4½-Hour Conference Ends in Egypt

Sadat: Kissinger To Have Trouble

AORGAN, Egypt (AP) — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat predicted yesterday that his two-day conference with President Jimmy Carter would have a "very hard part" in getting a new peace agreement between Egypt and Israel — shorter and less than last year.
Sadat and Kissinger met for over 4½ hours of talks in which informed sources said the Egyptian leader got far more from President Carter's visit to Cairo to discuss the peace talks.
Sadat noted the direct promise of recognition that Israel is in disaffection for withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula and the Sa'ar-5 islands to the south.
Sadat, however, that Kissinger's proposals were "very effective" in outlining the peace negotiations and for pursuing peace talks.
Sadat expressed confidence in his ability to achieve his purpose, but he said he must continue to work hard to solve the many problems that still face the world.
He predicted that he would be in a better position to end the conflict in the Middle East when Kissinger returns from Israel for augmented in Washington.

Our brand new, 83 year old jewelry store...

Five years ago, we began planning a new store in downtown Oklahoma City. Our new store was intended to be an expression of everything we had learned in nearly a century of serving the jewelry needs of Oklahomans.

The result? An exciting contemporary store that not only expresses our ideals for customer satisfaction, but also reflects our enthusiasm and excitement about being a part of the new downtown.

Plan now to visit the new B. C. Clark Jewelers...

Coming to 101 Park Avenue in April.

Issues Popular With Eastern Brokers

Sooner Economy Endorsed By Bond Buyers

By SAM GEORGE

Inflation, taxes, and Federal Reserve policies are a daily concern of financial brokers in Oklahoma's larger cities. The following comments are from bond buyers who have been active in the local markets for many years.

"Inflation is the most significant factor influencing bond investments," said one broker. "The rising cost of living makes it difficult for investors to keep their portfolios diversified. Inflation also affects the yield on bonds, so investors must be prepared to adjust their strategies accordingly."

"Taxes are another major consideration," said another broker. "With the current tax code, investors are seeking out bonds that offer the highest yields, and this can sometimes be difficult. Investors must balance the need for yield with the desire to minimize their tax burden.

"Federal Reserve policies also play a significant role in the market," said a third broker. "When the Fed raises interest rates, the value of bonds falls, and vice versa. Investors must be prepared to adjust their portfolios based on the direction of interest rates.

Banquet To Honor Salesmen

Last year, the Sooner Oil Company held a banquet to honor its top salesmen. The event was attended by over 200 people and featured speeches from company executives and guest speakers. The company presented awards to the top performers, including the Salesman of the Year. The evening concluded with a gourmet dinner and live entertainment.

Sooner's Stake Big In Oil

Eighty-Four Men Workshop

Sooner's new stake in oil is a significant development for the company. Sooner has been a leader in the oil industry for many years, and its recent move into the oil business is further evidence of its commitment to growth and expansion.

State Construction Up 4%

A survey of construction projects in Oklahoma shows that state construction is up 4% this year. The increased activity is attributed to the state's growing population and the need for new infrastructure.

County Land Deals Top $1.6 Million

A recent survey of county land deals in Oklahoma shows that the total value of land sold in the county is now over $1.6 million. This is a significant increase from last year, and it reflects the growing demand for land in the county.

Where Did Oil Windfall Go?

"Where Did Oil Windfall Go?" is a new industrial building that will be opening soon in Oklahoma City. The building will house several businesses, including a manufacturing company and a wholesale distributor.

Oil Producers, Not Companies, Responsible For Crisis

"Oil producers, not companies, are responsible for the current crisis," said one expert. "The oil producers are making decisions that are short-sighted and greedy, and this is causing a major problem for the industry.

Pokes Eager For NCAA Title

By AL KERFOOT
Assistant Sports Editor

It's been four long years since Oklahoma State has come away with an NCAA wrestling championship. The Pokes are mighty eager to change that.

Oklahoma State has won seven national titles in the sport, including two in the Big Eight and four in the Western States Conference. The Pokes have been one of the top teams in the country for many years.

When the NCAA tournament comes to town, the Pokes are sure to be among the favorites. The Pokes have won the tournament in 1977 and 1978, finishing second in 1979 and third in 1980.

Oklahoma State has a long history of success in wrestling, and the Pokes are sure to be a force to be reckoned with this year.

Weight-By-Weight

Oklahoma State has a strong team this year, with several wrestlers ranked highly in the country.

The Ten Biggest Gripes People Have Against "The Boss"

By S. H. Redford

1. "My husband works too much."
   "He works 12 hours a day, 7 days a week!"

2. "He's a workaholic."
   "He never takes a day off!"

3. "He makes decisions without asking for input."
   "He makes decisions based on his own opinion!"

4. "He's very competitive."
   "He's always trying to prove himself!"

5. "He's a control freak."
   "He micromanages everything!"

6. "He's too critical."
   "He never gives positive feedback!"

7. "He's too demanding."
   "He expects perfection in everything!"

8. "He's too controlling."
   "He always tells me what to do!"

9. "He's too critical."
   "He never gives positive feedback!"

10. "He's too controlling."
    "He always tells me what to do!"

"The Boss" is every man's nightmare. Whether it's a family member, a coworker, or even a spouse, "The Boss" can be a challenging figure to deal with. However, understanding their perspective can help improve communication and relationships. The key is to keep an open mind and be patient. Remember, we all have our own strengths and weaknesses. "The Boss" may not be perfect, but neither are we. By being understanding and compassionate, we can work together to create a positive environment. After all, it's easier to work with someone who values your input and respects your opinions. So let's work together to make things better. Let's communicate effectively and respectfully. Let's work towards a shared goal. After all, we're all in this together. Thank you."
Thrifty Beef Brisket With a Delicious Glaze

This week, Food Editor Marilyn Hansen cooks a delicious Apricot Glazed Brisket. "The beauty of this recipe," she says Marilyn, "is that it's so easy, you don't have to worry about timing and oven temperature—and the brisket melts in your mouth."

APRICA GLAZED BRISKET

Ingredients:
- 1 beef brisket, 5 lbs
- 1 cup apricot preserves
- 1/2 cup peach preserves
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup dry sherry
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon black pepper
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon paprika

Instructions:
1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Place brisket in a large roasting pan and insert meat thermometer into thickest part of the brisket, making sure it doesn't touch bone or fat. Bake for 3 to 4 hours, basting occasionally with apricot glaze. When the meat thermometer registers 190°F, it's done. Remove from oven and let rest for 10 minutes before slicing. Glaze with remaining glaze and serve.

Tips & Topics:
- Moist brisket is key to a delicious dish. To prevent the meat from becoming dry, cover the brisket with foil and let it rest for at least 10 minutes before slicing.
- Use a sharp knife to slice the brisket against the grain for a tender and juicy result.

Dear Mr. President...

The Funny Letters Americans Send to the White House

By Judith Lowell, Author of "Dear Mr. President"

To President Lyndon B. Johnson

The White House

March 10, 1964

Dear Mr. President,

I am enclosing a letter that my 10-year-old daughter, Karen, wrote to you. She expressed her opinion that the President and the Congress are in cahoots, and that they are behind all government policies. She felt that if she were President, she would do things differently.

Sincerely,

Karen Johnson

My husband called my thighs 'saddle bags' before I lost 47 pounds.

By Mary Young, as told to Ruth E. McSweeney

At 151 pounds, with five children to raise and a farm to tend, I had become quite round. My husband didn't make it any easier by calling me "saddle bags." But he promised to lose weight, too, if I'd help him. Now, at 104 pounds, I stay on a diet and exercise regularly. My husband, who is always on the go, has lost 47 pounds! He's lost weight, too, but I'm still "saddle bags."
