Liquor Franchising Votes Date To 1959

"Franchising is the American way. You can find it on every street corner." said Gooch, president, Oklahoma Malt Beverage Association.

"The purpose of franchising is to do away with free enterprise so that the distillers can control the liquor industry from New York." - Clifton Thomas, representative, Saunders for Alcohol and Narcotics Education.

By HARRY TEMPLE
The same in every state.

On Nov. 7, the people of Arkansas will also have the first chance to vote on liquor by the drink. Franchise law will mean that there will be no more "bottle shops" or "strip clubs" to sell hard liquor. The state of Illinois will also have the first chance to vote on liquor by the drink in 1959.

Veterans Get Raise

GI BILL BENEFITS, VA FUNDS HIRED

You probably heard about the veteran who once dreamed of being a lawyer. But did you know that he was a lawyer?

Past VETERANS Day honors were given to veterans who served in World War II, Korea, and Vietnam. But did you know that veterans who served in Korea and Vietnam also served in World War II?

Our VETERANS Day honors were given to veterans who served in World War II, Korea, and Vietnam. But did you know that veterans who served in Korea and Vietnam also served in World War II?

There is a new appreciation for the sacrifices of our VETERANS. On VETERANS Day we honor the veterans who served in World War II, Korea, and Vietnam. But did you know that veterans who served in Korea and Vietnam also served in World War II?

The news is good to hear, especially for those who have been waiting for the return of a familiar voice to the world of sports commentary. The comment from the noted sports writer suggests a positive outlook for the future, and it's clear that his enthusiasm is contagious. The columnists, in turn, seem to echo this optimism, adding their own insights and perspectives to the conversation.

After Slow Start, Dave's Humming

By DOYLE MAY

The setting was the Hollywood Bowl, and the players were the Los Angeles Dodgers and the New York Yankees. The Dodgers had scored in the first inning, and the Yankees in the second, but both teams were struggling to find their rhythm. The crowd was restless, waiting for something to happen.

The Dodgers' pitcher, Dave's Humming, was on the mound. He had been a star in college, and many expected him to continue his success in the majors. Despite his early struggles, he showed signs of improvement as the game progressed. The Yankees' batters seemed to be struggling against his fastball, and he was able to strike out a few of them. The crowd began to cheer, and Dave's Humming seemed to gain confidence.

As the game continued, Dave's Humming continued to pitch effectively. He allowed only a few hits and struck out several batters. The Dodgers were able to capitalize on their own opportunities, and they scored several runs late in the game. The Yankees, on the other hand, were unable to score and were eventually defeated.

The crowd erupted in cheers as the Dodgers won the game. Dave's Humming was named the game's MVP, and the Dodgers moved closer to the top of the standings. His performance was a reminder that even in the face of challenges, hard work and determination can lead to success.

Ted, Gale: A Very Special Kind

Let Us Coordinate the Shirts, Ties and Socks and we'll Give Them to You!

Ted Williams, and Gale Sayers, right, have never been known for their speed. Williams, now 82, is a former baseball player, while Sayers, now 75, was a former football player. Williams, a former Boston Red Sox player, was known for his hitting ability, while Sayers, a former Chicago Bears player, was known for his running ability. Both men have been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Ted Williams is a great example of a baseball player who could run very fast. He was known for his speed, and was able to steal bases and score runs for the Red Sox. Sayers, on the other hand, was known for his speed as a running back for the Bears. He was able to run for long distances and score touchdowns.

Williams and Sayers both have a special kind of speed. Williams' speed was used to his advantage in the field, while Sayers' speed was used to his advantage on the field. Both men were able to use their speed to their advantage, and both were able to make an impact on their respective sports.

Central Runaway Feared In OCAC

By CRELL SECONDA

Central State appears to be heading for the nation's top three as Oklahoma Collegiate Athletic Conference (OCAC)eeper indicates. But Broncho coach Phil Robertson is a little cautious in predicting the outcome of the conference. The Bronchos' schedule is grueling and the team's injuries are nagging.

"If everything goes well," said Robertson, "we'll be in position to take the conference championship." Robertson is convinced that his team has the potential to take the top spot in the conference.

Central State's strength lies in its defense, according to Robertson. "We have the best defense in the conference," he said. "They can stop any team in the league." Robertson also praised his team's offensive capabilities, citing the leadership of quarterback Tim Johnson.

Johnson, an All-Conference selection last year, has been consistently effective this season. "He's a great quarterback," said Robertson. "He makes good decisions and is a great leader for the team." Johnson's passing has been a key to Central State's success, as the Bronchos rank second in the conference in passing yards.

The Bronchos' defense has been equally impressive, allowing only 14 points per game. "Our defense is the best in the conference," Robertson said. "They can stop any team in the league." Robertson is confident that his team can hold onto the conference championship, but he also recognizes the challenges of the remaining schedule.

The Bronchos have a tough road ahead, with games against some of the top teams in the conference. "We have to be prepared for every game," said Robertson. "We can't take any game lightly." Robertson is confident that his team can handle the challenges ahead and achieve their goals. "We have the talent and the dedication to succeed," he said. "We'll see how it goes."
