The Senate voted yesterday to reduce by $4,000,000 the total amount of money owed by the state on bonds issued to build the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. The vote was 19-20, with Senators Matthews and Hatfield voting against the measure.

The proposed cut in bond repayments is expected to result in a savings of $2,000,000 annually. The money will go toward paying off other state debts, including those incurred during the Great Depression. The reduction will also help ease the financial burden on college students.

New 'Consumer Protection' Plan Implemented By Zenith Dealer
Valuable Service for Hearing Aid Users

The American Federation of Labor (AFL) has announced a new 'consumer protection' plan that will provide valuable service for hearing aid users. The plan, announced by Zenith, the world's largest manufacturer of hearing aids, will provide a warranty of two years on all hearing aids purchased.

The warranty will cover any defects in materials or workmanship, and will be in effect for two years from the date of purchase. The warranty is transferable to any owner of the hearing aid, and is non-transferable if the hearing aid is returned to the manufacturer for repair.

Business Review

The publicity during this week on the new federal and state consumer protection laws has been heavy. The consumer protection laws were adopted in an effort to help consumers protect themselves from the many unfair practices that are prevalent in today's marketplace.

People are often led to believe that they are purchasing quality products when, in fact, they are not. For example, a consumer may buy a product that is advertised as being made in the USA, but it may actually be made in China. The consumer protection laws are designed to help consumers avoid these types of unfair practices.

Other consumer protection laws that have been adopted include those that protect consumers from being charged unreasonable prices, those that protect consumers from being deceived by false advertising, and those that protect consumers from being charged unreasonable fees for services that are not provided.

These laws have the potential to make a significant impact on the way consumers purchase products. By making consumers aware of their rights, and by providing them with a means of protecting themselves, these laws can help to ensure that consumers are treated fairly in the marketplace.

Development Costs Eyed

By TERRY MAXIM

City Manager Howard Rice has prepared a report for the city council, calling for studies on the feasibility of building a new city hall. The report, which was prepared by the city's consulting engineers, was presented to the council last week.

The report recommends that the city consider building a new city hall on the site of the old city hall, which was torn down last year. The new city hall would be constructed on a 10-acre site located at 12th and Main streets.

The report estimates that the cost of building the new city hall would be approximately $5 million. The city would need to raise this amount through bond issuance or other means.

The report also recommends that the city consider selling the old city hall site to a developer for use as a commercial or residential development. This would provide the city with additional revenue to help offset the cost of building the new city hall.

The city council is expected to discuss the report at its next meeting on Monday, May 10th.
