Please Amateur Chef

IF YOU'RE ONE of the many New Year's resolutions you have to get off your butt, here's a tip for you. Start off your New Year's resolution with a good book. The book should be about cooking, preferably one that teaches you how to prepare a variety of dishes. This way, you'll be able to keep track of your progress.

I'm thinking of starting a new hobby. I've always wanted to learn to play the guitar, but I never had the time. Now that I have more time, I'm thinking of taking a class. What do you think I should do?

A FAVORITE of every dad is his trusty old knife. If you really want to impress your dad, give him a brand new knife. He'll love it, and it will make him feel like a chef.

Every dad is a chef in his own way. Some dads are great at baking, while others are better at grilling. Whatever his specialty, he'll appreciate a new, sharp knife.

A day without a good meal is like a day without a smile. Make sure to give your dad a meal he'll remember. If he's a picky eater, give him a meal that's both tasty and healthy. If he's a grill master, give him a meal that's perfect on the grill.

If you're looking for a gift that's both practical and fun, consider giving your dad a new gadget. A good gadget is one that makes his life easier. For example, a new coffee maker or a smart speaker.

Tools Keep Fire Burning

HELPING DAD keep the homestead burning with plenty of wood for the winter and wood for the month of every Father's Day is the feeling of many Father's Day gifts. Everyone knows that a little firewood goes a long way toward relieving the strain on the farmer's budget.

Firewood is up half of all U.S. forests. Man's endeavor to cut firewood has been made more demanding by milling and intensive forest management. But many people are becoming aware of the need for firewood, and with the advent of increased wood availability, by cutting their own woodlot, they are saving money on fuel costs.
