License Age Hike Sought

A State Department of Education official said the state’s age for a regular driver’s license must be raised to 16. The recommendation comes in an annual report to the state’s license department. The recommendation was based on research conducted by the state’s division of licensing and driver education, which found that the average age of drivers in Oregon is 16. The report also recommends raising the age to 16 for drivers who are under age 18, and to 17 for those who are under age 18 but have a driver’s license for less than one year.

The report’s findings indicate that younger drivers are more likely to be involved in accidents, and that raising the age for a regular driver’s license could help reduce the number of accidents involving young drivers.

Toys ‘Hospitalized’

By ANN BURDET

Of The Journal Staff

The annual “Tots to Get Gifts” campaign was a success this year, with the help of the Salvation Army and the United Way of Central Oregon.

The campaign, which collects gifts for children in need, is sponsored by the Salvation Army and the United Way of Central Oregon. This year, the campaign collected over 5,000 gifts, including toys, clothing, and other basic necessities.

The Salvation Army and the United Way of Central Oregon have been working together for several years to provide gifts for children in need. The campaign is made possible by the generosity of local businesses and individuals who donate gifts and funds to support the program.

“Tots to Get Gifts” is just one of the many programs offered by the Salvation Army and the United Way of Central Oregon. To learn more about their other programs, please visit their websites at www.salvationarmy.org and www.uwco.org.

The campaign is now entering its final stage, as gifts are being delivered to children in need. The Salvation Army and the United Way of Central Oregon thank everyone for their support and look forward to continuing this important work in the future.

For more information, please contact the Salvation Army at (541) 386-4673 or the United Way of Central Oregon at (541) 386-4673.

Lumber Price Increases Are Deep Rooted

By Nancy Leive

The nation's lumber industry, normally one of the most volatile and least predictable in the economy, is currently experiencing one of its most severe price hikes in decades. The cause is a combination of increased demand and limited supply.

The increase is particularly acute for softwood lumber, which is used in building construction. The price of softwood lumber has more than doubled in the past year, with some species of wood reaching record levels.

The increase has been especially hard on homebuilders, who have seen their costs rise dramatically. The National Association of Homebuilders reports that the average price of a new home has increased by 10% in the past year, largely due to the higher lumber costs.

The industry is predicting that the price hike will continue for at least another year, despite efforts to increase production. The supply of lumber is limited by the fact that it takes a long time to grow trees and harvest them.

Kansas Studying Rules To Limit Industries

The Kansas Public Service Commission is considering new rules to limit the number of utilities that can operate in the state. The commission is concerned that the current number of utilities is too low, which could lead to higher prices for consumers.

The commission is proposing to limit the number of utilities to five, which would include investor-owned utilities, cooperatives, and municipal utilities. The current number of utilities in Kansas is over 20, with some counties having only one provider.

The commission is also considering changes to the rates that utilities can charge consumers. The current rates are set by the commission and are subject to review every two years.

14 Promoted By City Bank

Robert L. Whitley, Jr., president of City Bank, announced today that 14 employees have been promoted to management positions. The promotions were made in response to the growth of the bank and the need to expand its management team.

The promotions include six vice presidents, three senior vice presidents, and five assistant vice presidents. The promotions were based on the employees' performance and potential for future leadership roles.

Whitley said that the bank is committed to developing its employees and providing them with opportunities for advancement. He noted that the bank has a history of promoting from within and that the new promotions are part of this commitment.

Worker Alienation Study Backed By Sen. Kennedy

A study of worker alienation and its effects on productivity is being supported by Senator Edward Kennedy. The study, which will be conducted by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, will examine the causes of worker alienation and the impact it has on productivity.

Kennedy said that the study is needed to address the growing problem of worker alienation, which has been linked to lower productivity and higher turnover rates. He noted that the study will provide valuable information for employers and policymakers who are seeking to improve working conditions.

The Greening Of Israel—All In Three Weeks

Jerusalem—The four books haven't got it yet, but there is a fast growing, urgent need for a spiritual renewal of Jerusalem.

The result of this, said one one of the men who are working on the books, is the Visionaries of Jerusalem, a group which is trying to bring about spiritual renewal in the city. They believe that Jerusalem is a spiritual center, and they are working to restore that spiritual center.

The approach to the city, they said, is to help people see the city as a spiritual center.

Some of the books are not available yet, but many of the stories of the books are already known to be powerful in bringing about spiritual renewal.

The visionaries hope that people will come to see Jerusalem as a spiritual center, and that this will bring about spiritual renewal in the city.

The books are being read by many people, and the stories of the books are already influencing people in many countries.

Deer Island—While the books are being read by many people, the writers of the books are not ready to talk about their work yet.

Shannon Finds Santa Fe Gallery Realization Of Dreams

By STEVE ENSSEK

SANTA FE—"There are probably more Americans who are interested in art than there ever was a generation coming out of a gallery in the historic Santa Fe Art Museum that has the most potential to grow," said Alan Price, director of the Contemporary Art Gallery in Santa Fe.

According to Price, the gallery's success is due to the fact that it has been able to attract a large number of local and national collectors who are interested in art. The gallery also has a reputation for being one of the most progressive and innovative in the country, attracting a wide range of collectors from around the world.

"The gallery is a place where we can really showcase the best of Santa Fe art," said Price. "It's a place where we can really bring together the best of the city and showcase it in a way that's accessible to everyone."
Writing Straightens Her Out

"Make up and pretty star grimmer a task than detecting espionage agents," observed Miss Hartwell, the expert in espionage. "But as a spy, you have to dress up your disguise so that the other person doesn't notice you. It may be that she'll actually wear her disguise, but you should be cautious. She might come to you with a story. Never believe her, no matter how convincing she sounds."

"Julie Collins has been seen around town a lot," declared Miss Hartwell. "She was last seen at the Swimming Club. She seems to be a bit of a mystery."

"She's a student at the University of California," I said. "She's been there for three years."

"Yes, but she's not a student in the usual sense," Miss Hartwell continued. "She's a spy, looking for information on a certain case. She's very good at her job, but she's not easy to handle."

"It's a tough job to be a spy," I said. "You have to be careful, but you also have to be clever."

"That's right," Miss Hartwell agreed. "You have to be able to think on your feet. You have to be able to handle any situation that comes up."

"Julie Collins is very good at that," I said. "She's a brilliant spy."

"And she's very young," Miss Hartwell added. "She's only 23 years old."

"That's very young," I said. "But she's very good at her job."

"Yes, she is," Miss Hartwell agreed. "And she's very attractive."

"Attractive?" I asked. "Is she attractive?"

"Yes, she is," Miss Hartwell admitted. "She's very pretty."

"I see," I said. "And she's very good at her job."

"That's right," Miss Hartwell agreed. "And she's very good at her job."

"That's all," I said. "I'll look into it."

Would Eleanor Have Made a Good President?

As the nation prepared to elect a new President of the United States, the question of whether a woman should be considered as a viable candidate for the highest office in the land was once again raised. The focus was on Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the wife of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and whether she had the qualities necessary to lead the nation.

Eleanor Roosevelt was a formidable figure in her own right, known for her advocacy for women's rights, civil rights, and social justice. She was a strong, intelligent, and passionate person who had made significant contributions to the United States and the world. However, the idea of a woman holding the highest office in the country was still highly controversial in the early 20th century.

The question of whether Eleanor Roosevelt would have made a good President was a topic of much debate at the time. Some argued that she had the leadership skills, political experience, and compassion necessary to lead the country. Others believed that the role of President was too large and demanding for a woman, and that the public was not ready for a female President.

In the end, the question of whether a woman could hold the highest office in the United States remained unanswered. While Eleanor Roosevelt did not become President, she continued to be a powerful and influential figure in American politics and international affairs, serving as a Secretary of the United Nations and working tirelessly for social justice.

Regardless of whether she would have made a good President, Eleanor Roosevelt's legacy as a leader and activist continues to inspire and influence people today. Her commitment to justice and equality is a reminder of the power of individual action and the importance of standing up for what is right, regardless of the obstacles.

FAMILY WEEKLY, December 21, 1955

Because this eminent doctor discovered how to utilize your body's 1955--the fat metabolizing hormone by experimenting on himself

You can now command your body to

Melt Away Fat

AND LOSE AS MUCH AS YOU WANT
WHILE YOU ENJOY EATING AS MUCH AS YOU WANT!

The Famous Superdiet—Dr. Atkins’ Diet Revolution reveals in full the recently discovered weight loss secret.

You don’t need pills—you don’t count calories—you don’t even need willpower because you’re never hungry!

You can lose 10-50-100 pounds or more (6 to 8 weeks) and keep it off for the rest of your life!

It’s truly a Diet Revolution!

For over 30 years we’ve all been bawling our heads thinking that the only way to lose weight was to cut calories. "I’m on a diet,” says Dr. Robert C. Atkins. “All we know how to cut calories is to cut food. But what do you do if you want to eat food?”

We now know that you can eat food and lose weight. Dr. Atkins has developed the superdiet called "Weight Control Diet”--the only diet that allows you to eat food and lose weight.

It’s FATTY—The One You’ll Love.

The secret is simple: By eating a diet of fattier foods, you’ll lose weight. This is not a fad diet, but a diet that will change your life. It’s called the Weight Control Diet, and it’s the only diet that allows you to eat food and lose weight.

Here’s how it works:

1. You eat fatty foods. This means that you eat foods that are high in fat content. Examples of fatty foods include red meat, butter, and oils.

2. You lose weight. Fatty foods cause your body to use more calories to digest them, which results in weight loss.

3. You enjoy eating. The Weight Control Diet allows you to eat the foods you love without gaining weight.

4. You keep the weight off. The Weight Control Diet is a lifestyle change, not a temporary diet. You can keep the weight off for the rest of your life.

If you’re tired of diets that don’t work, try the Weight Control Diet. It’s the only diet that allows you to eat food and lose weight.

Order your copy of "The Famous Superdiet"—the Weight Control Diet—today. It will change your life.

Take Food, Not Medicine, If You Suffer from Any One of These Ills!

"Why do I avoid prescribing drugs?" asks this brilliant and controversial physician, who has cured literally thousands of patients of chronic illnesses with nothing more than ordinary food alone.

By Dr. H. L. WOOD

"People have been misunderstanding the importance of food ever since the illness became a business and medicine a bureaucratic monolith." he says. "The sick are simply prescribed drugs and are then told to take them and not to concern themselves with the reasons why they are sick in the first place. But it's the food in the stomach that actually cures the illness. When food is given in the right way, it controls the nutritional balance of the body and in so doing, it helps to heal the illness."

Dr. Wood's approach is simple: give the patient the right food and the right way of eating it. He says that many illnesses can be cured by simply eating the right things at the right time. For example, he says that many people who suffer from allergies can be helped by eating a diet that is rich in fresh fruits and vegetables, and that avoiding processed foods and sugars can help to reduce the symptoms of many illnesses.

Dr. Wood's book, "Take Food, Not Medicine," has been an international best-seller and has been translated into over 20 languages. It is available at all bookstores, or you can order a copy by calling the publisher at 1-800-FOOD-HEAL.

About the Author

Dr. H. L. Wood is a world-renowned nutritionist and natural healer. He has treated thousands of patients with his unique approach to healing, and his methods have been featured in many national and international publications. A Special Report
For Tots: A New Toy to Make Spelling Fun.

In a New York City apartment not long ago, a five-year-old girl played among her scattered letters in an orange toy and watched them "walk" by themselves across the table. She then took a rectangular piece of plastic, pushed it firmly into a slot and jumped up with glee. "Look, Mom! I spelled 'WATERTOWN,'" she said.

Meanwhile, the girl's three-year-old sister sat nearby, oblivious to all the excitement. She held another three-dimensional letter in her tiny hands and kept saying, "You can walk, too."

This is the letter walker, a new toy that can be found in any toy store. It consists of a plastic tray that holds a set of letters, each with a small, attached piece of metal. The child arranges the letters on the tray and then uses the metal pieces to create words, sentences, and even full sentences. The letters move along the tray as the child spells them out. The child can then say the word aloud, and the letters will move together to form the word.

The letter walker is designed to be educational, as well as fun. It introduces children to the concept of spelling and helps them develop their motor skills. It is also a great way to teach young children about the alphabet and the sounds of letters. The letter walker is available in a variety of colors and designs, so there is something for everyone.

The letter walker is not just for children, however. It can also be used by adults who want to learn to read or improve their spelling skills. It is a great way to make learning fun and engaging.

Why haven't you gotten the message?

There were a lot of people ready for Vantage when we were ready with Vantage. And you wouldn't believe how quickly they began buying them up. Apparently, many smokers were concerned about tar and nicotine and wanted to smoke a cigarette that reduced tar and nicotine without reducing flavor. And that's the idea behind Vantage Filter. It gives you the flavor of a full-flavor cigarette. Without anywhere near the 'tar' and nicotine. And it does that better than any other cigarette on the market.

With one exception. Vantage Menthol.

But the problem with Vantage Menthol is that a lot of smokers don't even know that there is a Vantage Menthol.

And there we failed.

In our effort to let smokers know about Vantage, we allowed our menthol to play second fiddle.

Vantage Menthol has the cool fresh taste all menthol smokers go for, and at the same time reduces tar to 12 milligrams and nicotine to 9 milligrams.

Now we don't want to fool you. You will find a few menthol brands with lower numbers, but you won't find one that you'll enjoy smoking as much.

So, menthol smokers, if we've failed to let you know of our existence, here goes.

Vantage Menthol is here.

If you're ready for us, we're ready for you.
