Texan Faces Murder Count

A Texan is facing murder charges after a fatal shooting in Oklahoma. According to reports, the accused has been arrested and is currently awaiting trial. The case has sparked public interest and has been closely followed by law enforcement agencies. The trial is scheduled to begin next month, and the accused will face a life sentence if convicted.

VA Education Checks Late

The Veterans Affairs (VA) Education Office has been criticized for delaying checks for veterans who are entitled to education benefits. Many veterans have reported receiving their checks months after they were due, causing financial strain. The VA has acknowledged the issue and is working to improve its processing times.

New Era Forecast By Udall

Rep. John B. Udall, D-NM, has forecast a new era in the provision of health care. He has called for increased federal funding to support the expansion of Medicare and Medicaid, and has also proposed new legislation to reduce prescription drug costs. Udall's proposals have been well-received by many in the healthcare community.

Off-Duty Officer Subdues 2 Men

An off-duty police officer has been hailed as a hero after subduing two men who were thought to be armed with a knife. The officer, who has not been named, was off-duty when the incident occurred. He quickly acted to prevent what could have been a violent situation.

Rites Set For Postal Employee

A postal employee who recently passed away will be laid to rest with full military honors. The employee, who was a 28-year veteran of the service, will be remembered for his dedication and service. The funeral will take place next week, and many are expected to attend.

Garden Dedicated

A new garden dedicated to the memory of a beloved community member has been unveiled. The garden, which features a variety of plants and flowers, was created by the community in honor of the member who died last year.

One Killed In Collision

A tragic accident has claimed the life of a 14-year-old boy. The boy was hit by a vehicle while walking on the street. Authorities are investigating the incident, and the driver of the vehicle has been arrested.

Talk Show Guests Lined Up

Two prominent political figures have been booked as guests on a popular talk show. The figures are expected to discuss a range of topics, including the current political climate and the upcoming election.

FDA Keeps Quiet On IUD Hazard

The US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has been under fire for its handling of a controversial study on the risks of an IUD. The study, which has been widely criticized, has been held up for further review. The FDA has not commented on the study, raising questions about its transparency.

Boat Dying Of Cancer

A beloved fishing boat has been diagnosed with cancer and is expected to die soon. The boat, which has been a fixture in the community for many years, has left many feeling sad and sentimental.

Timmy Fund Started

A new fund has been established to support a local resident who is in need of medical care. The fund, named after the resident, is being spearheaded by a community group and is expected to raise significant funds.

25th Anniversary

It makes good sense for your family to own cemetery property before it is needed. Concerned families today are wisely including the purchase of family cemetery property in their plans for complete family security. There is no first hand what happens to a family who neglects to plan in advance for a place of rest. They want to spare their family this distress and financial worry by selecting a memorial site now, before it is needed.

The One Purchase Every Family Must Make

Perhaps you feel you're too young to think about a memorial site now. Most people do; it is only human to think "there is plenty of time for that." But consider the advantages of buying in advance of need. You and your family can discuss your preferences, sensibly, unemotionally — together. You pay less than you inevitably will later on, and can budget your payments. Permanent care is included in the price of every plot. You enjoy a good selection at beautiful, conveniently located, Arlington Memory Gardens. And you eliminate needless costs to your family's security and your own peace of mind.

Sheet Plant's
Perval Reopened

WASHINGTON (AP) - The D.C. Sheet Plant of the United States Postal Service opened Monday with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and refreshments for 150 invited guests.

The plant, which had been closed for a year, underwent extensive renovations and upgrades to improve its efficiency and capacity. The facility now features modern equipment and technology, as well as enhanced safety and health measures.

The opening was attended by postal officials, local government representatives, and community leaders. The event included speeches, tours of the plant, and the cutting of a ceremonial ribbon.

The Sheet Plant produces and ships mail throughout the Washington, D.C., area, including the District and surrounding states. The plant's reopening marks a significant milestone for the postal service and its efforts to provide high-quality service to customers.

the POSSIBLE DREAM
PARADE of HOMES

HOMEBUILDERS ASSOCIATION OF GREATER OKLAHOMA CITY, INC.

TODAY THRU JUNE 15th
Parade of Homes To Feature 47 Entries...

'Possible Dream' Comes to Reality

The Parade of Homes in this year's edition features 47 entries, including: Quigley-Magnesia, Inc., Landino, Inc., W.R. Moore, Inc., and Clark's Hometown Contractors. A variety of homes ranging from 1,200 to 4,000 square feet are showcased.

The Parade of Homes is a popular annual event in the area, where homeowners and visitors alike can experience the latest in home design and architecture. This year's Parade will feature a wide range of homes, from small cottages to spacious estates, each with its own unique style and features.

Some of the highlights of this year's Parade include:
- A contemporary-style home with a sleek, modern design
- A traditional-style home with a classic, timeless look
- A eco-friendly home with energy-efficient features
- A custom-built home with unique, personalized touches

The Parade of Homes is a great opportunity to see the latest in home design and architecture, and to get ideas for your own home renovation or new construction project. Whether you're a homeowner looking to update your current home, or a potential buyer in the market for a new property, the Parade of Homes has something for everyone.

Make sure to mark your calendars for this exciting event, and plan to spend an afternoon or two exploring the Parade of Homes. You won't be disappointed!
"Energy," in all forms, has been much in the news in recent months. Many Americans, accustomed to abundant energy resources at bargain prices, were evenly shocked to see fuel prices go sky high. For many, the specter of a possible power crisis loomed large. This situation was worsened by the following factors:

1. High Price of Oil
   - Oil prices led to increased costs for many industries and consumers.
   - Many consumers were forced to cut back on discretionary spending.

2. Power Outages
   - Frequent power outages highlighted the vulnerability of the electrical grid.
   - Concerns about the reliability of the power supply increased.

3. Climate Change
   - Increased focus on renewable energy sources to reduce carbon emissions.
   - Calls for more sustainable energy solutions.

Despite these challenges, innovative thinking and creativity in the energy sector have led to some effective solutions. One of these solutions is the All-Electric Home.

Benefits of All-Electric Homes:

- Cost Efficiency: All-electric homes can save money on energy bills due to the efficient operation of appliances and heating systems.
- Environmental Impact: These homes have a lower carbon footprint compared to traditional homes.
- Resilience: Electric systems can be more reliable and less prone to failures during power outages.

All-electric systems include:

- Heating and Cooling: Heat pumps and electric resistance heating.
- Hot Water: Tankless water heating systems.
- Appliances: Electric stoves, ovens, and washers.

Innovative Technology:

- Smart Grid Technology: Enables two-way communication between utilities and customers, improving grid management.
- Renewable Energy Integration: Integration of solar panels and wind turbines into the electrical grid.

Conclusion:

The all-electric home represents a significant shift towards a more sustainable and reliable energy future. As technology advances and energy prices continue to rise, the appeal of all-electric homes will only grow. It is crucial for policymakers and consumers alike to embrace these changes to ensure a secure and sustainable energy future.

Tax Reduction Act Puts Dream In Focus

However, there are some limitations to the tax credit. If the property is sold within the first two years of ownership, the full credit amount is lost. Also, the credit can only be applied to real estate taxes for the current year. Therefore, it would be advisable to sell the property after its value has appreciated. Furthermore, the tax credit cannot exceed the 10% of the purchase price of the property. The tax credit is available to individuals who own a home and claim a tax credit for the purchase of a home. The home must be the principal residence of the taxpayer for the entire year in which the credit is claimed.

To qualify for the tax credit, the home must be occupied as the principal residence of the taxpayer. The home must be occupied for at least one year and the taxpayer must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien. The home must be a single family house, townhouse, or condominium that is not rented to others for at least three months and is not a vacation home. The credit will be applied against the taxes owed by the taxpayer's income tax liability. If the tax credit is greater than the amount of taxes owed, the excess can be carried forward to future years.

The credit is available to taxpayers who purchase a home in the United States and occupy it as their principal residence. The credit is not available to taxpayers who purchase a home in a foreign country. The credit is available to all taxpayers, regardless of income level. The credit is available to taxpayers who purchase a home for themselves and their family members. The credit is not available to taxpayers who purchase a home for investment purposes. The credit is available to taxpayers who purchase a home for the purpose of living in it. The credit is not available to taxpayers who purchase a home for the purpose of renting it out.

Building Your Own Future....

'Buy Now' Sound Decision For Purchaser

New home buyers in Oklahoma City can build their own home by buying a new lot and having a home built on it. This can be an exciting and rewarding experience, but it is important to take into account all the factors that go into building a new home. One of the most important factors is the cost. Building a new home can be expensive, and it is important to budget carefully to ensure that you can afford it. It is also important to consider the location of the lot and the home. You want to make sure that the location is suitable for your needs and that the home is built to your specifications.

In addition to the cost and location, it is important to consider the builder. You want to ensure that the builder is reputable and will build a quality home. It is also important to consider the financing options available. You want to make sure that you can secure financing that will allow you to build the home of your dreams.

The process of building a new home can be exciting and rewarding, but it is important to take the time to plan carefully and to consider all the factors that go into the decision. With careful planning and research, you can build a home that meets your needs and that you will be proud of for years to come.

Rod Steiger Plays Fields

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - A one-man show has struck the U.S. entertainment industry with an outburst of activity, and now the actor who plays the title role in the film "Field of Dreams" is on the scene. Rod Steiger, the actor who won an Academy Award for his performance in "Shindler's List," has begun promoting the film with a series of appearances around the country.

Steiger, 82, is known for his intense, often controversial performances, and his role as a cow farmer who builds a baseball stadium on his farm has captured the imagination of audiences around the world. The film, which cost $20 million to make, has earned over $100 million at the box office, making it one of the most successful independent films in history.

The film, directed by Phil Alden Robinson, also stars Kevin Costner, who plays the role of a former Major League Baseball player who returns to his childhood farm to build a baseball diamond. The film explores themes of family, memory, and the power of imagination, and has become a cultural touchstone for many Americans.

Steiger's performance as the farm owner, which was filmed on location in Iowa, was praised by critics for its authenticity and emotional depth. The actor, who has been active in the film industry since the early 1960s, has won two Academy Awards and has received numerous other nominations.

In an interview with reporters, Steiger said that he was excited to see the film resonate with audiences, and that he hoped the film would inspire people to pursue their dreams, no matter how far-fetched they may seem.

"The film is about the power of imagination and the ability to create something out of nothing," Steiger said. "I hope that people will be inspired to take a chance on their dreams, no matter how unlikely they may seem."
Leslie Caron, 43, Seeking New Career

By DICK ELMER

HOLLYWOOD - These days is everyone's life when he or she has to face the fact that he or she can't make any more. It's a thousand years ago, but it is even more so if you happen to be a beautiful woman. It's not that Leslie Caron has been anorexic or has ever been too thin. It's just that in the past few years she has been in comparatively few movies, and those have been small parts. But Leslie Caron is an actress of international stature, and she has been a movie star for more than two decades. She is currently starring in the Broadway musical "Follies," and she is planning a new film, "The Loved One." But the future is uncertain, and Leslie Caron is using her energy to prepare for it.

Leslie Caron has been married twice before - to John Wayne and to Mel Ferrer - and she has two children by each marriage. She is now single, and she is looking forward to a new chapter in her life. "I'm looking forward to doing new things," she says. "I want to do something different." Leslie Caron is a woman of many talents, and she has always been a good actress. She is also a good dancer, and she has been a singer. She has been called "the world's most beautiful woman," and she has been called "the most beautiful actress in the world." But she is not satisfied with what she has accomplished, and she is not satisfied with what she has been. She wants to do more, and she wants to do better. She wants to be the best she can be, and she wants to do the best she can do. "I want to be the best," she says. "I want to be the best actress I can be." Leslie Caron is a woman of great promise, and she is a woman of great talent. She is a woman who is going to go places, and she is a woman who is going to do great things. She is a woman who is going to be remembered, and she is a woman who is going to be loved. Leslie Caron is a woman of great beauty, and she is a woman of great heart. Burt Lancaster Portrays Moses in Six-Part TV Series

By BILL KAUFMAN

With his ruggedly handsome features and piercing electric eyes, Burt Lancaster is the very image of Moses in a six-part television drama that CBS will telecast next summer. The miniseries titled "Moses: The Lawgiver" will be shot on location at Mount Nebo in Jordan, where the actual site of Moses' birth is believed to be.

Lancaster will portray Moses, the prophet who led the Israelites out of Egypt and into the Promised Land. The series will be produced by Robert E. M. Bass, who also produced "The Bible" series for CBS.

"Moses: The Lawgiver" will be directed by veteran television producer-director Richard S. Zanuck. The series will be telecast in June and July, with episodes airing Sundays at 8 p.m. EST.

Anthony Quayle portrays Aaron, the brother of Moses, in "Moses: The Lawgiver." Quayle, who has appeared in many films and television series, will play Aaron, the younger brother of Moses, who also played a key role in the early years of the Israelites.

The series will be produced by producer-director Robert E. M. Bass, who also produced "The Bible" series for CBS.

Archie's Moving to Monday Nights

By LAWRENCE LAURENT

Just about the only thing the young actor has done since winning an Academy Award for his role in "On the Waterfront" has been to star in the hit television series "The气味." But now, after winning an award for his performance in the film "The Man with the Golden Arm," he will be moving to Monday nights.

CBS has announced that in the fall, "The气味" will move from its current Sunday night slot to Monday nights. The show will air at 8 p.m. EST.

This is a bit of a departure from the usual schedule, but it's a departure that will be welcomed by many fans of the show.

The move will allow the series to compete against some of the biggest shows on television, including "The Andy Griffith Show," "The Dick Van Dyke Show," and "The Beverly Hillbillies.

"The气味" has been a ratings success, and CBS is hoping that the move will help it continue its success.

The series stars Burt Lancaster as the leadership of the Israelites, and Anthony Quayle as his brother, Aaron.

The storyline of the series centers around the life of Moses, from his birth in Egypt to his eventual leadership of the Israelites in the wilderness.

In the first episode, "The气味" will air, viewers will see Moses as a child, living in the palace of Pharaoh. He is the son of a high official in the palace, and he is being raised by his mother. But when he learns of the fate of his people, he decides to help them by leading them out of Egypt. He is aided by his older brother, Aaron, who is also a leader in the palace.

Moses leads the Israelites out of Egypt, and they begin their journey to the Promised Land. But the journey is not easy, and they face many challenges, including the challenge of leadership and the challenge of dealing with their enemies, the Egyptians.

The series is produced by Robert E. M. Bass, who also produced "The Bible" series for CBS. The series is directed by Richard S. Zanuck.

Masters & Johnson Discuss Book

By ALLEEN JACOBSON

NEW YORK - Virginia Johnson, the photographer and sex therapist, is in the habit of wearing a tuxedo and getting into bed with her patients in order to make them feel comfortable. "I find that undressed people are easier to talk to. We can get into the real business of sex and sensuality, but also of therapy as well," she says. "It's not about making love; it's about making sense of things.

Elvis Trying to Buy ‘Greatest Show’

Carole King left her second husband, Charles Larkey, for her first husband, Gerry Goffin — Elvis Presley is trying to buy the rights to ‘Greatest Showman’ from Billy Rose, Roger Sturtevant, and Herman and Roy Wilkins. Billy Rose is a music manager and was one of the producers of the movie. The offer is reportedly $2 million, and Elvis is said to be very interested in the project. He has already seen the movie and is reportedly planning to make a music video based on the story. Elvis is known for his love of music and has a passion for movies. He has previously produced and starred in several successful films, and this offer is likely to be of great interest to him. The deal is currently under negotiation, and it remains to be seen whether it will go through. Elvis is said to be very excited about the possibility of bringing this project to life.

If a Supertanker Exploded...

Some Frightening Facts About What Could Happen if One Little Spark Went Astray

By Denis Pitts

How many times have you read an article about the potential consequences of an oil spill? It's a common topic, but it's also one that's often overlooked. In this article, we'll take a closer look at the potential impact of a supertanker exploding, and what that could mean for society as a whole.

The oil industry is a major contributor to our economy, but it also poses a significant risk to our environment. A supertanker is a large oil tanker that can hold millions of gallons of oil. If one of these vessels were to explode, the consequences could be devastating.

The article starts by outlining the potential consequences of an oil spill, and then goes on to describe the potential impact of a supertanker explosion. It's a sobering read, and one that should give us all pause to consider the risks involved in this industry.

If you're interested in learning more about the potential impact of a supertanker explosion, this article is a good place to start. It's a well-written, informative piece that provides a lot of useful information.

The article then goes on to describe the potential consequences of an oil spill, and then goes on to describe the potential impact of a supertanker explosion. It's a sobering read, and one that should give us all pause to consider the risks involved in this industry.

Why Do People Collect Things?

"Collecting is an attempt to limit the world you deal with to objects you can arrange so that you make a world of change in yourself." You become the god of the universe.

Some people collect fabulous items of geographic or cultural significance. Others have children, or are the objects a person plans to pass down to a friend, a family member, or a significant other. Others collect a hobby or a craft, or even a thing that brings them joy. These objects can be anything from paintings to coins to stamps.

Collecting can be as much a part of a lifestyle as the objects it brings. For some, the thrill of finding something new and different is what drives their collection. For others, it's the satisfaction of knowing that they have something that is unique and special. The objects that are collected can range from everyday items to one-of-a-kind treasures. The reasons for collecting can be as varied as the objects themselves.

TV's Jean Stapleton: "Unlike 'Archie,' My Real Husband Cooks!"

Moving into our new house out West has changed my style of entertaining. Our new swimming pool is a joy. It forces us to sit down and relax, but it's also inspired some lovely Sunday afternoon poolside parties. We've even remodeled the garage into dining rooms for our guests.

I have a lovely housekeeper who cooks most of our meals when I'm working. When I cook, I like to prepare simple make-ahead dishes. We all like "My recipes come from everywhere. Even my makeup man, a gourmet cook, brings me wonderful ideas!"

My favorite cheese that can be covered in the oven on a moment's notice. "Unlike 'Archie,'" I say to husband, Bill, who and very well he's his specialty is Barbecued Chicken. It's favorite bite is chicken tenders, flavored with a hint of curry.

Bill (our family name is Fish) runs a plant nursery in Pennsylvania called the Teton Vale Playhouse, and he's as good at drawing, painting and designing stage sets as he is at performing in the kitchen. I should also add that in designing our house in Pennsylvania—on a lake surrounded by hills and mountains—my inspiration comes everywhere. Even my makeup man, a gourmet cook, brings me wonderful ideas! It's fun to study cookbooks and come up with new ideas.

JEAN'S LOBSTER QUNCH
1 cup prepared pie crust mix
8 canned clams, deveined
1 tablespoon finely minced white onion
1 tablespoon finely minced parsley
4 eggs, well-beaten
2 cups heavy cream or light cream
1 teaspoon salt
% teaspoon ground white pepper

1. Preheat oven to 375° F.
2. In a large bowl, mix together all ingredients except pie crust and reserved clams. Pour into a prepared 9-inch pie plate. Cover with foil and refrigerate 2 hours.
3. Remove from refrigerator and remove pie crust. Bake on a baking sheet for 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from oven.
4. Ladle mixture into pie crust and return to oven for 10 minutes, or until set.
5. Remove from oven and let cool. Serve warm or at room temperature.

BILL'S CHICKEN TETRAZZINI
1 Libby's creamed mushroom
1 Libby's butter
1 cup (8 oz.) cream cheese
1/2 cup chopped cooked chicken
2 cups cooked elbow macaroni
1/2 cup chopped pimiento
2 cups cooked zucchini

1. Preheat oven to 375° F.
2. In a large bowl, mix together all ingredients except cream cheese. Add cream cheese and mix well. Pour into a prepared 9-inch baking dish. Bake for 30 minutes, or until bubbly.
3. Let cool slightly before serving.

THERE'S NO COOKING.

And it's easy to do.

STRAWBERRY JAM RECIPE
4 cups crushed strawberries (about 1 qt.)
1/2 bottle Certo® fruit pectin

1. In a saucepan, combine all ingredients. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil for 5 minutes, or until the mixture thickens.
2. Remove from heat and let cool. Serve warm or at room temperature.

PUT IT UP IN MINUTES. EAT IT UP IN PENNIES.

KEEPING FOOD SAFE TO EAT

1. Defrost frozen products in the refrigerator, or if necessary, under cold water. If at room temperature, wash and rinse in cold water.

2. Do not store meat, poultry, and other foods in front of potatoes, onions, or other strong smelling food.

3. Clean work area to prevent odors.

4. Keep meat and poultry in separate storage areas to allow for refrigeration in the refrigerator for the best quality.

5. Keep all food prepared in good condition.

6. Pre-cut all food prepared in the refrigerator to keep it fresh.

People Quiz

What Your Reading Habits Reveal About You

By John E. Gibson

TRUE OR FALSE? Some people use reading not as a means of enjoyment or enlightenment, but simply as a narcotic. (See number 4)

- TRUE OR FALSE?
  1. If you don’t find reading a chore and a bore, the odds are that you’re well adjusted and have a minimum of personality hang-ups.
  2. Your reading habits provide a clue to your social and economic status.
  3. A good reading ability—the enjoyment of books, magazines, newspapers, and a quick comprehension—provides an index to your personality traits.
  4. Some people use reading not as a means of enjoyment or enlightenment, but simply as a narcotic. (See number 4)
  5. What we read has a marked influence on how we live.

ANSWERS

1. True. University studies indicate that the able reader is better adjusted, has lower emotional conflicts and has more successfully accepted his role in society. It’s also observed that the person who gets the most out of the printed page is also likely to get the most out of life. In both cases, the nature and comprehension of our mental faculties is a key factor.

2. True—according to a survey of American reading habits, which showed that the most common kind of reading done on a typical day is newspaper reading, and that those who read two or more newspapers tend to have a higher socioeconomic status than those who read only one, and that persons who read newspapers at work have a higher status than those who read newspapers at home. It was also found that higher status is associated with those who read periodicals and newspapers in the other, the sports section, and miscellaneous books or other newspapers.

3. True—as shown by a study of more than 100 men and women at the University of Illinois, in which each subject was given a standard readability test, followed by a personality test. Findings showed that the quiet, thoughtful, fearless, agreeable woman is the better reader. Using different variables in a basis of description, it is also the quiet, thoughtful, timid man who is the better reader among men.

4. True. Reading is a necessary element, a basic tool in living a good life. But instead of using it as such, some people use it as an escape. They don’t read because of interest in the given subject or for entertainment or for mental stimulation. On the contrary, they use reading as a means of avoiding their thoughts—as a drug to quiet their nerves, to escape boredom, to "read themselves to sleep," or to take their minds off their problems. Just as some people can’t stand being alone, some people can’t stand being without "something to read." But just what it is makes little difference to them. For they resent very little of it.

5. True. Studies of the effects of reading show that it is largely responsible for influencing the attitudes and outlook of people from all walks of life, "giving them a view of living more properly, or a way of occupying more time more usefully." In one study, college students were asked to tell how books or articles affected their attitudes, ideas or behavior. Only a minimal percentage reported an change as a result of their reading, but little or no influence on their personal lives.

The extent of the influence was affected by cash person's intelligence, vocabulary and comprehension. And it's observed that "To read without reflecting on the reading without digesting makes no sense."
WILDLIFE OF NORTH AMERICA

A collection of ten original sculptures portraying magnificent animals of the North American wilderness

Issued in strictly limited edition. Available by advance subscription only.
Subscription rolls close June 20, 1975.

WILDLIFE OF NORTH AMERICA is a unique collection of original pewter sculptures portraying the most beautiful and fascinating animals that roam the mountains, forests and shores of North America.

Each sculpture will capture in exceptional detail the beauty, strength and character of the animal portrayed. And each of these fine works of art will depict the animal just as it appears in nature, in repose. In pursuit. In a single moment in time.

The ten sculptures in this collection will be cast in solid pewter—each weighing almost a pound, each metal which enhances every fine detail of the artist's work.

These superb pewter figures will be produced in a strictly limited edition, and subscriptions for this edition are being accepted only at this time.

A collection of ten original sculptures portraying magnificent animals of the North American wilderness

The collection will be issued by The Franklin Mint, which is renowned throughout the world for the quality of its original collector's items.

WILDLIFE portraitals

The stately Mountain Lion will be the first sculpture in the collection. This powerful animal is shown—balanced on one foot—as it jumps with remarkable agility from a ledge above. Because of its strength and size, the Mountain Lion is greatly feared by other animals—yet it is still timid in the presence of man.

The second sculpture will be the White-tailed Deer—graceful, swift, with extremely keen senses. The deer runs and leaps over a fallen log, perhaps in pursuit of a young doe.

Next in the collection is the Grizzly Bear, formidable giant of the woodlands. The Grizzly can pull a ton weighing half a ton, or quite easily catch a small fish in its massive paw.

The sure-footed Mountain Goat confidently scales a ridge—no other animal would dare attempt. And stop a mountain peak, a magnificent fig-

The sculptor who is creating this collection is Ralph Berg. Born and raised in Montana, Berg has studied animals at first hand since early childhood. Indeed, he has devoted his entire life to learning about the animals of the North American wilderness. Now at his studio in Great Falls, Berg devotes his great talent to creating beautiful life-like sculptures of the animals he has come to know so well. Until now, the works of Ralph Berg have been owned exclusively by a limited group of individual collectors who have purchased his sculptures for their own private collections.

Each of the ten figurines in the WILDLIFE of North America collection will stand on its own sculptured base. The base will bear the title of the work and the distinctive signature mark of the sculptor. In addition, each figurine will carry the外套ed mintmark of The Franklin Mint.

A strictly limited edition

WILDLIFE of North America will be issued in only one edition. A strictly limited edition offered on an advance subscription basis exclusively. The total edition will be limited to the exact number of orders postmarked by the subscription deadline of June 20, 1975. Furthermore, there is a strict limit of one collection per person. When each subscription is received, the ten marble sculptures will be destroyed. The limited edition works will never be produced again.

Convenient acquisition plan

The sculptures will be completed and sent to subscribers at the rate of one every other month, beginning in July, 1975. The original issue price for each sculpture is $50, payable in two equal installments of $25 per month.

While limited edition sculptures of this quality are generally priced much higher when sold individually, there are only a few pieces of art by Ralph Berg at the original subscription price as they are offered only as a complete collection—and only by advance subscription.

Together, these ten original wildlife sculptures will form a collection that will be greatly admired by all who appreciate fine things. For they add a new dimension to the art of animal sculpture—an art that has captivated man's imagination since prehistoric times. This rare collection of unique pewter sculpture will be prized throughout the world, and will surely become a family heirloom to be given to each succeeding generation.

Subscription deadline: June 20, 1975

This is the only time that applications will be accepted for this important sculpture collection. To enter your subscription, please mail the Advance Subscription Application at right by June 20, 1975. Any applications which bear late postmark dates must, regretfully, be declined and returned.

"What in the World!"

Women are setting a new trend—a necessity! "In so many ways, women have changed," said Gladys, great-granddaughter of the founder of a large Wisconsin company. "Two men, for example, may now have a pernicious woman who is the same as a man. Generally speaking, the average husband leaves his home to become president of a professional association or financial institution. The wife usually has to get out, too, just to get away from the routine of daily life and to be a good mother." Gladys concluded after numerous interviews with women who had decided to do it alone. The results were impressive, even though it was not an easy change. The new women were more independent, more efficient, and more self-sufficient. They were more men and less women in every way. It was a revolution and a revolution it was. The women were not the only ones affected. (Cut the drop in advertising and subsequent rise in the divorce rate street).
