Only Interstate Roads Eligible Under Proposal

Ford Plans To Cut U.S. Primary Road Funds

WASHINGTON—The Ford administration is drafting a plan to cut federal funds for construction of secondary and primary highways—some of the most important segments of the road system—under a proposal that is being considered by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The proposal would eliminate funding for secondary and primary highways, which are considered to be essential for national defense and economic development.

The plan is expected to be announced in the near future, and it is likely to face strong opposition from states and local governments that rely on federal funds to build and maintain their road networks.

The proposal was first mentioned by White House officials during a meeting with Senate leaders last week.

The Senate has already passed a bill that would authorize $50 billion in federal aid for highway construction over the next 10 years. The House has yet to act on the legislation, but it is expected to pass a similar bill.

If the Ford administration's proposal is adopted, it could have a significant impact on the nation's transportation infrastructure, as secondary and primary highways are often the backbone of local economies.

The proposal has been met with opposition from some members of Congress, who argue that it would be a significant step backward for the nation's transportation system.

However, the White House says the proposal is necessary to address the fiscal challenges facing the federal government.

The proposal is expected to be discussed in more detail during a meeting with Senate leaders later this week.

Chilean Military Uses Oppressive Police State Tactics

By Jack Anderson, who last wrote for The Washington Post in 1979, in this 1981 article, Jack Anderson discusses the rise of the Chilean military under General Augusto Pinochet. He describes how the military has established a police state in Chile, implementing various oppressive tactics to maintain control. Anderson highlights the suppression of dissent and the use of violence against political opponents.

Retreading Tires Saves Consumer's Money, Nation's Oil

In this article, the author explores the benefits of reusing tires. The article argue that retreading tires can save consumers money and protect the nation's oil resources. It details the process of retreading tires and provides examples of how it can be economically and environmentally beneficial.

Recitals Planned By 6 Musicians

Tune in to the Television program "The Classical Hour," which will be broadcast over WMCA-TV (Channel 11) on April 21, 1973, for a series of live performances by six distinguished musicians. The program, which is sponsored by the American Broadcasting Company and the National Educational Television Network, will feature performances by the following artists:

1. Violinist Itzhak Perlman
2. Pianist Van Cliburn
3. Cellist Yo-Yo Ma
4. Saxophonist Jan Garbarek
5. Trumpeter Miles Davis
6. Pianist Murray Perahia

These performances will be broadcast live from various locations across the United States and will provide an opportunity for audience members to experience the beauty and diversity of classical music. The program is expected to be widely watched by music enthusiasts and is an excellent opportunity to appreciate the talents of these internationally renowned musicians.
