OSU's Giant Killers Do Trick Again

By TOM DILLON

The Oklahoma State University's national baseball championship team won its thirty-first game in a row yesterday afternoon, giving its fans a victory that was more than just another win, but a moment of joy and triumph.

The game was played in front of a packed stadium, with fans cheering loudly and waving scarves and flags. The atmosphere was electric, with the crowd's energy palpable and the excitement of victory in the air.

The game was close at first, with the Oklahoma State Giants leading by a slim margin in the first inning. However, the team's offense kicked into gear in the second inning, scoring three runs and never looking back.

The Giants' pitcher, Dave Collins, was lights out on the mound, allowing just one run in six innings. He struck out eight batters and walked none, leaving the Oklahoma State fans in awe of his performance.

The team's defense was equally impressive, with catcher Mike Miller glove job in the third inning, accounting for two of the Giants' runs.

The win puts Oklahoma State Giants in a strong position for the remainder of the season, with hopes of a national championship on the horizon. The team's fans are already making plans for the next game, which is set to take place next week.

NFL Draft

Choosing the Right Team

By JUNE SMITH

Choosing the right team is one of the most important decisions a football player will ever make. It's a decision that will shape their career and impact their future.

It's a decision that every college football player faces in the NFL Draft. And it's a decision that can be overwhelming, with so many options and so many factors to consider.

The NFL Draft is a highly competitive event, with top college players vying for the attention of the NFL's 32 teams. It's a process that begins months in advance, with scouts and front office personnel evaluating players and making predictions on their potential success in the NFL.

But choosing the right team is more than just a matter of talent and potential. It's about finding a team that fits with a player's personality and playing style, and a team that has the resources and commitment to help a player reach their full potential.

It's about finding a team that will support a player's personal and professional goals, and a team that has a winning culture and a strong tradition.

It's about finding a team that will provide a player with the resources and opportunities to make a meaningful impact on the field and in the community.

It's about finding a team that will help a player reach their full potential, and a team that will reward them for their hard work and dedication.

It's about finding a team that will make a player proud to be a part of it, and a team that will make a player want to be a part of it for the rest of their career.

The NFL Draft is a process that can be overwhelming, but it's also a process that can be rewarding. It's a process that can make a player's dreams come true, and it's a process that can help a player achieve their goals and reach their full potential.

It's a process that requires hard work, dedication, and a lot of support. But it's also a process that can be incredibly rewarding, and it's a process that can help a player reach their full potential in the NFL.

Weather

It is always interesting to see how much the weather can affect a community's mood. In the case of our town, the recent rain has not only brought much-needed moisture to the thirsty soil, but it has also added a cheerful sparkle to the skies. The有利于 make the perfect conditions for outdoor activities, and we encourage everyone to take advantage of this beautiful weather.

States Get Checks
In Revenue Sharing

By Mr. Jace L. Robinson

States are getting a share of the revenue sharing program under the new federal income tax revenue-sharing law. The prorgram provides a formula by which states receive revenue from the federal government based on the amount of income tax paid by the state. The formula takes into account the state's population and the

Film Pulls No Punches On Hero, Lady

The Los Angeles Times

LONDON - The most recent movie about a secret agent has created a stir in Hollywood, but that sort of excitement is not new for Edmond, the film's star. He has been the subject of many spy thrillers, but his latest adventure, "Edmond, Exhibit On Tap," has captured the attention of the London cinema world. The story follows Edmond, a British agent, as he tries to save the world from a sinister plot. The film is directed by Tony Bridge, who is known for his work on other espionage films. The lead role is played by Edmond himself, who brings his signature style to the character. The film is expected to be a hit, and critics are already predicting it will be a box office success.

Artist? Directors Says No

VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP) - Artist and director Peter Green was expected to make his mark in the film industry with his latest project, "Art Deco," but the film has been met with disappointment. The film was expected to be a visual spectacle, with Green's signature style, but critics have been critical of the film's execution. The lead role is played by actress Lila, who has been praised for her previous work, but her performance in "Art Deco" has been described as lackluster. The film has been criticized for its lack of a clear narrative and its heavy reliance on visual effects.

Painter Emerges As Promising Talent

BY STEVIE DUNN

When Lee Chadwick was sent to the McAlester Reformatory in 1970, he didn’t know what to expect. He had been in and out of prison many times. He had never expected to find himself behind bars again. The experience, however, would change him. Chadwick learned to paint. The art act as a release valve for the former inmate. He learned to express himself through paint.

The story of Chadwick is unusual, but it is not unique. Many inmates find solace in art. Art can be a form of therapy, a way to escape the realities of prison life. Chadwick is now a successful artist, a testament to the power of art and its ability to transform lives.

Chadwick’s work is shown in numerous galleries and museums across the country. He has received numerous awards and accolades for his work. His paintings are characterized by their use of bold colors and dynamic compositions. They are a reflection of his life and experiences. Chadwick’s work is a testament to the power of art and its ability to transform lives.

Sport’s Looking Up

Hot Air Ballooning Gains Favor

Following: As a spectator sport, hot air ballooning is definitely looking up. Rising from the ranks of such obscure pastimes as skin diving and nude dancing, hot air ballooning is making a comeback. Swifter Than A Jogger, Flip's Always In Rush

The Washington Post

Flip Wilson. The name is as familiar as the image that goes with it. The man, the voice, the laugh, have become as inseparable as the moon and the stars. Flip Wilson -- he's always in rush.

Wilson was born in Memphis, Tenn., and grew up to become a television personality known for his quick wit and ability to keep audiences laughing. His show, "Flip Wilson's Gold Rush," aired on NBC from 1968 to 1970.

Wilson's career began in the 1950s when he started performing stand-up comedy in clubs and on local television shows. He quickly gained a reputation for his improvisational skills and his ability to connect with his audience.

In 1968, Wilson was offered a chance to host his own show on NBC, "Flip Wilson's Gold Rush." The show was a success, and Wilson became one of the most popular comedians of the time.

But Wilson's career wasn't without its challenges. He struggled with alcoholism and drug addiction for many years, but was able to overcome these issues and continue to perform.

Wilson retired from television in 1977, but continued to work in different media, including movies and music. He also began writing books and doing stand-up comedy.

Despite his many accomplishments, Wilson's most lasting legacy is likely his work on "Flip Wilson's Gold Rush." The show remains a beloved classic, and Wilson is remembered as one of the greatest comedians of all time.

The play is directed by Don Weinberg. All performance times and locations are subject to change. For more information, call the box office at 405-749-4849.

Too Much Love or Too Little...

Why Can't We Learn to Treat Animals Sanely?

By Felicia Ames

"Could we perhaps take stock of our cruel and silly selves and begin to treat pets with respect for the wonderful animals they are? Not surrogate pampered children, nor insatiable objects on which to vent our hostilities, but sensitive, intelligent creatures who give us so much and ask so little?"

The too emotional pet owner behavior—the sadist and the "pet"—probably have had coexistence with an animal come too late. They are, one might surmise, more likely to be educators and other human organizations. Many of us are aware of the fact that many people and at least some of us are aware of the fact that many animals in the home are treated as objects of affection. Some animals have been known to be considered pets in the home.

How We Decorate Our Home at Christmas

By Kathryn Crosby, as told to Helen Davers

Decorating isn't a very big part of our Christmas. Making it a personal effort to decorate the house because it's fun and convenient is a matter of doing things and adding to the holiday spirit. For each of us, it's like saying, "Hey, look, I'm having a good time." And the kids like it, too.

We do try to create a Christmas atmosphere with new things. Each year we peek our hangings to create the atmosphere that we like. Sometimes the children like to see their earlier efforts. They like to change decorations too. Each year we have more fun with the children and growing up. Decorating is not something that we do.

Christmas has always been a major event for the kids. Christmas is a family affair. Dad and Mom will do Christmas for the children. Bob Has and Chris Francis will do Christmas for the children.

Beautifully wrapped gifts are always part of the decor in the hall. They stay well into the new year and until all are used. We never hide our gifts. The children have always been left in the room where they are used. Everybody likes to see what everybody else is getting too.

We use glass window frames as our living room. The French doors. The frames have been used on our TV a special year. Actually there is no glass in the frame. It's just a thin piece of glass. It's not a frame. We use it just behind the frame. We use it just behind the frame. We use it just behind the frame. We use it just behind the frame. We use it just behind the frame. We use it just behind the frame. We use it just behind the frame.

A Christmas stocking big enough to hold a small motorcycle! Believe it or not, it's true. And the only place you can get one is at your participating Honda dealer's.

How much? It's absolutely free when you purchase a new little Honda QA 50 or Mini Trail 50 as a gift for your youngsters. Or a CT 70 for yourself.

Why the huge hosiery? Just because it's fun and that the little Honda's are all about.

The crazy giant all-cloth stocking will be fun this Christmas and many Christmases to come. The Honda will be fun all year long.

For the best small motorcycles, and the biggest Christmas stocking, see your Honda dealer. And have a Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Honda.

College Process for Coasters/Rings, Page 10

Make a solution of 1/4 gude and 1/4 water, then gently paint the object to be covered. Allow it to dry. Paint three coats of Glo-Coat (undercoat, base coat, and topcoat). Coat each piece of tissue before starting another layer. The size of the tissue pieces will vary with the size of the surface to be covered. The number of layers of Glo-Coat will determine the thickness of the coating. Each coat takes several hours to completely dry. This varnish is a coating varnish.

Jobmanship
Are You Having Trouble with a New Job?
You may have a new job and still be in the same old rut. You may have just moved to a new town and feel out of place. Have you considered the possibility that you can break the stress of the old job and get a new start with a new job? If you have, you may have already found that there is more to a new job than just changing your work environment. But there is another important factor that you should consider: your own personal view of your job.

Sports Mini-Profile
Lemmy, "Mean" Joe Greene.

"When You Pump the Cruise Control..."
Joe Greene, the Pittsburgh Steelers' defensive tackle, is known as "Mean" Joe Greene because of his hairy chest and bulging muscles when he strides across the field. Joe is also known for his strong tackling ability on the field. Joe Green holds the NFL record for tackles in a game, with 16 tackles against the New York Giants. Joe's strength and power are not only due to his natural ability, but also to his dedication and determination to be the best.
