By STEVE HOFFMAN

The Journal Staff

A violent storm rumbled through the southeastern part of the city on Thursday afternoon, causing widespread damage and power outages to many residents. The storm, which included high winds, heavy rain, and lightning, lasted for approximately two hours, leaving thousands without power. The Oklahoma City Electric Company reported that over 10,000 customers were affected by the storm.

The National Weather Service confirmed that a tornado touched down in the southeast area, causing significant damage to homes and businesses. Emergency responders were on the scene throughout the afternoon, assessing the damage and assisting those in need.

Welfare Rules Hit

In an effort to address budgetary constraints, the state government has implemented new welfare rules that will affect thousands of recipients. The changes include stricter eligibility requirements and reduced benefits for those receiving assistance.

The new regulations, which went into effect on January 1, have been met with mixed reactions. While some applaud the measures as necessary to address the budget shortfall, others argue that they will disproportionately affect low-income families.

WILLIS SAYS 2 REPORTERS INVESTIGATED

On Tuesday, State Senator John Willis accused two of his staff members of misconduct, prompting an investigation into their activities. The senator's office has not released details about the nature of the allegations.

FORD VETOES JOBS MEASURE

Governor Mike Garcia has vetoed a legislative measure aimed at creating jobs and stimulating economic growth in the state. The veto has drawn criticism from some lawmakers who argue that it will hinder the state's economic recovery.

Two patients at St. Anthony Hospital were rushed to the emergency coronary unit on Thursday after suffering chest pain and shortness of breath. The hospital's cardiac catheterization lab was unable to perform emergent procedures, and the patients were transferred to a nearby medical center.

Nations Decide To Hike Growth
THEY GAVE THEIR LIVES THAT WE MAY ENJOY FREEDOM!

We must never take our freedom for granted. It hasn't come cheaply by any means. Thousands of brave men and women have so cherished their belief in freedom that they willingly risked and many gave their lives to help preserve a free world. As we pay Respectful Tribute to all who have served our country, both the living and the dead, let us consider the sacrifices made by all lest we forget the true meaning of the day.

LET US ALSO REMEMBER
THE LIVING? — THE DEAD?

Today, Memorial Day, Americans will honor those who have died in the service of their country. But what about the 83 prisoners of War and the over 1,200 men as yet unaccounted for — 30 of whom are Oklahomans? Are we to forget these men exist? Today let us pledge ourselves to help the families of these men in their efforts to seek an accounting for all these—our fellow Americans.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP

Write your Congressman urging him to do all in his power to seek further information on all 83 men listed as Prisoners of War and the over 1,200 men still unaccounted for as of this date.

Americans acclaimed our President's recent decision to use limited power in reclaiming the Mayaguez and the rescuing of its crew. Imagine the praise and the emotion that would be expressed by all Americans were the president to make a renewed and vigorous effort to seek a final accounting from Hanoi for all our men yet unaccounted for in Southeast Asia.

Jennifer Dixon's Astrological Forecast

May 20, 1975

By Jennifer Dixon

Retrograde Mercury in Taurus signifies a period of moderate success, especially in matters related to work and finances. The week is favorable for setting goals and planning for the future. However, keep in mind that this period may not be suitable for major changes, as Mercury is in a retrograde position.

Venus, the planet of love, transits Taurus on May 20th, bringing a renewed focus on personal relationships. This is a good time to express your feelings and to make plans for the future. Mercury, the planet of communication, transits Taurus on May 22nd, improving the clarity of your thoughts and enhancing your ability to express yourself clearly.

The full moon in Scorpio on May 22nd brings a period of emotional intensity, and may trigger feelings of anger or jealousy. This is a time to reflect on your relationships and to consider how you can improve them.

The new moon in Gemini on May 25th brings a period of new beginnings and fresh starts. This is a good time to set new goals and to make plans for the future. However, keep in mind that this period may be challenging, as the new moon is in a difficult aspect with Mars, the planet of action.
