Fire Erupts In Billings

By NANCY GIBBS

The Journal Staff

Billings, a town in Montana, was a scene of pandemonium Sunday when a fire swept through the city, destroying many homes and businesses.

The fire started in a warehouse and quickly spread to several nearby buildings. The town's volunteer fire department was able to control the blaze, but not before it caused extensive damage.

Several residents were displaced by the fire, and one person was injured. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

It makes good sense for your family to own cemetery property before it is needed...

Concerted families today are wisely including the purchase of family cemetery property in their plans for complete family security. This is the first step toward what happens to a family who neglects to provide in advance for a place of memory. They will want space for their family's final resting place, and they will want a place where family members will assemble for a memorial service.

This is a Purchasing Every Family Must Make

Perhaps you feel you're too young to think about a memorial plot now. Most people do; it is only human to think "there's plenty of time for that." But consider the advantages of buying in advance of need. You and your family can discuss your preferences sensibly, unemotionally — together. You pay less than you inevitably will later on, and can budget your funds. Premature care is included in the price of every plot. You enjoy a most serene, beautiful, and conveniently located, Arlington Memory Gardens. Which will eliminate needless risks to your family's security and your own peace of mind.

Malpractice Crisis Is Everybody's Problem

One year ago, in May 1963, a New York Supreme Court awarded $100,000 to a woman who had suffered brain damage because of negligence on the part of New York State. The amount of $100,000 was awarded to the woman. The hospital had been forced to admit to the negligence and agreed to pay the amount. The court ruled that the negligence was due to the failure of the hospital to provide the necessary medical care.
