Roll Call Votes In House

Howard Levene, last week, cast the deciding vote in the House of Representatives to approve a resolution that would allow the House to override a presidential veto. Levene's vote was the only one necessary to pass the measure. The resolution, which passed 259 to 120, would allow Congress to override the veto of President Ford's veto of a bill that would provide aid to the unemployed. Levene said the House had a duty to provide aid to the unemployed, and that the president's veto was an attempt to undermine Congress's authority.

Mild Manner Masks Patience Latting's Influence

By E. N. W G AD

Patience Latting, born in 1928, was a native of the United States. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Latting, who owned a small farm in the outskirts of a small town in Pennsylvania. Patience was the oldest of four children and was known for her quiet and reserved nature. She was a good student and always maintained high grades in school. Her love for books and reading was evident from a young age, and she could often be found in the library or at home with a book in her hands.

In high school, Patience was a member of the debate team and was known for her ability to think critically and argue her point of view. She also participated in various extracurricular activities, including the cheerleading squad and the drama club. Her quiet and reserved nature made her a popular figure among her peers, and she was always approachable and helpful to those in need.

After high school, Patience attended a local college and graduated with a degree in psychology. She went on to work as a counselor at a local high school, where she continued to inspire students with her wisdom and guidance. Her quiet and reserved nature made her a popular figure among her peers, and she was always approachable and helpful to those in need.

In 2014, Patience Latting was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease. The news was a shock to her family, but they remained strong and supported her throughout the difficult journey. Patience fought the disease with grace and dignity, maintaining her sense of humor and love for life until the end.

Marine Hauls Down Flag Over Embassy In Phnom Penh

By E. N. W G AD

A U.S. Marine has been hailed as a hero after he pulled down a flag at the U.S. Embassy in Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia. The flag had been lowered in mourning for the victims of the war in Vietnam. The Marine, who wished to remain anonymous, said he was moved by the sight of the flag and knew it was important to pull it down.

The embassy had been closed earlier in the day due to the war, and the Marine was one of several U.S. citizens who had gathered outside the building. He said he was moved by the sight of the flag and knew it was important to pull it down.

The Marine's action was praised by U.S. officials, who said it was a sign of respect for the victims of the war. They also thanked the Marine for his courage and dedication.

The embassy was later reopened, but the incident has raised questions about the future of U.S.-Cambodian relations. The Cambodian government has said it will take steps to ensure the safety of U.S. citizens in the country.

Dining To Get A New Look

A proposal to modernize the dining area at the U.S. Embassy in Phnom Penh has been approved by the Cambodian government. The new design will feature modern furnishings and a more open layout, which will make it more inviting for visitors.

The embassy has been open for over 50 years, and the dining area has not been updated for decades. The proposal was made by the U.S. government, and it was supported by the Cambodian government.

The new design will feature modern furnishings and a more open layout, which will make it more inviting for visitors. The U.S. government has said it is committed to improving the embassy's facilities and ensuring the safety and comfort of its visitors.

Tough On Romanticists

While standards evolved to accept what society considered 'normal', the movement to make experiences of a different sort acceptable was just beginning.

Despite the effort, there have been attempts to make it clear that the cultural context of today's society is one in which it is easy to be an outsider. This has led to political pressures that have resulted in the emergence of a new cultural context.

Continental Federal Set To Move

Continental Federal Savings and Loan Association will move into its new $3 million building at 2210 NW 23rd St. in Oklahoma City on April 1. This week through Sunday, the old building will remain open and customers will be able to conduct some transactions. The new building will be opened to the public on Monday, April 5. The move is expected to be completed by mid-April. Continental Federal will be the first institution to move into the new building, which was completed in January. The new building will house Continental Federal's main office, as well as a number of other banks and businesses.

Transactions Top $1.8 Million

Continental Federal Savings and Loan Association reported a $1.8 million transaction volume for the first quarter of 1978. This is a 10% increase over the same period last year. The increase is attributed to a growing number of customers and increased loan volume. Continental Federal has been a leader in the savings and loan industry for many years, and continues to attract new customers with its competitive rates and wide range of services.

During the past few years, interest in college basketball has grown by leaps and bounds. Oklahoma has established itself as one of the top teams in the country, thanks in large part to the star-studded squad which has emerged at the College of the Southwest.

Sooner coach Eddie Brown has done a fine job of building a strong team. Last year the Sooners finished third in the Big Eight Conference. This year Oklahoma is expected to give other major conference teams a run for their money. The Sooners possess a strong team and are already one of the favorites to win the conference title.

He lives in a cabin off-limited house with the family and a clientele of numerous regulars. Papers and books are stacked everywhere. There's a car, a baby carriage, a window on the line, and walls of books. He's the only man who can be seen reading books at the office. He's the only one who can be seen walking down the street.

His name is Bill Mullin, and he has a passion for books. He spends his days reading, writing, and thinking about literature. He's a regular at the local bookstore, and his collection of books is legendary.

Back in 1974, the poet laureate of Oklahoma, Lesa Mullar, expressed his desire to write a book about the history of Oklahoma City. Mullin, who is a well-known poet and writer, has been working on the project for several years. He has written several poems about the history of Oklahoma City, and has even written a play called "The Oklahoma City Poet Laureate." Mullin is currently working on a new book, which he hopes to complete soon.

A Congressman Asks, "Are We Really Doing Anybody Any Good?"

Quiz How to Keep People Who Bug You Under Control

At Disney Parks and Around the Country:
The Bicentennial Coin Rolling a Year Early!
FOR SEN. HENRY M. JACKSON (D-Wash.)
Would you support a bill that the President serve only one term—a six-year term? —G. Hoffman, Waterbury, Conn.
• I’m skeptical of efforts to tinker with such fundamental constitutional institutions as the Presidency. No amount of tinkering can assure that abuses will be eliminated. In fact, such changes may well create new possibilities for abuse. There can be no “quick fix” substitute for the single most important thing—picking individuals of character and competence for positions of high trust.

FOR EVA GABOR
When did you first feel the urge to become an actress?—K.B., Jackson, Tenn.
• When I was four, I used my mother’s belt as a top, joined some banana skins together for a skirt, climbed on top of the kitchen table, pretended it was a stage and started to dance.

FOR FRANK ROBINSON,
manager of the Cleveland Indians
Now that you’ve become the first black manager in major-league baseball, would you say you’ve reached all your goals?—Bob Davis, Havelock, N.C.
• Certainly not. Now I have new goals: I want to win a pennant. Also, I want to live to see the day when I am known only as “Frank Robinson, the manager of the Cleveland Indians” not “Frank Robinson, the first black manager in baseball.”

FOR CLIFTON DAVIS, star of “That’s My Mama
Why are you so reluctant to talk about relationships with the opposite sex on the show?—J. Mack, Durham, N.C.
• I would love to talk about them, but my sponsors don’t want me to. In fact, I’d like to discuss lots of things more openly, but I’m not allowed to. I have to stick to the script, and not change the personality of the character I’m playing.

FOR GEORGE BURNS
Why do you mention Alona so often in your act? —C. W. Steele, Newark, Ohio
• I played there once, a long time ago, and met this beautiful little blonde waitress. After the last show, I took her down by the lake and...I forgot—this is a family magazine. Let’s just say I have fond memories of Alona, Pa. In fact, I’ll never forget it.

FOR THE ASK THEM YOURSELF EDITOR
Is Vic Damone still around?—D.L., Hackensack, N.J.
• He sure is. For many years, he stuck mainly to Las Vegas and the West Coast. But he recently made his first New York nightclub appearance in eight years at the Rainbow Grill. Damone was born Vito Pascuala in New York. He sang his first song at two, accompanied by his father on the guitar. (Vic’s mother was a piano teacher.) His career really started when he won an Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts show. After an Army stint and ten movies, Vic decided to return to and stick with his first love—singing. When he wed Becky Ann Jones in 1974, he brought along four children from previous marriages. He’s an avid golfer and bowler, has been named one of the nation’s ten best-dressed men, designs his own clothes and is interested in billiards, karate and cooking.

FOR FREDA PAYNE
How did you get started working for sickle-cell anemia?—Sheila Tyrwett Harris, Washington, D.C.
• Four years ago, the child of a very close friend of mine died from the disease. At first I felt powerless to do anything about it; but then I realized that as a singer I was in a position to raise money by performing, and to educate the public by talking about this illness during talk-show appearances.

FOR BONA BARRETT, author of “Miss Bona”
Do you have any friends among the stars?—B.B., York, Pa.
• Not too many close ones, although I know them all. Familiarity breeds contempt, and I couldn’t have done my job properly if I were bosom friends with each and every one of them. My “Friends List” includes Mao West, Jack Nicholson, Kirk Douglas, Ann-Margret, Fabian and Brena Vaccaro (if ever a film is made of my life, she’s the one I’d like to play me). I have an “Idols List”—Golda Meir and Eleanor Roosevelt.

FOR DINA MERILL
Why does a woman like you, who has a perfect face, use makeup?—Barbara House, Franklin, Mass.
• I don’t have a perfect face; it is makeup that creates that illusion. Because I have a square face, I correct my jawline with a bit of shadow under the chin. I have a prominent bone under my brow. The fashion today is to highlight it. I don’t. It jumps out at you anyway in photos. I tone it down with a deeper shade of makeup.

FOR JOHNNY BENCH, baseball catcher
How many gloves do you wear out in a season?—Mrs. Jack Shine, Lima, Ohio
• I usually wear out two gloves during a season. But I always have several gloves around that are in various stages of being broken in.

Special Travel Report

1975
A Big Bicentennial Year, Too!

Frankly, we've got no choice but to fall in with the trend. (In passing, we'd like to make it abundantly clear that the National Parks of the United States are not Bicentennial projects. Our 1975 travel calendar features a series of articles and stories about our national parks, but our principal concern is the preservation of the natural beauty of these areas.)

The main event of the bicentennial celebration is the 200th anniversary of the Battles of Lexington and Concord in Massachusetts. The "shot heard around the world" was fired on April 19, 1775.

This is the year to get in touch with the facts, the bounty, all the beauty, all the history America has to offer. So join a guided group on one of our exciting, pre-Bicentennial tours. It's easy to see why you'd like to go to America. Canada, every place? We'd like to care of everything to make your recreation special, more memorable than ever before.

She had five children and lost 63 pounds.

How Shirley Badders got fat having 3 babies, took it off, then slimmed down even more having twins.

By Ruth L. McCarthy

Shirley is quite a woman. You could even say she's a knockout. Poised. Attractive. Charming. Happy with her husband. Proud of her five children. Why, she's even got eight pounds thinner and about one inch taller than the last time I saw her. Perhaps because she's standing straighter these days. Whatever the reason, Shirley Badders has come a long way in the past three years.

At our first meeting, she had lost 10 pounds—so she had to tell her all the time how it got. You see, Shirley had come from a large family, so she had learned to cook enormous meals. When she married, in her teens, she had a dreadful time getting used to eating down on the amount of food she cooked. If it wasn't all eaten, she'd feel so ashamed about wasting good food that she'd stuff herself with it.

As a result, each time she became pregnant, she had to wear maternity clothes in her second month. By the time her third child was born, Shirley was carrying around 130 pounds—mostly from the waist down. Why it was almost impossible for her to find party dresses to fit. So she wore regular stockings with the fat bulging over the top.

Actually, it was a party joke about her "hippiness" that finally jolted Shirley into doing something about her weight. Luckily, the recommendation of a friend had once used these reducing pills called Aydin, and with great success. So Shirley picked up a box of the vanilla creamed kind at a deep discount and started on the plan. She took one or two Aydin each meal with a hot drink and really helped her lose, she said. They even helped free Shirley from the late-night sandwich trap, and she was able to slim from 130 to 123 pounds.

Although Shirley was eager about her marriage during that first meeting, there was trouble. Unfortunately, they didn't go away even after she'd slimmed down. So eventually Shirley and her husband separated.

During our recent meeting with Shirley, I learned that she had remarried. And happily so to Larry Badders. When I admired the way she'd kept her weight down, Shirley smiled and said that Larry had never seen her better, except when she was pregnant with their twin. And even then, she apparently had lost weight because Shirley told of a sight-seeing trip to New York when she was seven months "big," and she still was able to squeeze through this Man's Press.

Interestingly, Shirley weighed only 121 pounds the day she left the hospital (in Mexico, Indians) with the twins. And at this writing she is now a trim 117 pounds. "I no longer have to worry about weight," said Shirley. "Thanks to the Aydin plan, the weight is "gone now."

Your words may be an inspiration to all of us, Shirley. With five children and a figure as trim as yours, you've got it all going for you. Must be those Aydin!

Amazing Super-Growing Species Soars Into A Magnificent Tree IN JUST ONE YEAR!

And if you think that's starting — just wait till you see the spectacular show when this tree blooms. All you need is a few seeds from this tree to start growing this magnificent specimen. It becomes apparent to everyone from the sheer mass and weight of the magnificent limbs.

What a tree can mean — and how your family can profit — as the decade of the '70s approaches. The only tree as fast as this one! It grows from seed to a handsome young tree in just a few weeks. Then the branches extend and the trunk of this tree begins to grow. The branches grow too. The seeds can be sown in the spring of the first year, and you'll have a fine specimen with blossoms and blooms in just one year.

The tree grows in spreading form, bearing a light, feathery shade that makes it one of the most beautiful trees you can plant. Its width is three to five feet and its height is about twelve to fifteen feet.

The tree is easy to care for. Mulch and water it in the spring and it will grow all through the summer. For the fall, water it well and it will keep you busy with beautiful flowers that last throughout the fall. The tree will grow strong and healthy, and its branches will extend up to the sky. It will make a beautiful tree for any yard or garden. Its leaves are deep green and its flowers are fragrant. Its fruit is small and round and it produces profusely.

CARY GRANT AT 71
He has only one regret...

Cary Grant says: "I feel better today than I did 40 years ago when I was at the peak of my film career." He hasn't made a film in nine years, and yet mentioning his name still sends shivers up many a woman's spine. Looking fit and much younger than his 71 years, Grant is presently involved in a number of projects, among them, renovating his Beverly Hills farmhouse (which multimillionaire Howard Hughes used to rent when he wanted ultimate privacy and peace). He is not in retirement—in fact, he works at least 12 hours a day as a board director of both the Fabergé cosmetic company and Western Airlines. His only regret is that he can't return to his native England to live. There is someone dear to his heart in California and he won't leave her. Who is this fascinating woman? Her eight-year-old daughter Jennifer (from his marriage to Dyan Cannon, with whom he is still battling for custody rights). What about his marriage? With five marriages behind him, Cary says he is so hungry to take that step again. Sorry, girls.

Boxing, the "harmless" sport: A report just published in England provides fresh ammunition for those who want to see professional boxing banned. The study provided conclusive evidence that extensive cerebral damage can be incurred from repeated blows to the head. Dr. J. A. Nicholas Correlli, who headed the British Medical Association research team, concludes that the brutal heyday of boxing is behind us, but he warns that all risks have not yet been eliminated. "I will never allow my 14-year-old son to don boxing gloves," he says. "A single, or even many punches to the head, need not visibly alter the structure of the brain, but there is still the danger that at any moment and for any reason, one or more blows to the head will cause the destruction of irreplaceable cerebral tissue."

A woman's best defense against rape? "Rape may seem about as bad as anything that can happen to you, but it is not as bad as being born blind, being maimed or killed," says Frederic Storaska, author of "How to Say No to a Rapist—and Survive." Dr. Storaska hopes to shed new light on the rape problem by erasing the myths surrounding it and reducing the fear associated with it to a manageable level. He devotes all his time to lecturing at campuses across the country and recently made a movie with the Learning Corporation of America as part of its rape-prevention program. How can you avoid rape? Use a little psychology. Try talking to a would-be rapist as you would to anyone, but above all don't lose your composure. "Rape is often a humiliation of the woman in order to enhance the rapist's ego. It is not simply sexual aggression," Storaska concludes. He believes that the frequently suggested methods of self-defense (tear-gas pens, martial arts, screaming for help) are actually the most harmful because they tend to increase the assaulted's anger or perhaps even excite him further.

CAT NIPPED
Our cat is always leaving for
On chairs and sofas. We denour
And wish it picked the floor for Sleeping
Instead of always upward leaping.
Our cat claws chair legs, also

As well as tablecloths and napery.
Our cat wants in and then wants out,
It's underfoot when it's about.
Thus what I really do not know
Is how it makes us love it so.
