House Delays Wright Probe

By Howard Davis

The House Judiciary Committee in a surprise move last week voted not to hold the Army's Wright Aeronautical Corporation in contempt, a step which may void a contempt order issued by the House last May.

The committee voted 15 to 12 to end the probe of Wright, which had been conducted by the House for nine months.

The committee's action came as the House was considering a contempt order against Wright, which was requested by the Senate last May.

The Senate had been investigating Wright, a manufacturer of missile parts, for more than a year, and the House had been investigating Wright, a manufacturer of missile parts, for more than a year. The Senate had been investigating Wright, a manufacturer of missile parts, for more than a year.

Homemade Burgers, Fries Found Cheap In UPI Survey

By Joseph Hellawell

When you get down to the real cost of eating out, you're likely to discover that it costs as much or more to eat at home as it does to eat in a restaurant.

In a UPI survey of 1,500 people, the majority said they were saving money by eating at home rather than eating out.

The survey also found that people who ate at home were more likely to eat healthy meals, which are usually more expensive than fast food.

In addition, the survey found that people who ate at home were more likely to eat more food, which can lead to weight gain.

The survey was conducted by the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Michigan.

Saigon Remains Removed From Harsh Realities Of War

By Joseph Hellawell

For years, Americans have been fighting a war in Vietnam, but it's hard to find anyone who knows what it's all about.

The conflict has been going on for decades, but it's still going on.

The war has been long and expensive, and it's not clear if it will ever end.

The Vietnamese government has been fighting against the Americans for many years, and it's not clear if they will ever be able to get rid of them.

The war has been going on for so long that it's hard to remember what it was like before.

Development Plans Complex, Mayor Says

by Hardy Bogan

The Oklahoma County commissioners are considering a proposal to develop a large complex of buildings in the eastern part of the county. The proposal, which includes office buildings, retail stores, and residential units, is estimated to cost $200 million. The complex would be located near the junction of Interstate 44 and Highway 75.

The project is being marketed as a way to revitalize the eastern part of the county and provide a much-needed economic boost. However, some residents have expressed concerns about the potential impact on traffic and the environment. The commissioners are scheduled to vote on the proposal next month.

New Bus Loaned For COPTA Study

This newspaper has been asked to participate in a study by the Commission on Public Transportation Authority (COPTA) aimed at improving public transportation in the city. The study will focus on identifying areas of the city that are currently underserved by public transportation and developing strategies to improve service.

The newspaper has been loaned a new bus to use during the study, which will allow it to conduct surveys and collect data on current transportation needs. The results of the study will be used to inform future decisions about public transportation in the city.

As a follow-up to the recent report on termite damage, a detailed analysis has been conducted to outline the characteristics of these destructive pests. A team of specialists has gathered extensive data to provide a comprehensive overview of termite behavior, nesting habits, and damage patterns.

Spring Cleaning

In preparation for the upcoming season, it is recommended that homeowners conduct a thorough spring cleaning to prevent the accumulation of debris that could attract termites. Special attention should be given to areas around the foundation of the house, where termites are likely to enter. This includes checking for cracks, gaps, and other potential entry points.

Termite Characteristics Outlined

In a recent survey conducted by the National Termite Institute, termite characteristics have been outlined for the first time. Termites are often mistaken for ants, but they have distinct differences. Unlike ants, termite workers lack wings and are unable to fly. They are also known for their ability to burrow through wood and other materials, causing significant damage to homes and buildings. The survey also highlighted the importance of early detection and prevention to avoid costly repairs and damage. Termite Characteristics Outlined

By L.D. McLure

Ernest Raymond Norton

Almost everyone is happy to see the winter months of equal daylight and darkness end and put away spring and summer weather along with a healthy supply of all sorts of pests. A time of new growth and decision making is complete with termite swarming season and many of them damaged and weakened by the time they are noticed. The damage done by termites is very extensive, especially when the moist area in the building can be seen.

Adult workers and soldiers are wingless, greenish to brown in color, and usually do not show. They are soft-bodied and are usually found in the lower levels of buildings. The other two common termite types are the larvae and nymphs, which are winged and can fly away. The larvae are soft-bodied and can be found in the soil near the building.

The nymphs are the ones that are most often noticed by the homeowner, as they can fly away and cause damage to the building. Termite larvae are the most dangerous as they can cause extensive damage to the building. Termite workers are the ones that do the actual damage to the building, as they can chew through wood and leave behind destruction.

The infestation of termites can be a serious problem as they can cause extensive damage to the building. Termite workers are the ones that do the actual damage to the building, as they can chew through wood and leave behind destruction.

Spring Cleaning

The Oklahoma City Police Department is reminding residents to take advantage of their spring cleaning by keeping their homes and yards free of termites and other pests. The department recommends that homeowners check for signs of termite damage, such as wooden structural damage, and take steps to prevent further infestation. Residents are encouraged to contact the Oklahoma City Police Department for assistance in identifying termite problems and to take appropriate actions to prevent further damage. The department urges residents to take a proactive approach to pest control to keep their homes and properties safe and healthy.
