Personality May Raise Cancer Susceptibility

By RICHARD E. and HARRIET E. STRONG

The past 20 years the implications of psychological factors in the etiology of cancer have been of particular interest. It was observed that patients with cancer were often under stress, and that the disease may have spread from one area of the body to another under stress. A number of studies have shown that certain psychological factors can influence the development of cancer. The study of the relationship between personality and cancer is a complex issue, and there is no single theory that can explain all the findings. However, recent research has indicated that certain personality traits, such as neuroticism and extraversion, may be associated with an increased risk of developing cancer. This suggests that personality factors may play a role in the development of cancer, and that this may be an important area for future research.

Hanoi May Revise Strategy Now Election Over

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States is likely to ease its military strategy toward the South Vietnam in the wake of the recent election victory by the Vietnamese National Front for the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, according to a recent report. The new administration of President Thieu, which took office following the election, has indicated a desire to reduce the military presence in Vietnam and to seek a peaceful resolution to the conflict. The United States is expected to support this approach, and to work with the new government to establish a new relationship based on mutual respect and cooperation. The United States is also expected to continue its assistance to the South Vietnamese government, but to do so in a more cautious and strategic manner. The United States is expected to work with the new government to establish a new set of guidelines to govern the relationship between the United States and South Vietnam, and to ensure that the assistance provided is in line with the new approach.

Disappointed Lansky Surrenders In Miami

MIAMI — The popular gambling tycoon, Meyer Lansky, has been extradited to the United States in connection with the recent gambling scandal in the state of Florida. Lansky, who is alleged to have been involved in the gambling business in the state for many years, has been accused of bribery and other crimes. The federal government has indicated that it plans to seek a trial for Lansky in federal court. The state of Florida has indicated that it will continue to investigate the case and to seek the extradition of Lansky in state court. Adventures In Sewing...
Stitching Striped Fabrics Requires Particular Attention

By MARY L. MORGAN

Sewing striped fabrics can be a challenge, but with the right techniques, you can create beautiful garments. Here are some tips to help you stitch striped fabrics:

- Use a straight stitch, as it is the most versatile and forgiving stitch for stitching stripes.
- When sewing across the stripes, be sure to match the stripes as you sew, to avoid any visible gaps or misalignments.
- Use a matching thread color to the fabric, if possible, to ensure a seamless look.
- If you are using a sewing machine, use a walking foot to help feed the fabric through the machine smoothly.

In the next issue, we will explore more techniques for sewing with stripes. Stay tuned for more sewing advice.

Are Working ‘Romeos’ Supermen?

By JIM BRYANT

The idea that working-class people are the real heroes of our society is gaining traction in some circles. It’s a perspective that challenges the traditional view of the ‘Roman’ as the model of masculinity. Here are some thoughts on the topic:

- The working class is often undervalued and underappreciated in our society.
- Working-class people often face challenges that are not experienced by those in the upper class.
- There is an opportunity to reframe the concept of masculinity to include working-class people.

In the next issue, we will explore more perspectives on the working class and masculinity. Stay tuned for more insights.

Johnny Bench, Cincinnati Reds

NEW YORK CITY - Johnny Bench, catcher for the World Series champion Cincinnati Reds, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player Tuesday.

The 23-year-old catcher hit .305 with 24 home runs and 100 runs batted in, and also was named to the National League's All-Star team.

Bench, who is a left-handed hitter, was named to the All-Star team for the second straight year. He was a member of the Reds' World Series champion team in 1972.

Bench said he was surprised when he was named the National League's Most Valuable Player.

"I thought it was going to be a pretty close vote," Bench said. "I was just hoping to be named to the All-Star team again."

WORK or PLAY...

What to see at the Auto Show of the Century.

First, be sure to see the car with big Buick features in a new, smaller size. Buick's new Century Lucerne. The remodeled new Buick with the look of a pure luxury-car. About the only thing that isn't luxurious is its price. Ask it.

Check under the Century's hood. Buick's 300 V8 engine. Front disc brakes. AIR (Air Injection Reactor) and EGR (Exhaust Gas Recirculation) emission control systems. Accu-Drive suspension system which provides ride and handling just like the biggest Buicks made.

Then, be sure to take a look inside a Century Regal. Interiors are available as luxurious as any Buick built today. Feel the upholstery. Sink deep into Buick's thick seats.

Ask one of the Buick people at the Show how the new Century really is. About its new frame. Fio-thru power ventilation. Dual-rate body mounts. A computer that individually matches chassis springs to each Century's equipped weight.

Next, the Buick Electra 225. This is full Buick luxury. Run your eyes over the interior. Think of what comfort and quiet like that would mean to you after a hard day's work. Take a look at the list of standard equipment you get with an Electra 225.

Riversa. Because it's a Buick original. In styling, comfort, performance. A unique luxury package for people who dare to be different. Maybe like you.

It'll take a while, but that's OK. Note the 455-cubic-inch engine, standard. And, again this year, there'll be no other car here at the Show quite like our

BUICK.

The solid feeling for '73.

Three Straight Wins Put Growl In Tigers

By TOM WRIGHT
Executive Sports Editor

The Missouri football team has weathered a rigorous schedule to win the last 3 of the 12 football games.

The Tigers, among the pre-season and now ranked schools in the Southwest, are 6-2 this season and lead the Big 8 Conference, where they have been placed 1-0.

The Tigers' success continues to build confidence. Senior quarterback John Barry, a senior, has won the Big 8 Conference, where they have been placed 1-0.

The Tigers' defense, led by senior linebacker John Barry, shut out Kansas State 17-0 in the last game, allowing only 1 total point. In the previous two games, Missouri defeated Kansas State 20-7 and Texas 21-14.

John Barry, a senior, has led the offense, scoring 14 times and passing for 9 touchdowns. Barry's leadership has been key in the team's success.

The defense, led by Barry, has held opponents to an average of 10.5 points per game, allowing only 3 touchdowns in the last 3 games.

Tigers' coach Mike Johnson expressed his admiration for the team's performance: "Our defense has been strong all season, and the offense has been stepping up. We're a really good team this year, and we're going to keep getting better.

The Tigers are now 6-2 and are tied for first place in the Big 8 Conference. They have a tough road ahead, but they're ready to accept the challenge.

Tulsa Grid Outlook Turns For The Best

Tulsa — Apparently all is well again at the Tulsa University football scene. It isn't quite the dominant force of old, but it isn't nearly as bad as it seemed it would be two weeks ago. And the Tigers could have been a lot worse.

In fact, the Tulsa Tigers are in a situation where they have a chance to win the Conference. They have the Conference in their sights. And if they can hold their own in the final games, they could be in the running for a Conference title.

Their offense has been strong, and their defense has been good. They have a chance to be a strong team, and they have a chance to win the Conference.

The Oklahoma City Times

Van Rosbrugh, Oklahoma City, has his 11-year-old son, Dutch, play football for the University of Oklahoma. Dutch, who is the team’s tailback, is a natural athlete and plays a key role in the Sooners’ offense.

Coach Barry Switzer, who has coached the Sooners for many years, is pleased with Dutch’s performance on the field. "He’s a natural talent," Coach Switzer said. "Dutch has a great work ethic and is a great teammate. He’s a valuable asset to our team."

Kilmer Confident
He'll Do The Job

NEW YORK (AP) - Bill Kilmer, who resigned earlier as quarterback coach of the New England Patriots, is working on the staff of the Dallas Cowboys.

"I said no one knows how to do the job," Kilmer said. "I'm not talking about having a perfect quarterback coach. I'm talking about taking a good quarterback coach and having one that can do the job."
'Mighty Mite' Fires Tigers

Oklahoma City... "The mighty Mite" is a small package, but it packs a punch. The Sooners have a strong defense and a solid running game, while the Oklahoma State defense is vulnerable. Expect a high-scoring game with the Sooners coming out on top.

Central Hosts Redmen Saturday Night

Broncos Eye Perfect Year

By CHELSEA DAVIS

The Bronco faithful saw their team away on the road for the first time this season. Now, with the confines of Floyd Courson Stadium in the background, the gas prices on the rise, and the residents of Norman ready to cheer, the Broncs are ready to take on the Redmen.

Central celebrates a perfect season last year, and now they have their sights set on a repeat performance. The Broncs have dominated their opponents, winning every game so far this season. The defense has been impenetrable, with only one point scored against them in the entire season. The offense has been explosive, with over 500 yards of total offense per game. The Broncs are looking to continue their winning streak.

Bombers, Grant Picked To Roll

By AL ESCHBAKH

Cagers Getting Ready

Scare Audray

By CHARLIE BUCKNER

The University of Oklahoma's basketball season is just around the corner, and the team is ready to go. Assistant Coach Bob Knight will have his team in shape for the season opener against Quinnipac University on October 20th. The Sooners are expected to have a strong season, with several returning players and a few new faces in the lineup.

Pirate Ace Honored

Just about everyone who's seen a baseball game in his life has heard of the great Roberto Clemente. But few people know about the great Roberto Clemente Jr., who is currently playing for the Pirates in the minor leagues. Clemente Jr. is considered one of the top prospects in baseball, and many people believe he will be a star in the major leagues within the next few years.

Perfect Year Cities Sears

This year was a perfect year for Cities Sears. They won every game they played and set a record for the most consecutive wins in the history of the sport. Cities Sears was undefeated and unchallenged throughout the season.
