McGee: Nuclear Power Key To Future

By DON McGUIRE

Nuclear power represents an emerging energy source that offers several distinct advantages and few of the serious drawbacks that mark coal and oil. McGee, chairman of Kerr-McGee, is the managing editor of the Oklahoma City Journal. McGee recently discussed the issue of nuclear power.

"You must realize that this is an evolving and developing area. It's not a major factor yet, but it's a very important one," McGee said.

Last Of Series

"There's a lot of publicity about the nuclear power industry, and much of it is quite positive," McGee noted. "However, there are also many people who believe that nuclear power is dangerous and should not be developed."

The utility company is involved in the development of a nuclear power plant in the area, and McGee said the company is committed to working with the community to address any concerns.

"We are committed to working closely with the community to ensure that the plant is built in a safe and environmentally responsible way," McGee said.

Durable Kasner Opens Eyes

By Mike Blake

The Oklahoma Journal has just opened its new offices in downtown Oklahoma City at the age of 123 years.

"This is a big step for us," said Casper Kasner, the paper's editor.

"It's a great day for us," Kasner said. "We've been waiting a long time for this moment, and it's finally here."

"This new building is much better suited to our needs," Kasner explained. "It's larger, more modern and better equipped."

Don’t Carry A Football Around ‘Mean Joe’

NEW ORLEANS—One of a number of items in the New Orleans Saints’ trophy room, an old football with a crack in its skin is always a conversation piece because it long belongs to former Los Angeles Rams coach Joe D’Amato. But yesterday, the football appeared to be more than a conversation piece. It was the focal point of a prize-winning speech made by a New Orleans police officer, the wife of a former Rams player, who was one of two women who were guest speakers at a New Orleans police conference.

Sheila D’Amato, the officer’s wife, who is also a San Francisco police officer, told the audience that the Rams’ ‘Mean Joe’ was a football player who was always willing to lend a hand to others. She said that the football was the pride of her husband, who played for the Rams for 15 years.

The football, she said, was a constant reminder of the good things her husband had done during his football career. She said that her husband had often said that he was proud to be a member of the Rams, and that he was always willing to help others.

Sheila D’Amato said that she had always been proud of her husband, who had been a role model for many young people. She said that her husband was always willing to give his time to help others, and that he was always willing to lend a hand to anyone who needed it.

Oil Field Supply Firms Booming

On Wednesday, the Oklahoma Journal published an article highlighting the growth of oil field supply firms. The article mentioned that these firms are expanding due to increased demand for their products and services. The growth is expected to continue as the oil industry recovers from recent downturns.

No License For Gold Hunters

In a related development, the Oklahoma Journal reported that the state has tightened regulations on gold prospectors. The new laws require a license for anyone engaging in gold mining, a move aimed at ensuring the sustainability of the industry.

Hereford: Long Payoff

An article on Hereford cattle breeding noted that a 10-year payback is typical for raising Hereford cattle. The article discussed the benefits of raising Hereford cattle, including their adaptability to various environments and their high-quality meat.

Economic Strength Shown

The Oklahoma Journal's Business Brief section reported on the strength of the local economy, which is showing signs of recovery. The report cited increased consumer spending and improved business confidence as positive indicators.

Offshore Oil Due Fight

The Oklahoma Journal’s Business Brief section also reported on the ongoing battle over offshore oil and gas exploration. The article highlighted the legal challenges facing the industry and the potential impact on the local economy.

Land Sales Post Marginal Increase

The Oklahoma Journal’s Business Brief section reported on a marginal increase in land sales. The report noted that the increase is attributed to higher prices and increased demand from developers.

O

ly Walton, mother of "The Waltons," may be 40 and beautiful, but Michael Learned is a vivacious 35-year-old actress who lives in a charming, halcyon home in the Hollywood Hills. Our talk was unexpectedly interrupted by her husband, the carpenter who was completing a new addition, and her three handsome sons: Robert, Christopher, and Lynn.

FAIRY WITCH: You are the only actress I know who is married to her official handsome. How do you have your thumbs down? I'm, 357.

MICHAEL: I mean about the age of my son, but no, I'm 40 and beautiful. Michael Learned is the wife of Peter David, a 35-year-old actor. They are the parents of three sons: Robert, Christopher, and Lynn.

Death and Human Choice:

Do the Dying Have the Right to Decide Their Fate?

My June Kelly

One woman who want to end her own life was the case of Nancy Cruz, a 93-year-old woman who lived in a retirement community in Arizona. Cruz had been diagnosed with dementia and was struggling to care for herself. She was eventually placed in a nursing home, but she continued to suffer and requested her life be ended. Her request was denied by the hospital, but Cruz was later filmed taking an overdose of medication in her room. Her case brought attention to the issue of assisted suicide and the rights of the terminally ill.

“Over time, a 45-year-old woman patient was treated symptomatically. The treatment was successful, and the patient was able to live a normal life.”

Can You Size Up People by Just “Looking”?

True or False? There is a psychological reason why some people are poker-faced. (See Number 4)

Can you spot the Camel Filters smoker?

TRUE OR FALSE?
1. You can judge most people by their looks.
2. You can alter a judge's character better without seeing them.
3. People who look indifferent often have a difficult time.
4. There is a psychological reason why some people are poker-faced.
5. When people look at the way they are, they don't have to explain themselves—their appearance conveys the picture to everyone.

ANSWERS
1. False. If you judge people by their looks, and your insight and perceptions are not good, you may have a lot of wrong eyes—yet, you'll also see a lot of the face. Psychological studies show that while some people do look the way they are, others very definitely do not. It's possible not to look at everyone like he looks, one must not be out of business.
2. True. A person's voice alone tells us in a phone conversation—often provides more clues to his character then his face. In tests at the University of Michigan, subjects were able to judge character and personality traits more accurately when they listened to a person's voice without seeing him, than in a face-to-face interview.
3. True. In many cases, studies of people whose looks are not representative of their character are not misleading. The meaning of a habit is a beggar and gives no clues to work harder, the truth and confidence of the person he deals with and the body will communicate them and lifestyles which is disconcerting and annoying to him it is a screen of his face.

Camel Filters. They're not for everybody. (but they could be for you.)

Great news for mothers of cavity-prone children!

Most children don't brush properly or often enough. That's why the dental scientists at Lever Brothers invented a new fluoride dentifrice called Aim. If you have children, read on:

How new Aim encourages children to brush harder:

Aim has invisible fluoride, the power cavity-fighting. AIM FLOWS UNDER THE TOOTHBRUSH INTO THE MINI-HOLE ON THE TIP OF THE BRISTLE TO MELT THE CRUST OF THE CAVITY-LIKE CARIES BACTERIA. THE MINUS ON THE AIM HOLE MAKES THE BACTERIA SENSITIVE TO FLUORIDE AND SCRAPES IT OF ITS PROTECTION. THE AIM CAVITY-FIGHTING SCRAPES THE BODY OF THE BACTERIA TO EXPOSE ITS COVETED FLUORIDE. AIM FORCES THE BACTERIA TO DIE. AIM STOPS THE CAUSATIVE AGENT OF CAVITY.
