Magic Gone From High School Proms

By NANCY GILSON
The Journal Staff

High school proms, once the most exciting moments downtown during the school year, are now just another night out on the town.

In the past, proms were the highlight of the semester, with elaborate decorations and beautiful gowns. However, today's proms are more casual and less memorable, with the emphasis on partying rather than romance.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The last U.S. soldiers were evacuated from Afghanistan on Saturday, May 12, 1979.

The Afghan government had offered a reward of $1 million for the capture of Afghan President Haji Najibullah.

The previous night, an Afghan helicopter gunship had gunned down a Soviet forces helicopter, killing a Soviet pilot.

Other Afghan officials confirmed the reports, and they said that the helicopter was destroyed in an explosion.

There was no official report of any Soviet or U.S. military personnel killed in the attack.

At this time, the Afghan government announced that it had captured two Soviet armored vehicles and three tankers.

In the speech, he said: "Our president is the most important person in our country. He is the one who leads our country and makes decisions for our country."

A German official said that the president should be "free from interferences, covering-up or other outside influence during the meeting with the German Foreign Minister."
Meet a Slow Loris by Milidge Page

Q. Why do they call it slow? A. "Because they're slow!" Or, "Because I am the slowest, but not at a time."

Q. What are your sleeping habits? A. I sleep during the day, waking up in the fall and hang up by all four feet in a tree limb.

Q. What do you eat? A. "My diet includes fruits, bird eggs, insects and insects!"

Q. Where do you live? A. "I live on a tree. You can find some of us in zoos, but still, I am a never wear of Asia."

- 3 bacon strips

Fruit loops were popular in the 50s.

Cool and cold! That's what many kids think of the 50s! Nostalgia is a longing to return to earlier times. As a part of the nostalgia kids, kids are dressing in the clothes and listening to the music and watching TV shows that were popular 20 years ago. These were the "good" years when Mom and Dad were young. These were the days of rock and roll, leather jackets, long skirts, short shorts, floppy pants and hot red cars. TV shows like "Happy Days" help create an interest in the 50s. Old TV shows are returning. "Leave It to Beaver," a 50s hit, is better shown on many stations. The "Mickey Mouse Club" is back, too. Many old fans that watched the show when they were young are now watching it with their kids.
