Saigon Told End Near

By STEVE DICKINSON

The Washington Post

The major reason for the end of the war in Vietnam is that the American public, for so long unwilling to admit they were in Vietnam, has finally come to grips with the facts.

The United States has given up trying to overthrow the communist regime in Saigon and is now preparing to withdraw its forces.

The American public is now beginning to realize that the war in Vietnam has been a costly and disastrous failure.

No Job Meaning?
Air Materiel Program Attempts To Make Worker Feel Needed
by NANCY LANS
Oklahoma City Editor

A grim product of the industrial revolution has been the runaway flow of workers from one manufacturer to another in search of a better job. In the United States, the trend is to a more stable job market as the Federal Government's role in the economy is reduced. However, in Oklahoma City, there are still workers who have difficulty finding employment.

One reason for this is that the Federal Government's budget cuts have led to a decrease in the demand for workers. The Federal Government is the largest employer in the city, and its cuts have had a significant impact on the job market.

Another reason is that many workers are unskilled and do not have the necessary skills to find employment. The lack of education and training programs in the city has contributed to this problem.

The local government has been working to address these issues. They have set up job training programs and have worked with local businesses to create job opportunities.

In conclusion, while there is still a work shortage in Oklahoma City, there has been progress in addressing the issue. With continued effort, the city will be able to create a more stable job market.

Production Sew-Sew
With Cloth Shortage
by NANCY LANS
Oklahoma City Editor

The recent increase in the cost of cotton has caused a shortage of cloth in the Oklahoma City area. This has led to a decrease in the production of cloth, which in turn has led to a decrease in the production of clothing.

The textile industry is one of the largest employers in the city, and the shortage of cloth has had a significant impact on the local economy.

The local government has been working to address the issue. They have set up programs to help employers find new sources of cloth. They have also worked with local businesses to create jobs in other areas.

In conclusion, while there is still a work shortage in Oklahoma City, there has been progress in addressing the issue. With continued effort, the city will be able to create a more stable job market.

Mall, Four Stores Sign Contracts
A recent trend in the Oklahoma City area has been the signing of contracts with new stores. This has led to the increase in the number of stores in the area, which in turn has led to the increase in the number of jobs.

The local government has been working to address the issue. They have set up programs to help employers find new sources of cloth. They have also worked with local businesses to create jobs in other areas.

In conclusion, while there is still a work shortage in Oklahoma City, there has been progress in addressing the issue. With continued effort, the city will be able to create a more stable job market.

Explicit Burial Instructions Accompany Will

by Dorothy Atkinson

A TOUGH WINTER

In keeping with our economy of space, we are not publishing this morning's front page story about the end of Mrs. H. E. Smith's life. However, the nonpublication is not because of reluctance but because the story is too personal to be included in the paper. Mrs. Smith's children asked that their mother's death be kept private, and we have agreed to respect their wishes.

Mrs. Smith was a long-time resident of Oklahoma City, and her funeral arrangements are being handled by the family. The service will be private, and the family requests that no obituaries be published.

Holiday Fashions Favor New Mood

In a mood of choice and selectivity to the point of being a little finicky, women are shopping carefully for Christmas gifts. They want to show that they care without overspending.

One of the fashion trends this holiday season is the use of multiple knits. Women are adding more knits to their wardrobes rather than subtracting the less important garments. This approach is working well for many women who are trying to make their money stretch as far as possible.

Explicit Burial Instructions Accompany Will

By JERRY BUTLER

Helen Help Us!

The will written by Helen, who is often referred to as the "Maiden of the Mist," contains explicit instructions for her burial. According to the will, she requests to be buried in a small wooden coffin, with a simple cross carved on the lid. The coffin is to be placed in a small, unmarked grave in the family plot. Helen also requests that no one speak at her funeral and that no flowers or other decorations be placed on her coffin. She asks that her ashes be scattered in the same spot where her husband's ashes were scattered, which is on a small island in the middle of a lake. The will also contains instructions for her children to follow, including a list of charitable organizations to which they should donate a portion of their inheritance.

Formal Weddings Highlight Weekend

By CLARENCE LAMBERT

The wedding season is in full swing, with several formal weddings scheduled for this weekend. The first wedding is scheduled to take place at the historic downtown church, with a reception to follow at the grand ballroom of the city's best hotel. The couple, who have been engaged for over a year, are setting a high bar for elegance and sophistication. The second wedding is expected to be held at a private estate, with a theme inspired by the Renaissance. The bride and groom have spent months planning every detail, from the menu to the music. The third wedding is set to take place at a beachside venue, with a laid-back vibe and a focus on fun and laughter. The couple is expected to tie the knot in front of close friends and family, with a reception to follow at a nearby restaurant.

Multiple knits. Add more to your wardrobe, subtract less from your budget.

Holiday Fashions Favor New Mood

By JERRY BUTLER

The holiday season is in full swing, and retailers are capitalizing on the new mood of consumers. This year, fashion retailers are offering a variety of styles and colors to cater to the changing tastes of shoppers. The most popular trend this season is the high-neck, long-sleeve top, which is being worn with high-waisted pants or skirts. The trend is expected to continue through the winter season, with retailers offering a range of colors and prints. Other popular styles include the off-the-shoulder top, which is being paired with layered necklaces and statement earrings. The black and white color palette is also making a comeback, with retailers offering a range of dresses, tops, and accessories in these classic colors. Overall, this season's holiday fashion is all about comfort and versatility, with retailers offering a range of styles that can be worn both day and night.

Forget About Wearing Turtleneck, Slacks To Nuptials

By Doris Aronson

New York — It can be hard enough for many brides to pixie without having to worry about what to wear. We've come to expect that wedding gowns, veils, and tiaras are a common ingredient. But why not break the mold and opt for something a little more modern? Slacks might be considered an unconventional choice, but they can be incredibly stylish and comfortable. Here are some ideas to inspire your nuptial attire:

GLENBROOK APARTMENTS

The Glenbrook Apartments, located at 6233 N. Grand and Grant and Western Avenues, is undoubtedly the most unique apartment complex in the city. A unique brick walkway cutting through the Southeast, Glenbrook offers new and modern living with comfort and style in mind. Expressing a distinctive personality, Glenbrook is distinguished by large overhanging eaves and gracefully curved walls. At the front of the entrance, a combination of rectilinear shapes and curves creates an inviting appearance that harmonizes with surrounding buildings. The key to the Glenbrook Apartments' charm lies in the spaciousness of the apartments. Each apartment includes a kitchen, dining and living room, with separate bathrooms for added privacy. A real plus is the second bedroom, which can be used as a study or guest room. The Glenbrook Apartments is available for both short-term and long-term rentals—ideal for those seeking daily or weekly accommodations. The property offers a wide array of amenities, including a swimming pool and fitness center. The apartments are well-equipped with modern furnishings, providing a comfortable and convenient living experience. Whether you're looking for a temporary stay or a place to call home, Glenbrook Apartments offers an unmatched level of luxury and style.

Oklahoma City's musical community has a new star in the making. Fisher is a native Oklahoma Cityan who was discovered by one of the city's most successful music producers, who is also a native of Oklahoma City. Fisher is from a musical family, and his parents are both musicians. Fisher started out playing in local bars and clubs, and eventually landed a recording contract with a major label. He has been working hard to make a name for himself in the music industry, and his hard work is paying off.

"The key to success," Fisher says, "is to have a strong work ethic, a good attitude, and a willingness to work hard. You have to be willing to do whatever it takes to get where you want to be. You have to be willing to make sacrifices, and you have to be willing to put in the hours."

Fisher's music is a mix of rock, R&B, and soul. His songs are filled with emotion and passion, and they are sure to appeal to a wide audience.

"I want to be a musician," Fisher says, "because I love music. I love the feeling of performing in front of a live audience. I love the way music can touch people's hearts."

Fisher's first album, "Fun Cover," was released last year. It features a mix of soulful ballads and upbeat dance tracks. The album was well received by critics and fans alike, and it helped to establish Fisher as a rising star in the music industry.

"I'm really excited about my first album," Fisher says. "I'm proud of the songs on it, and I'm proud of the way it was received by the public. I'm looking forward to getting out on the road and playing my songs for as many people as possible."

Fisher's next album is due out next year. He is currently working on new songs, and he is looking forward to sharing his music with as many people as possible.

Director Heeds Bard

By STEVE BERSK

The problem with every Shakespearean production is that it is a work in progress. Shakespeare's plays are not set in stone, and they are constantly being reinterpreted by actors and directors. This is the case with every Shakespearean production, and this is the case with the Oklahoma Shakespeare Festival's production of "The Taming of the Shrew." The production is currently in its final stages of rehearsal, and it is set to open in a few weeks.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is one of Shakespeare's most popular comedies. It is a fun and lively play, and it is a great choice for a Shakespearean production. The production is being directed by Dr. Robert McGill, and it is being performed by a talented cast of actors.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is a play about a man who is trying to win the love of a woman. The woman is not easy to win, and the man has to use all of his wits to get her. The play is a fun and lighthearted comedy, and it is sure to be enjoyed by audiences of all ages.

"The Taming of the Shrew" opens on June 25th at the Oklahoma Shakespeare Festival. It is a must-see production for anyone who loves Shakespeare or classic comedy. It is a fun and lighthearted production, and it is sure to be enjoyed by audiences of all ages.

Exhibit Opens

Indian Dolls Debut

By RAY PENN

The Indian Dolls, a new exhibit at the Oklahoma City Museum of Art, opened last week. The exhibit features a collection of Indian dolls from the 19th and 20th centuries, and it is free to the public.

"The Indian Dolls" is a popular exhibit, and it is expected to attract a large crowd. The dolls are from various tribes, and they are all beautifully crafted. The exhibit also includes information about the history and culture of the tribes.

The exhibit is on display until October 30th, and it is open daily from 10am to 5pm. It is a must-see exhibit for anyone who loves dolls or Native American culture.

Apache Dolls

These authentic Apache dolls are included in the exhibit. The dolls are made of cloth and have hand-stitched faces. They are a popular exhibit, and they are sure to be enjoyed by audiences of all ages.

Notes On TV

TV Show's Junk Costly

The reason the price on "Scavenger Hunt" looks so astronomical is because it is only partial. Only the crew members who have been fired and bassoon players in the orchestra. The costumes are all professionally made, and the show is marketed as a "junk" show.

Kirby Keeps Busy HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - It was a quiet week for the Minneapolis comedy troup that was once known as "Joe's Associates" and now is "The Marx Brothers." Kirby, who played Harpo Marx in the original films, was the only one of the Marx Brothers to return to the screen in the 1940s. He was busy with various projects, including a new television series called "The Kirby Show," which was to air on CBS.

Teenaged Star's Career Starts At Bare Bottom

The Oklahoma Journal, Sunday, December 5, 1972

Newark (UPI) - A new career is taking shape for an 18-year-old starlet who is making a name for herself in the adult entertainment industry. The starlet, who is known only as "Miss X," has been working in the business for several years and has earned a reputation as one of the most popular performers.

Miss X, who is originally from Nebraska, got her start in the business when she was just 16 years old. She quickly gained a following and began appearing in adult films and videos. Her performances have been praised for their explicit nature and her ability to perform on camera.

"Miss X" has been featured in several of the industry's most popular films and is considered one of the most talented performers in the business. She is known for her pleasing appearance and her ability to keep a straight face even in the most explicit scenes. "Miss X" is also known for her ability to keep her troupe of 13, which includes a variety of performers, all on the same page.

The starlet's career has been marked by controversy, with some in the industry questioning her age and whether she is a minor. However, "Miss X" has been able to overcome these challenges and continue to make a name for herself in the business.

"Miss X" is currently working on a new project, a TV special that will air on a major network. The special will be a collection of her best performances and will feature interviews with the performers. The starlet is excited about the project and is looking forward to sharing her talents with a broader audience.

Miss X's fans are also excited about the project and have been eagerly waiting for its release. The special is expected to air soon, and "Miss X" is already looking forward to her next project, which is expected to be announced soon.

Girl's Eyes Unveil Plot

By Art Glenn

In the time this column is printed, GA-GN's new show will be shaping up a number of stories. There's one called "Girl's Eyes" that's due in the near future. It's a story about a girl named Carol, who lives in a small town. Carol is a dreamer and has a vivid imagination. She spends most of her time daydreaming about far-off places and adventures. Her friends think she's a bit peculiar, but they love her anyway.

One day, while Carol is daydreaming, she suddenly becomes aware of a strange presence. It's as if someone or something is watching her. At first, Carol thinks it's just her imagination, but as the days go by, she starts to see things moving around in her room. She begins to feel like she's not alone anymore.

Carol tries to tell her friends about what she's seeing, but they don't believe her. They think she's just imagining things. Carol starts to feel more and more frightened. She begins to wonder if she's losing her mind.

One day, Carol decides to take matters into her own hands. She starts to research everything she can find about the strange presence. She reads about ghost stories, haunted houses, and even poltergeists. She even visits a fortune teller, who tells her that she's about to have a very important adventure.

Carol is scared but also excited. She wonders what the future holds for her. She knows that she's about to embark on a journey that will change her life forever. She's not sure if she's ready, but she knows she has to try.

The strain of daily living, however, has been taking its toll on her. Carol starts to feel more and more tired. She's not sure if she'll be able to make it through the day. She wonders if she'll ever find a solution to her problems.

In the end, Carol realizes that she's not alone. She's part of a bigger world that's filled with wonder and mystery. She learns that the key to her happiness is to accept the challenges that come her way.

The story of Carol's eyes is one that's sure to make you think. It's a story about the power of the human mind and the importance of imagination. It's a story about the struggles we face every day and the journeys we take to overcome them.

Mystery Relaxing

The Girl from the Old Town

By Pauline Lucas

The Girl from the Old Town is the story of a young girl named Mary, who lives in a small town. Mary is a dreamer and has a vivid imagination. She spends most of her time daydreaming about far-off places and adventures.

One day, while Mary is daydreaming, she suddenly becomes aware of a strange presence. It's as if someone or something is watching her. At first, Mary thinks it's just her imagination, but as the days go by, she starts to see things moving around in her room. She begins to feel like she's not alone anymore.

Mary tries to tell her friends about what she's seeing, but they don't believe her. They think she's just imagining things. Mary starts to feel more and more frightened. She begins to wonder if she's losing her mind.
