Thank you. It's always nice to hear that.

The real measure of success for me is being in a heart that is being in the best place for me at this point in my life.

For Celeste Holm

I haven't seen it, but I'm sure it's great.

For Eileen Fulton

Why did you choose to make the move to television? —J.S. Parker, New York, N.Y.

25 years ago a great recipe for salad dressing got the Wish-Bone name. Times haven't changed.

Back in 1950, America's favorite salad dressing, Wish-Bone Italian, began as a restaurant dressing. It was made from an old family recipe that called for herbs and spices to be skillfully blended with oil and vinegar.

Today that same knowledge and care is used to make all the Wish-Bone dressings. That's why we're so proud of every one.

Wish-Bone Salad dressing is the only thing we put our name on.

A '60s Postscript:
The Poignant Story of Jan and Dean

Jan and Dean epitomized the West Coast surfer sound. Their records gave you the feeling of life without a care in the world. That was until the day when Jan Berry's apartment was suddenly the end of the world...

By Randall G. Hill

Jan and Dean were the first to break through the wall of the Mamas and the Papas and other groups that dominated the early '60s. Their music was a blend of surf, rock and roll, and a touch of doo-wop. But their rise to fame was anything but easy.

Jan Berry, the lead singer, was a gifted musician and songwriter. His writing was a perfect blend of the Brill Building sound and the California surfing lifestyle.

Dean Torrence, the lead guitarist, was a natural talent. His playing was clean and crisp, and he had a unique style that set them apart from other groups.

Despite their success, the two were constantly battling each other. Jan was always looking for the next big thing, while Dean was content with the way things were.

The album "Second Wind" was a big hit, but it was the song "Dead Man's Curve" that really put them on the map. The song was about the dangers of driving too fast, and it became a hit single.

But their success was short-lived. The drug culture of the '60s had a devastating effect on them. Jan Berry was arrested for heroin possession, and Dean was arrested for marijuana possession. Their families were shocked and their careers were put on hold.

But they didn't give up. They continued to tour, and their music continued to resonate with a generation that was just starting to come of age.

Then, in 1969, Jan Berry was arrested for murder. He was accused of throwing a bottle off a bridge, killing a woman below. The trial was a media sensation, and Jan was found guilty of murder.

The case was ruled a wrongful conviction, and Jan was eventually released. But the damage was done. The band was never the same again.

Jan Berry continued to tour, but Dean Torrence left the band. Their music was no longer on the charts, and they were left with the aftereffects of the drug culture of the '60s.

But they didn't give up. They continued to tour, and their music continued to resonate with a generation that was just starting to come of age.

Now, in 1973, Jan Berry is back on the road. He's playing to sold-out crowds, and his music is still resonating with a generation that was just starting to come of age.

I lost half of myself without taking diet pills.

By Donna Walker — as told to Ruth L. McCarthy

When I was 46 inches around, and 260 pounds, I had a problem. I looked, and I felt, and I was, 260 pounds. I was the largest human they served. And that's the only word for it: humungous, even in a city of 1.5 million, I was humungous. I was in constant pain, and I was in constant stress. I was in constant anxiety, and I was in constant fear. I was in constant despair, and I was in constant shame. I was in constant regret, and I was in constant guilt. I was in constant self-hate, and I was in constant self-loathing.

I decided to make a change. I decided to lose weight. I decided to become healthy. I decided to become happy. I decided to become confident. I decided to become strong. I decided to become powerful. I decided to become beautiful. I decided to become whole. I decided to become me.

I started with a diet. I started with a plan. I started with a lifestyle. I started with a mindset. I started with a core belief. I started with a purpose. I started with a passion. I started with a mission.

I started with a commitment. I started with a dedication. I started with a focus. I started with a drive. I started with a will. I started with a determination. I started with a motivation. I started with a determination. I started with a motivation.

I started with a journey. I started with a path. I started with a road. I started with a trail. I started with a path. I started with a road. I started with a trail. I started with a path. I started with a road. I started with a trail.

I started with a destination. I started with a goal. I started with an outcome. I started with an achievement. I started with an accomplishment. I started with an achievement. I started with an accomplishment. I started with an achievement. I started with an accomplishment.

I started with a love. I started with a care. I started with a compassion. I started with a empathy. I started with a kindness. I started with a love. I started with a care. I started with a compassion. I started with a empathy. I started with a kindness.

Painful elimination is unnatural.

Many people have experienced the pain of dry, hard stools. And many have come to accept this, as if it were a natural part of elimination. But there's nothing natural about it. The truth is, no matter what your age, you should have comfortable elimination. And Serutan makes this possible.

Serutan is the effective laxative that forms a smooth gel in the lower digestive tract, where it combines with intestinal waste to give you comfortable relief. There's no strain, and no cramps. That's because Serutan, with its unique ingredients, adds the necessary moisture and bulk to work with your system for smooth, easy results.

If you suffer from painful elimination due to constipation or dry, hard stools, try Serutan. You'll be very comfortable with it.

Where there's smoke there's controversy.

The papers are filled with stories against smoking. But many people are continuing to smoke. They like it. Yet it's obvious that there are smokers who have become concerned about what they've been hearing about 'tar' and nicotine. And so—many of them are trying lower 'tar' and nicotine cigarettes.

If you're a smoker who's become concerned, you (and millions like you) have been facing a dilemma.

Until Vantage, cigarettes that had lots of flavor had lots of 'tar' and nicotine. And cigarettes that were way down in 'tar' and nicotine were way down in taste. Most smokers found that most low 'tar' cigarettes just didn't make it. But then we started making Vantage.

Vantage is not the lowest 'tar' and nicotine cigarette you'll find, but it could well be the lowest you'll enjoy. Exactly the right blend of tobacco working in harmony with the ingenious Vantage filter is what made it possible.

And that's why Vantage has become the fastest growing major cigarette brand in America.

There's no controversy about that.

California Rep. Conrad Chinn and his pal Senator Richard Riordan have an idea that could mean the end of the war in the Middle East.

They're calling for a "two-state solution," where Israel and Palestine would coexist peacefully, with security borders and a common capital in Jerusalem.

If implemented, this plan could bring lasting peace to the volatile region, ending years of conflict and bloodshed.
