American Businessman Flees Malagasy Jail

The San Francisco-registered Yacht "Nasbok" was seized in the port of Le Havre, France, and the 42-year-old captain was arrested for allegedly smuggling drugs into the country.

"Nasbok" was en route from Le Havre to San Francisco when French authorities noticed unusual activity aboard the vessel. A search of the boat revealed a large quantity of drugs, which were subsequently seized by French customs officials.

The captain, identified as 42-year-old John Smith, has been charged with smuggling drugs and is facing extradition proceedings to the United States.

South Vietnam Abandons City

A group of South Vietnamese refugees is occupying a part of the city of Da Nang, reportedly due to tensions with the local government.

The refugees are demanding better living conditions and are blocking access to key facilities, including hospitals and schools.

Major Setback for Deox

The South Vietnamese government's recent efforts to establish a peaceful settlement with the Viet Cong have been met with resistance from the opposition forces.

The Viet Cong, led by the National Liberation Front (NLF), continue to launch attacks against government forces, despite the recent peace talks.

Israel Aides for 'Wiz' Snares Seven Tons

A group of Israeli security officials is assisting US authorities in tracking down a large shipment of drugs reportedly destined for New York.

The operation, code-named "Wiz," involved a joint effort by Israeli and US law enforcement agencies to intercept the drugs before they reached their intended destination.

6 Argentine Rebels Slain

At least six Argentine revolutionaries were killed in a clash with government forces in the southwestern province of Santa Cruz.

The conflict has been ongoing for several weeks, with both sides claiming significant losses.

Retailer Charges Oil Firms
Undercut Own Gas Stations

A retailer for the Houghton Petroleum Corporation, which owns 27 gas stations in California, said yesterday that his company is being undercut on gasoline by oil companies.

"For years, we have sold our own branded gasoline at our stations," said the retailer. "But recently, we have noticed that the major oil companies are offering our customers a cheaper price on their own brand of gasoline. This is unfair." The retailer added that he has filed a complaint with the state's attorney general's office.

Noble Threatened
By Poisonous Gas

A Noble threatens to sue the state of Texas for the use of a poisoning gas in the state's oil fields.

"We are a small company," said a Noble. "But we have been operating in the oil fields for over 50 years. The state of Texas has no right to use a poisonous gas against us. We are going to sue for damages." The Noble added that he has consulted with a lawyer who specializes in environmental law.

Nixon

Nixon is a well-known political figure. He served as the 37th President of the United States from 1969 to 1974.

"I am proud to have served my country," said Nixon. "I was always willing to do what was right, even if it was difficult." The ex-President added that he has written several books about his time in office.

Vietnam

The Vietnam War was a conflict between the communist North Vietnam and the non-communist South Vietnam.

"The war was a tragedy," said a veteran of the Vietnam War. "I was drafted into the army and served for three years. It was a difficult time, but I feel proud to have served my country." The veteran added that he has since become a pacifist.

Cyclist Dies In Collision

A cyclist was killed yesterday when he was hit by a car while riding his bicycle.

South Korea No Domino

The Asian nation has no defense, but it is defendable. The recent welcoming of President Johnson to South Korea was a significant event in the region. The visit was seen as a sign of solidarity between the United States and South Korea, highlighting the importance of the alliance.

The visit also had implications for regional stability, with some analysts predicting that it could help to prevent a potential domino effect in the region. The establishment of a strong, stable partnership between the United States and South Korea is crucial for maintaining peace and security in the area.
