ready to show it.""
Dallas No Place For The Meek

The recent Texas-Oklahoma football game was attended to by MILLIONS of fans throughout the state of Oklahoma. Although the game was played in Dallas, Texas, the Oklahoma Sooners were victorious over the Texas Longhorns. The game, played in the Cotton Bowl, was a heated battle of two of the top college football teams in the nation. The Sooners' victory was a thrilling moment for Oklahoma fans, who had hoped for a win against the Longhorns for many years.

Leaks New Star In Texas Offense

Boo Leaks may not be the center of attention on the University of Texas offense, but he's making a name for himself.

"I think I can be one of the best and the most consistent wide receivers with some more experience," Leaks said.

His passing ability is similar to that of Texas Tech quarterback Eric Metcalf, who is known for his accuracy.

"I can throw it to a player and have him catch it," Leaks said. "I don't really know how to do it, but I try to do it.

"I'm not a very good receiver, but I try to be a very good receiver."

Leaks, who has already made a name for himself in the pass game, credits his success to the coaching staff.

"I'm a good quarterback," Leaks said. "I'm a good receiver."

Tulsa Hosts TCU
With Lead On Line

By TROY EGGLETON

TULSA—For all practical purposes, the 3-1 Tulsa Owls are one of the Tulsa University teams.

Everyone agreed that the Owls' once formidable 4-0 record was in the past.
Now, with only two games left in the season, the Owls were on the verge of a possible appearance in the NCAA playoffs.

Tulsa had one wish to do their fans justice and prevent a losing streak.
They knew that if they could win, they would have a chance at a bowl game.

The Owls' defense was their strength, allowing only 14 points per game.
Their offense, on the other hand, was struggling, scoring just 12 points per game.

The game was a high-stakes one for both teams, with the Owls needing a victory to stay in contention for a bowl bid.

The Owls started the game with a field goal, giving them a 3-0 lead.

In the second quarter, the Owls' defense held TCU without a point, keeping their lead.

But in the third quarter, TCU's offense came alive, scoring 10 points and tying the game.

The Owls responded in the fourth quarter with a touchdown, restoring their lead.

TCU was not to be denied, however, and they scored again to tie the game once more.

The Owls managed to hold on for a 17-16 victory, securing their place in the NCAA playoffs and giving their fans a reason to celebrate.

The Owls' next game was against the Sooners, and they knew it would be a tough battle.

But they were determined to prove themselves and show that they were worthy of a bowl game.

The Owls' fans were ecstatic, and the Owls' players were overjoyed, knowing that they had taken a huge step towards achieving their goal.

The Owls' victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication, and it showed that they were a team to be reckoned with.

The Owls' journey was far from over, but they knew that they had taken a huge step forward, and they were ready to take on whatever challenges came their way.

Laid VIGIL. Not—There’s a song with the Weary got thing out of here, including Tuesday of them. The forecast was the best they could do, and it’s the best they can do at the moment. It’s the best they can do in the short term, but in the long term, they’re going to have to think about the future.

They win more than they lose, but it’s a difficult season. The forecast was the best they could do, but the long-term forecast is not as good.

There’s a need for the Vegas to open up these types of bets. One of the best ways to do this is to bet on the total. The total is usually higher for games against the spread than for games in the division. That’s because the division is usually higher for games in the division.

Texas’ Key Man

The key man for Texas’ defense is Alvin Lewis, a converted defensive end. He’s been a star on defense and has made some key plays. He’s also been a consistent player, and his performance has been crucial to Texas’ success.

Wolfe Earns Coach's Award

When game-winning touchdown was scored by the Sooners for the first time in the 1972 season, the last person most people gave credit to was Wolfe. But that's exactly what happened.

Wolfe didn't make the headlines, but he was just as crucial to the team's success. In fact, he scored the game-winning touchdown.

The win was a result of Wolfe's hard work and dedication to the team. He was always ready to step up when needed.

Wolfe's award was well deserved. He has been a valuable member of the team throughout the season.

Chances are good to see Wolfe continue his success next season.

City Players Impress Hogs' Scout

Arkansas officials think that the Sooners are a very good team. They have a lot of talent, and they are well-coached. The Sooners have a lot of experience on the field, and they are very well-organized.

The Sooners are expected to do well in their upcoming games. They have a strong offense and a solid defense. The Sooners are expected to make it to the championship.

The Sooners will face tough competition, but they are confident in their abilities. They are looking forward to the challenges ahead.

Tiger Pass Rush Still Draws Critics

Big 9 Standings

A desire for excellence

Winning a game is not the only goal of the Tiger Pass Rush. The Rush is a team that is dedicated to excellence in every aspect of the game. This dedication is evident in the way they approach practice and in the way they prepare for each game. They know that the only way to succeed is to give their best effort every time. And that's exactly what they do. They work hard every day to improve their skills and to get better at what they do.

Winning a game is not the only goal of the Tiger Pass Rush. The Rush is a team that is dedicated to excellence in every aspect of the game. This dedication is evident in the way they approach practice and in the way they prepare for each game. They know that the only way to succeed is to give their best effort every time. And that's exactly what they do. They work hard every day to improve their skills and to get better at what they do.
