Smog Plan Calls For Gas Rationing

The Los Angeles Times

LANOFRAN, Calif. - By the end of the century, gas prices are expected to rise to $10 a gallon, as the nation struggles to meet its smog abatement goals. San Francisco officials are planning to use a combination of increased public transit, carpooling, and smog-check-vehicle emissions to achieve their goals.

The plan is part of a 10-year plan drafted by the Los Angeles County Department of Transportation. The plan includes strategies such as increasing public transit, promoting carpooling, and implementing stricter smog-check emissions regulations. The goal is to reduce smog emissions by 10% by the year 2030.

The plan also includes incentives for carpooling, such as discounted parking and reduced tolls for carpool lanes. These incentives are expected to encourage more people to carpool, reducing the number of solo drivers on the road. The plan also includes measures to reduce emissions from vehicles, such as stricter emissions standards and increased use of electric and hybrid vehicles.

Cowboy Can't Believe Eyes

By EUGENE PHILIPS

The Rio Grande Valley Museum in Brownsville, Texas, is seeking to restore its collection of cowboy artifacts. The museum has been collecting these items for over 50 years, and now has over 5,000 pieces in its collection. The museum is seeking donations of additional artifacts to help preserve the history of the cowboy culture.

All efforts to locate the younger men, although they have been located, have resulted in failure. The young men are not interested in the cowboy lifestyle, and many have moved away from the area.

Bryant made the statement while he was on a trip to the Oklahoma City Oklahoma City government.

By BRYANT CULVER

The Oklahoma City government is seeking to attract more tourists to the city. The city has a new visitors center and a new downtown area, which is expected to draw more visitors.

Two young men, dressed in cowboy attire, were seen walking through the downtown area. They were carrying guns and were talking about the cowboy lifestyle.

Mrs. Marcos Stabbed

The Oklahoma City police are investigating the stabbing of Mrs. Marcos, who was stabbed in the back while she was walking down the street.

The police are seeking witnesses to the incident, and urge anyone with information to contact them.

Settlement Reached

On Trusts

BY ROBERT DAVIS

The Oklahoma City government has reached a settlement with a group of investors who were defrauded by a local investment firm. The settlement will provide compensation to the investors and help to ensure that similar incidents do not occur in the future.

The settlement was reached after a long and complicated negotiation process. The terms of the settlement will be announced in the coming weeks.

Penny Tax

Call Revived

BY ROBERT ENGLISH

The Oklahoma City government is considering the imposition of a penny tax on all sales in the city. The tax would provide much-needed revenue for the city, and would help to improve its financial situation.

The tax would be imposed on all sales, including sales of food, clothing, and other goods. The tax rate would be one penny per dollar.

Sidewalk Shrink Opens Booth

The Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES - The sidewalk shrink, a new and innovative technology, is being tested in the downtown area. The technology is designed to help reduce congestion and improve pedestrian safety.

The sidewalk shrink is a flexible plastic sheet that can be applied to sidewalks to create a temporary sidewalk. The technology is being tested in a pilot project in the downtown area, and is expected to be rolled out in other areas of the city in the future.

Apollo Strikes Toward Moon Landing

NASA - The Apollo mission to the moon is set to launch in the coming weeks. The mission is expected to last for several days, and the astronauts will conduct a variety of experiments and scientific research.

The mission is being led by NASA, and is expected to be a significant milestone in the history of space exploration. The mission is expected to be broadcast live on television, and will be watched by millions of people around the world.

Youth's Bizarre Tale Leaves Cold Puzzle

The Oklahoma City Police Department was called to investigate a report of a suspicious incident involving a youth. According to the report, the youth, who was identified as 12-year-old Jason Smith, was seen walking alone near the city's downtown area.

The incident occurred on a cold winter night. The youth was wearing a heavy coat and carrying a small bag. When questioned by the police, Jason claimed he was on his way home from school and had forgotten his keys.

The police officer who responded to the call, Detective Lisa Thompson, said Jason did not seem to be in any distress and appeared to be quite calm.

Pueblo Scene

The Pueblo Scene is a weekly newspaper that covers local events and news in the city of Pueblo. This issue includes a feature story on the city's annual Christmas Festival, which is scheduled to take place next month.

The festival will feature a parade, live music, and a tree lighting ceremony. The festival committee is currently working on finalizing the event schedule and ensuring that all vendors are ready for the big day.

Symphony Will Tape Christmas Concert

The Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra will be performing a special Christmas concert next month. The orchestra will be录音 analog tape, with the goal of capturing the unique sound and atmosphere of the performance.

The concert will feature classic holiday favorites, including carols and traditional pieces. The orchestra has invited several guest performers to join them on stage, who will bring their own special talents to the event.

Nude Photos Spark Arrest

A nude photos scandal involving a local celebrity has led to a criminal arrest. According to reports, the celebrity, who was identified as 25-year-old Alex Johnson, was caught in possession of nude photos that had been taken without her consent.

The photos were discovered when a private investigator was hired by a rival to gather evidence against Alex. The investigator accessed her phone and found the photos, which had been secretly taken by a former employee.

Death Story Retold

The story of a mysterious death that occurred in Oklahoma City last year has been retold in a new book. The book, titled "The Mysterious Death of John Smith," was written by local author, John Anderson, and published last month.

Anderson spent months researching the case, interviewing witnesses, and reviewing police reports. He concluded that the death was not an accident, but rather a deliberate act of violence.

Oscar Rose Sets Leaders Meeting

Oscar Rose, a prominent leader in the local community, has scheduled a meeting with community leaders to discuss the ongoing issues facing the city. The meeting will take place next week and is expected to attract a large crowd.

Rose, who has been active in the community for several years, has been working to improve local infrastructure and to reduce crime in the area. He has also been involved in several community service projects.

Militant Indians Plan Road Blocks

A group of militant Indians has announced plans to block a major road in the area, as a form of protest. The group, which calls itself the "Red Clan," has been active in the area for several years, fighting for their cultural and political rights.

The group has stated that they will not allow any vehicles to cross the road and will not allow law enforcement officers to enter the area. They have also threatened to impose further road blocks if their demands are not met.

Nostalgic
Nostalgia continues to sweep through fashion and home furnishings designs. A lovely replica of Seth Thomas clock of 1850. The radio (top) brings back memories of the 1920s.

Christmas Visitor Brings Miracle

Once upon a time, many years ago, there lived a widow and her family in a little village deep in the forest. A Christmas dinner was to be held, but their only source of income was a small potato patch. It was a cold and blustery night, and the family was hungry. They decided to make a fire and sit by it, hoping for a snowfall to ease their hunger. As they sat by the fire, a gentle snow began to fall, and soon after, a young man appeared at their door. He offered them a large sack of potatoes and a fine featherbed to keep them warm. The family was overjoyed and gave the young man a warm welcome.

Gifts of Royalty...
Clocks Reflect 'Nostalgia'

By J. ROY ROBERTS

HAPPY HOURS and Christmas gifts are usually included when the Christmas gifts are a clock. Few people think of clocks as a personal gift. Yet, clocks are a popular gift item throughout the years. Clocks have a unique charm that is hard to resist. They are a symbol of time, which is something everyone needs. Whether you are giving a clock as a gift or buying one for yourself, there is something special about them. There is something about the ticking of the clock, the soft chime, or the way they are crafted that makes them a timeless gift.

Elegantly Practical

As JULIEN BOGART

Sometimes the perfect gift for someone on your Christmas list doesn't mean buying something that costs a small fortune. This year, you can give a thoughtful gift that is sure to delight without breaking the bank. Here are some ideas that can fit into any budget:

- LEATHER JOURNAL
  - This journal is not only aesthetically pleasing but also functional. It can be used as a diary, notebook, or sketchbook. The leather binding makes it durable and elegant. It's a great gift for writers, artists, or anyone who appreciates fine craftsmanship.

- PERSONALIZED ORNAMENT
  - This ornament can be customized with a message or a photo, making it a unique and personal gift. It's a thoughtful addition to any Christmas tree and can be treasured for years to come.

- COFFEE OR HOT CHOCOLATE MUG
  - This mug is perfect for someone who loves their morning cup of coffee or hot chocolate. It's not only practical but also adds a touch of warmth and comfort to their daily routine.

- BICYCLE LIGHTS
  - These lights are essential for any cyclist and make cycling safer and more enjoyable. They come in various styles and prices, so you can choose the one that best suits your loved one's preferences.

Finally, before you wrap up your Christmas shopping, don't forget to add a personal touch to your gifts. A handwritten note or a thoughtful message can make all the difference in showing how much you care. Merry Christmas to all!
Holiday Joy Comes Early...
Allow For Aging When Baking Fruitcake

BY JEANNE VANCE
12/22, The Los Angeles Times

THE JOY OF THE holidays comes early in the house where the custom of baking fruit cake exists. The handle, the spade and the apron are made of midwinter tradition. The fruit cake is the inalienable possession of the family.

Baking fruit cake early allows time for aging to the rich taste which makes them a gift of highest respectability. This fruit cake is a heritage from English country, but Americans have changed them, altered the method.

and depend. The Americans had something quite different from the fruit cake described. Purists will no doubt if it a few weeks. Light fruit cakes or lightly glazed cakes are not as long aging as rich, fruit laced cakes.

Fruit cake is a fruit cake. It can be refrigerated and, if kept cool, can last for many weeks. But it should not be refrigerated if it is to be served at room temperature.

Traditionally Baffling Gift Question Solved

Artificial Tree Popular In U.S.

By MAUREEN GRIFFITH

The sale of live and artificial Christmas trees has increased, according to the National Christmas Tree Association. In fact, the organization notes that sales of artificial trees have been on the rise for several years.

The popularity of artificial trees is due in part to their convenience and versatility. They can be stored easily throughout the year and set up quickly during the holiday season. Additionally, artificial trees are available in a variety of styles and sizes, allowing consumers to find the perfect tree for their space.

There are also environmental benefits to using artificial trees. They require no watering or care, reducing the impact on the environment. This is particularly important in areas with water shortages or where water usage is a concern.

While some may argue that the smell of a live tree is superior, the convenience and sustainability of artificial trees make them a popular choice for many families during the holiday season.

Yule Cards Show Diversity

By SARAH ROOKE COX

The Oklahoma Journal

CHRISTMAS CARDS don't have to be limited to traditional images and messages of peace and goodwill. This year's cards offer a new twist on old favorites, with a variety of designs and messages that reflect the diversity of the holiday season.

The diversity of cards on the market this year includes those that feature non-traditional images such as snowmen, poinsettias, and Santa Claus. There are also cards with religious themes, such as those that feature nativity scenes or images of angels. A few cards even feature messages in languages other than English, such as those that feature the words "Merry Christmas" in French or Spanish.

Many of the cards available this year are designed by local artists and artisans. This allows customers to support local businesses while still sending out holiday greetings. Some cards feature unique designs such as those that feature a reindeer pulling a sleigh, or a snow globe with a miniature Christmas tree inside.

The diversity of cards on the market this year reflects the diversity of the holiday season itself. With so many options to choose from, it is easy to find a card that will perfectly capture the spirit of the season. So, grab a card and start spreading the joy of the holiday season today!

Holiday Cookies International Tradition

By VERA LERNER

The Oklahoma Journal

NEW YORK (AP) —

Every year, thousands of recipes for holiday cookies flood the internet, but one recipe stands out: the one for Russian Imperial butter cookies. Originating in Tsarist Russia, these cookies have become a staple of Christmas baking around the world.

The recipe for Russian Imperial butter cookies is simple and straightforward. It requires just a few basic ingredients: flour, sugar, butter, and eggs. The cookies are rolled out thinly and then cut into intricate shapes before being baked until they are golden brown.

The beauty of this recipe is that it is adaptable. Bakers can choose to try different variations of the recipe, such as adding nuts or chocolate chips to the dough, or using different types of flour or butter.

In recent years, the recipe has been adapted to include ingredients such as olive oil, which helps to add a smoky flavor to the cookies.

The popularity of this recipe has been aided by the internet, which has made it easy for bakers all over the world to share and experiment with it.

The recipe for Russian Imperial butter cookies is a testament to the power of traditions. It is a recipe that has stood the test of time, and one that will continue to be enjoyed for generations to come.

  By Jeannie Lamas

Roast Turkey Needs Rest Before Feast

Don't try to roast a large turkey in an oven that is too small, the turkey will be overcooked and dry. The correct oven temperature for roasting a turkey is 350°F. If the oven temperature is too high, the outside of the turkey will cook too quickly while the inside remains raw. If the oven temperature is too low, the turkey will take too long to cook and become dry.

In Palestine...

Procession Notes Holiday Season

In Palestine, the holiday season is a time of reflection and celebration. The residents of the city gather to participate in various processions and events, including a special procession dedicated to the holiday season. The procession begins at the main plaza, where the residents gather to hear a speech from the mayor, wishing everyone a happy holiday season.

The procession then makes its way through the city, with participants dancing and singing traditional songs. The residents are encouraged to take part in the procession, and many bring homemade gifts for friends and family members.

At the end of the procession, there is a special ceremony to light the holiday lights. The residents gather around the ceremony, singing and dancing as the lights are turned on. The ceremony is a symbol of unity and hope, representing the spirit of the holiday season.

Season Fashion Consious

Fashion designers are always on the lookout for new trends and styles that will capture the attention of consumers. One of the latest trends in fashion is the use of sustainable materials and ethical production practices.

This trend is gaining popularity among fashion retailers and designers, who are increasingly focusing on the environmental impact of their products. The use of sustainable materials, such as organic cotton and recycled fabrics, is becoming more common, as is the use of ethical production practices, such as fair trade and sustainable sourcing.

Retailers are also embracing the use of technology to improve their sustainability efforts. Many are using data analytics to track their energy usage and identify areas for improvement. Others are investing in renewable energy sources, such as solar panels and wind turbines.

Overall, the fashion industry is making progress in becoming more sustainable, and it is encouraging to see that consumers are increasingly interested in supporting these efforts.
