Growers Ask Russian Wheat Sale Probe

By HARRY CRUTHER

Participants in a five-state wheat conference called for a federal investigation into a Russian wheat sale to Oklahoma.

The conference, which was held in Oklahoma City, included representatives from Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, and Arkansas.

The Oklahoma Grains and Livestock Commission, which regulates the state's wheat market, said it would look into the matter.

The conference was organized by the National Wheat Association and the Oklahoma Wheat Commission.

President John C. White said, "We need a federal investigation into this matter to ensure that the wheat sold to Oklahoma is of high quality and meets all standards."

Skilled Buffs Concern Chuck

Navarre—Galatian coach Chuck Kelsohoksi didn’t have many doubts about the Buffaloes’ performance in the conference championship game against Treuville on Thursday night. Although 11-1-1 in the league, the Buffaloes have to play well in the state tournament, which will begin Friday in Columbus at 3 p.m. for the first-round games.

The Bollards, who are fourth in the league, are 7-2-3 overall.

The Buffaloes are 1-1-1 in the league.

Treuville coach Gary Stockamp said his team is a good team, but they need to work on their passing and their defense.

He said the Buffaloes have a lot of speed and are good in midfield, but they need to improve in the back.

Navarre coach Scott Kelsohoksi said his team is a good team and they can win the state tournament.

He said the Buffaloes have a lot of experience and they will be ready for the tournament.

Treuville coach Dan Weigman said his team is a good team and they can win the state tournament.

Coin Toss Gave Frogs The Edge

By TOM DELATO

Wichita Falls, Texas, Saturday night was exciting... and not only exciting... but exciting... as well. It was the first time in history that the Oklahoma State University Cowboys had faced the University of Missouri Tigers in football. The game was held in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas.

The Cowboys, led by quarterback Billy Wynn, were off to a slow start, falling behind 7-0 in the first quarter. However, they rallied in the second quarter, scoring 14 points to take a 14-7 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Cowboys scored again, adding 7 points to their lead, making the score 21-7. In the fourth quarter, the Tigers scored 13 points, but it was too little too late as the Cowboys won the game 21-13.

The Cowboys' victory was a big win for their fans, who had been waiting for this moment for years. The team's performance was impressive, with quarterback Billy Wynn throwing for 260 yards and 2 touchdowns. The Cowboys' defense also played a significant role in the victory, holding the Tigers to just 13 points.

The Cowboys' win was a big boost for their confidence, and they went on to have a successful season, finishing their regular season with a record of 7-3. Their victory over the Tigers helped them secure a spot in the Sugar Bowl, where they went on to face the University of Alabama. The Cowboys won the game, 14-7, and went on to win the Sugar Bowl, cementing their place in football history.

OSU's Vann Almost Took Up Band Career

"It takes a lot to get back to Oklahoma to play some of these homecoming games. You know, my brother and sister are here, my mother and father are here, and I've never felt so good to be back."

Cleveland Vann was a star football player for the Oklahoma State University Cowboys, but he almost went down a different path. In his early years, Vann was a dedicated band student and showed promise in playing the drums. Eventually, he made the transition to the football field, but it wasn't until his senior year that he truly excelled.

"Myself and my brothers played the drums, but I always had a flair for it. One day, my mother suggested I try out for the football team. I never thought I'd be good enough, but she believed in me."

Vann's performance on the field was nothing short of spectacular. His speed and agility made him a force to be reckoned with, and he quickly became a key player for the Cowboys. His dedication to his team and his love for the sport helped him overcome any initial doubts and become the star he is today.

"Looking back, I'm grateful for that decision. Band was a part of my life for many years, and it shaped who I am today. But football is where I belong."

Despite his initial hesitation, Vann's transition to the football team paid off in more ways than one. Not only did he become a All-American defensive back, but his presence on the field helped instill a new sense of pride and passion in his teammates.

"I think my love for the drums continues to influence me on the field. It's like having that extra drive."

So, while Vann's journey from the drumline to the gridiron may not have been a traditional one, it's clear that his passion for the sport runs deep. And through his determination and hard work, he's proven that anything is possible.

"It's not just about the touchdowns and the yardage. It's about the bonds you make and the memories you create. And I've got a lot of those in the Oklahoma State dressing room."
