Bill Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congressmen considered the major military communications center in South Vietnam early this month from the heart of Saigon as the senior officer of the post was preparing to leave. The center, which serves as a key communications link for military and governmental officials in the area, was under constant threat and was a target for North Vietnamese troops. The senior officer, Col. John Rice, was preparing to leave the center for the United States and he was accompanied by a large number of troops and civilians.

The center was established in 1966 and has been in operation ever since. It serves as a major hub for communications in South Vietnam and is considered to be one of the most important centers for military communications in the region. The center has been under constant threat from North Vietnamese troops and has been the target of numerous attacks over the years.

Delay Considered For Library Vote

By CONRAD PORSE

At the regular meeting last night, the Board of Supervisors expressed concern over the postponement of the library bond election. \n
The Supervisors, led by Board Chairman George Johnson, discussed the implications of delaying the vote. Johnson emphasized the importance of the library's role in the community and the need for immediate funding.

"We understand the concerns, but the decision was made to ensure we have the best possible chance of passing the bond," said Johnson. "We want to make sure the funds are directed to where they will have the greatest impact on the community." \n
The board also considered the impact of delaying the vote on the current budget and the potential for saving money by implementing changes now. \n
Supervisor Mary Smith expressed support for the decision, saying, "We need to make sure we're doing what's best for the community." \n
The board agreed to consider the issue further at their next meeting in June.

School Millage Resolution OK'd

The school millage proposal for a 5-mill tax increase was approved by the Board of Education at their meeting last night. \n
The resolution, which was supported by all members of the Board, will generate an estimated $300,000 in additional revenue for the district. \n
"This is a critical step in ensuring our students have the resources they need to succeed," said Superintendent Dr. Brown. "We are grateful to the community for their support." \n
The resolution will now be submitted to the Oklahoma Tax Commission for approval.
