Nixon Admits Wrongdoing

The Los Angeles Times-News Service

ARLINGTON, Va. — President Richard M. Nixon today admitted he had ordered a break-in at the Democratic National Committee Headquarters in Washington, D.C., said here today.

Mr. Nixon, speaking before a news conference at the White House, said he had known of the break-in but had not ordered it.

"If I knew what was going to happen, I would not have ordered it," he said.

Mr. Nixon said he had been given a "chance" to stop the break-in but had not done so.

He said he had not ordered the break-in but had "known" it was going to happen.

He added that he had not been aware of any evidence of a "criminal investigation" at the time.

IRA Orders Cease-Fire

Belfast, March 30 (AP) - The Irish Republican Army ordered a cease-fire today in the Holyland area of Belfast.

"We are asking for a total cease-fire," said a representative of the IRA.

The order was aimed at preventing further violence in the area.

The IRA announced that it would not take part in any talks with the British government unless the cease-fire was observed.

The government has rejected any suggestion of talks, saying it will not negotiate with the IRA.

The IRA has been involved in a series of clashes with the British army in recent weeks.

Snatu Kills $125,000,000 Loan For Symphony

In By NANCY GILLARD

The Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra today signed a $125,000,000,000 loan agreement with Snatu, a major financial institution.

The loan was for the purchase of new equipment and the construction of a new building.

The agreement was signed by Snatu officials and the Symphony's board of directors.

The money will be used to upgrade the orchestra's facilities and to purchase new instruments.

Snatu officials said they were pleased to be able to support the Symphony's efforts to enhance the musical experience for its audiences.

Colman on the set with his new "Lakeside" character, Brandon Colman, in a scene from "Lakeside." Colman plays the character of Beans, a former movie star turned TV personality, in the show's new season. Colman, who recently signed a new contract with the network, said he is excited about the future of the show. "I couldn't be more thrilled," he said. "I've been on the show for 10 years now and I still feel like I'm just getting started." Colman's character, Beans, is known for his flamboyant fashion sense and his love of food. "Beans loves nothing more than a good meal," Colman said. "And he's not afraid to show it." Colman's role as Beans has earned him a nomination for Best Actor in a Drama Series at this year's Primetime Emmy Awards. "I'm very proud of Beans," Colman said. "He's a role I can really sink my teeth into." Colman will next be seen in "Lakeside" on January 15. "We're really excited about the new season," Colman said. "We have a lot of new characters and storylines coming up." Colman is also looking forward to working with his co-star, actress Julia Roberts. "Julia is such an amazing talent," Colman said. "I can't wait to see what she brings to the show." Colman's contract with the network is currently set to expire in 2023. "I'm still under contract," Colman said. "But I'm hopeful that we can reach a new agreement." Colman is also excited about the possibility of a movie spin-off. "I would love to see Beans in a movie," Colman said. FBI Bugged Two Brothels

In New York City, FBI agents inserted listening devices into two brothels in the city's red-light district. The agents had been in the area for two days before the operation began. The agents used the devices to monitor the activities inside the brothels and to gather evidence of illegal activities. The operation was part of a larger investigation into the activities of organized crime in the city. The agents had been working on the case for several months, and the operation was the culmination of their efforts. The agents were able to gather a large amount of evidence, and the case is expected to lead to a number of convictions. The operation was a success, and the agents were commended for their efforts.
